EMBARGO FIGHT UP TO HOUSE

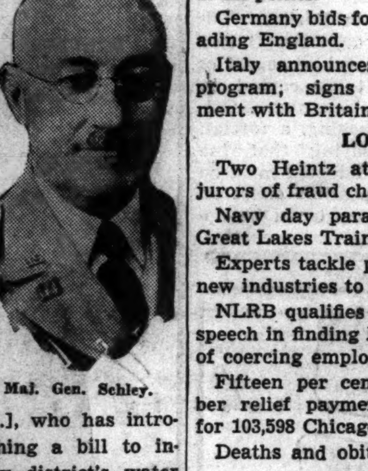
Army Upholds Illinois Fight for Lake Water

ENGINEERS FIND CHICAGO NEEDS MORE DIVERSION

Insist It's Required by Sanitary Canal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—United States army engineers have recommended that Chicago be allowed to draw into its sanitary canal more than three times as much water as is now being diverted from Lake Michigan.



Maj. Gen. Schley.

The recommendation was made in a letter written by Maj. Gen. Julian L. Schley, chief of the army engineers, to Representative Claude V. Parsons [D., Ill.], who has introduced and is pushing a bill to increase the sanitary district's water supply from the present 1,500 cubic feet per second to 5,000 cubic feet.

Helps Chicago's Fight.

Congressman Parsons said the letter gives impetus to the fight to better sanitary conditions along the Illinois waterway. There have been many complaints, especially from residents of Joliet, of the bad odors and possible danger to public health from raw sewage poured into the canal.

Formerly the sanitary district was permitted to withdraw 5,000 cubic feet or more per second in accordance with needs. The reduction to 1,500 cubic feet was made last Jan. 1 to comply with a decree of the United States Supreme court.

Maj. Gen. Schley wrote: "In an informal report prepared last June, relating to sanitary conditions in the Illinois waterway, in the vicinity of Joliet, the district engineer at Chicago and the division engineer, upper Mississippi valley division, St. Louis, stated that conditions in the Brandon road pool are unsightly, filthy, and noisome and much worse than they were last year.

Contaminated by Sewage.

"They pointed out that unquestionably the waterway is contaminated by sewage from the Chicago area to a greater extent than contemplated, and that remedial action is necessary until the southwest plant of the sanitary district of Chicago is in full operation. It was estimated that a temporary increase in diversion to 5,000 cubic feet per second was necessary during the summer months in the interest of public health."

The general said he was in entire sympathy with the report. Ten years ago two former chiefs of the army engineers, the late Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin and Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, had also recommended a 5,000 cubic foot diversion. But Gen. Schley declared that the army's hands were tied by the Supreme court decision, holding that no water could be withdrawn from the lake for health purposes. The court's view was that the only diversion rights were for navigation.

Parsons to Push Bill.

It was the general's belief that the sanitary district or the state of Illinois should ask the Supreme court for the increase. There is little likelihood the district will make the attempt, according to reports from Chicago, its attorneys being satisfied that no further health appeal would be given a hearing. The request, it is held, would best be made by the state on the ground that the waterway cannot be effective for transportation without greater diversion.

"The army engineers' report proves," said Representative Parsons, "that 5,000 cubic feet is necessary to make the Illinois river a safe, economical and sanitary waterway from Chicago to New Orleans. Congress at the next session should take action to provide for 5,000 cubic feet.

"In my opinion the attorney general of Illinois should apply to the Supreme court for temporary relief. In my belief the court will grant relief."

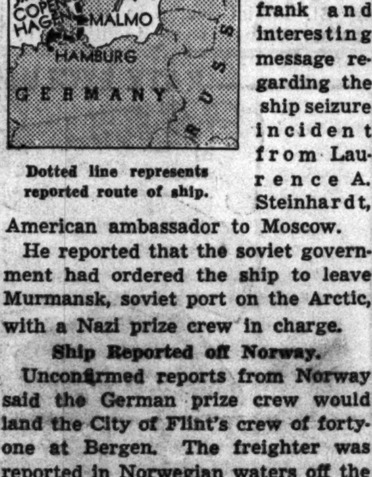
RUSSIA DEFENDS SURRENDER OF FLINT TO NAZIS

U.S. Ship Off Norway with Prize Crew.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—As the captured American freighter, City of Flint, was believed to be sailing toward the German port of Hamburg, the state department tonight made public a frank and interesting message regarding the ship seizure incident from Laurence A. Steinhardt, American ambassador to Moscow.



Dotted line represents reported route of ship.

He reported that the soviet government had ordered the ship to leave Murmansk, soviet port on the Arctic, with a Nazi prize crew in charge.

Ship Reported off Norway.

Unconfirmed reports from Norway said the German prize crew would land the City of Flint's crew of forty-one at Bergen. The freighter was reported in Norwegian waters off the country's northernmost shores.

The Nazis were expected to steer the freighter close to the Norwegian coast to the Skagerrak, then down between Copenhagen and Malmo to the Kiel canal and thence to Hamburg, where a Nazi prize court was expected to decide her fate.

Ambassador Steinhardt, in his report to the state department, described his efforts to get an accurate story about the City of Flint and an interview with Vladimir Potemkin, soviet assistant commissar of foreign affairs.

Text of Envoy's Message.

The text of the ambassador's message follows:

"I have just seen Assistant Commissar of Foreign Affairs Potemkin and have vigorously reiterated my indignation at the lack of coöperation by the soviet government in withholding information from me while issuing communiques with respect to the City of Flint thru the medium of the Tass agency. He replied that Tass was an official agency of the soviet government and that it was the custom of his government to make announcements thru it.

I told him that this was no excuse for his failure to keep me informed, particularly in view of my repeated requests for information on behalf of my government, which has been the purpose of my daily visits to him. After a lengthy discussion I formally demanded that the vessel and cargo be turned over to the American crew and be authorized to depart. He thereupon made the following statement:

Calls Machinery Damaged.

"'The City of Flint had come into the port of Murmansk in charge of a German prize crew without any previous knowledge on the part of the soviet government and thru no act on its part. The reason ascribed by the prize crew for the entry was damaged machinery, making the ship unseaworthy.

When the soviet authorities at Murmansk judged that the vessel was again fit to put to sea, and being desirous of preserving its neutrality, the soviet government had ordered the vessel to leave the port of Murmansk immediately under the same conditions as those of her entry, namely, with both the German and American crews on board and her cargo intact.'

Says Decision Was Final.

"He added that the order would be enforced immediately and that the soviet government felt that its decision was not only in accordance with the well-recognized principles of international law and consonant with the obligations of a neutral, but it was also the correct position to take as between the conflicting claims of the United States and Germany to possession of the vessel and her cargo and that by this he meant to send

Two Attorneys Win Acquittal in Heintz Case

Francis J. Kennedy and Edward A. Fisher, former assistant United States district attorneys, were found not guilty last night of a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Their acquittal was voted by a jury of nine women and three men before Judge James F. Fardy in the Criminal court.

The case against them was built on the story of Hubert Heintz, an admitted bandit. Heintz, the son of a Winnetka broker, alleged that Kennedy and Fisher, as his lawyers, advised him to bleach his hair to avoid detection as a robber.

Jury Out 1 Hour 15 Minutes.

The attorneys denied this, asserting that instead of being conspirators they were the victims of a conspiracy. The case was given to the jury shortly before 9 p. m. An hour and 15 minutes later the jurors returned their verdict. It was greeted quietly by Fisher and Kennedy and their friends who were in court.

The jury marched out in a body, refusing to issue a statement. Foreman Clemens Zyks, 3556 Avondale avenue, remarked only that "the verdict speaks for itself." It was learned later that two ballots were taken, the second unanimous for acquittal.

Morris G. Meyers, assistant state's attorney, who prosecuted the case, echoed the foreman's statement that the verdict spoke for itself. The defense lawyers, William Scott Stewart, James Burke, and Charles Bellows, said the jury had no alternative.

Face a Second Charge.

There still remains against Kennedy and Fisher a charge of accessory after the fact, based on the robbery case against Heintz. Following the acquittal, Prosecutor Meyers asked that the accessory charge be deferred to Nov. 1, when Heintz is to appear for sentencing on his plea of guilty to the robbery charge.

The case goes back to Nov. 4, 1938, when Heintz held up the Household Finance corporation office at 3150 Lincoln avenue. He was arrested later, but witnesses had difficulty in identifying him because he had dyed his hair.

Heintz, his wife, and his father testified that Fisher and Kennedy suggested the hair disguise. The attorneys denied this, saying that Heintz already had dyed his hair before they took his case.

'LADIES FROM HELL' WILL BE LADIES NO MORE; TO GET PANTS

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN FRANCE, Oct. 27 (AP).—Scottish troops were digging in today along a reserve line under the eyes of Lord Gort, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary force.

The Scottish units, which won fame in the world war, took pride in the name said to have been given them by the Germans, "The Ladies from Hell." But the "Ladies from Hell" will not be ladies much longer. Within the next two weeks they are to take off their kilts and stick their legs into the overalls of the army's new battle dress.

They don't like the idea much, altho they still will be allowed to wear their kilts for ceremonials.

Their trench, dug in 20 hours, was a marvel of neatness and efficiency. When Lord Gort jumped down to inspect it he couldn't find anything to ask except "what's the ruling on sandbag seams—in or out?"

"In, sir," a sergeant answered.

Just three out of 100 or more sandbags had the seams out.

TRAIN RAMBLES RIGHT BETWEEN BIG ENEMY GUNS

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 27 (AP).—The arrival of a French train which steamed right thru no-man's land caused great excitement in this border city for a while today. A guard at the deserted French side of the International station saw the train coming up from France and did a Paul Revere dash to the Swiss side to gasp out the news.

An amazed crowd gathered to watch the engine chug-chug calmly in with its long line of freight cars. The train had come from Mulhouse thru the no-man's land between the Maginot line and the big guns of the German forts, which are across the Rhine almost within slingshot distance of the tracks. The engineer was questioned by railroad officials.

"We had a lot of stuff consigned to Switzerland in the freight station at Mulhouse so I thought I might as well bring it along," he said.

India's Battle with England Grows Hotter

BOMBAY, India, Oct. 27 (AP).—The Madras provincial government tendered its resignation today in protest against the British white paper of Oct. 17, which in effect postponed consideration of dominion status for India until after the war.

Marquess of Linlithgow.

The marquess of Linlithgow, viceroy of India, said in the white paper that at the end of the war Britain would be "very willing to enter into consultation" looking toward the formation of a federal government for India. Much would depend, he said, on the circumstances in which the war came to an end.

Other Régimes to Follow.

The Madras régime was the first to act of eight provincial governments dominated by the congress [Nationalist] party, whose working committee recently called on all eight to quit in protest against the white paper policy.

Lord Erskine, governor of Madras, refused to accept the resignation until other arrangements for carrying on the government could be made.

Bombay Condemns Policy.

The Bombay government today announced it would resign on Oct. 31. The Bombay assembly approved, by a vote of 92 to 56, a resolution regretting the British government's failure to consult the Indian people before involving them in war.

Golf Is Supposed to Have Its Hazards, Judge Rules

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 27 (AP).—John Gasper sought $5,000 damages from Hans Glissman, golf course operator, for injuries suffered when Gasper stepped into a gopher hole just after making an approach shot. To Gasper's assertion that the course should have been kept reasonably free from such hazards Judge Charles Leslie ruled today that a golf course was a place where hazards were supposed to be. The suit was dismissed.

Embargo Gets 3 to 1 Backing from Midwest

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—A poll of the delegations from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin in the house of representatives shows an overwhelming conviction that the arms embargo should be retained in the neutrality law.

Sixty-two members were asked by THE TRIBUNE whether they favored repeal of the arms embargo. Thirty-nine answered "No," 14 "Yes," and 10 did not commit themselves. The house next week takes action on the arms embargo, which the senate voted tonight to kill.

Of the Illinois members interviewed, 10 announced they were opposed to repeal, while seven said they would vote for repeal. Of the 10 in favor of retaining the embargo, nine are Republicans and one is a Democrat. All seven of the repealists are Democrats, as are five who were not prepared at the moment to take a position one way or the other.

Wisconsin Members Solid.

The eight Wisconsin members interviewed, including six Republicans and two Progressives, lined up solidly for retention of the embargo. Representative Reid F. Murray [R.] was back in his district sounding out sentiment. The vacancy created by the death of Representative Harry W. Griswold [R.] last July has not yet been filled.

Of the 11 Indiana members interviewed, seven favor retention of the embargo, three are for repeal—all Democrats—and one Democrat did not wish to commit himself at this time.

Ten Michigan Republicans lined up for keeping the embargo, while one, Carl E. Mapes, who was among the Republican leaders called into conference by the President in the early stages, begged to be excused for the present. Four Michigan Democrats favored repeal and one was back home and could not be reached.

Three Iowa Republicans and one Democrat lined up for keeping the embargo, two Republicans and one Democrat were noncommittal, and two Republicans were not available.

How They Line Up.

The results of the poll, with the designation of each congressman's party and the number of his district in parentheses after his name, were as follows:

Those who said they favored repeal of the arms embargo were quite as emphatic on this point as those who favored retention of the embargo. Noncommittal members were no less emphatic.

SENATE VOTES NEUTRALITY ACT REPEAL, 63-30

Hit 'Cash and Carry' Clause as Farce.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—The momentous controversy over the Roosevelt administration's neutrality repealer was transferred to the house of representatives tonight when the senate passed the purported cash and carry scheme of selling munitions and other war supplies to belligerents. The vote on passage of the measure was 63 to 30.

The senate after a sharp but brief debate on the preamble of the bill recessed until Tuesday.

A more direct test of the senate neutrality sentiment was provided earlier by the vote on an amendment by Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] to incorporate in the purported cash and carry plan the existing embargo on shipments of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to nations engaged in war. This amendment was rejected by a vote of 60 to 33.

Defeat Nye Substitute.

Earlier an effort by Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] to substitute a bill containing an arms embargo, but otherwise similar to the repealer, was defeated, 67 to 22.

Next Tuesday the purported cash and carry bill will come up for consideration in the house of representatives, where the administration claims a small majority in favor of its passage.

It is conceded on both sides that the vote in the house will be extremely close. The rules committee will meet Monday to determine procedure for consideration of the measure in the house.

Object to Preamble "Whereas."

The senate passed the bill just before 9 p. m. after a tumultuous session that began at 11 o'clock this morning. The chamber immediately was plunged into an uproar when administration leaders submitted a preamble which was denounced by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] as a "stump speech, obviously made for political purposes."

The senate debate on the neutrality repealer, which began on Oct. 2, began all over again after the passage of the bill with the submission of the preamble. Under the rules a preamble cannot be adopted until the bill itself has been acted upon.

Senator Wheeler, Senator Clark, and other opposition leaders, contended that the preamble did not express the real purpose of the legislation. They objected especially to a "whereas" clause stating that the United States desired to maintain its neutrality in the European war, and for that reason was placing certain restrictions upon the rights of its nationals, but not surrendering them under international law.

Connally Insists on Talking.

Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the foreign relations committee, wanted to withdraw the preamble to terminate the senate uproar, but Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.] insisted upon denouncing the "stump speeches" by Senators Wheeler and Clark. Finally, Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], an opponent of the bill, offered a substitute preamble and it was about to come to a vote when Connally withdrew the administration preamble.

The Walsh preamble stated that the United States desires to avoid participation in the European war, serves notice to the world that it intends to keep out of all wars except wars for its own safety and defense, and to remain neutral.

The administration leaders obviously were unwilling to put themselves on record on the question of keeping out of the European war and hence withdrew their own preamble rather than face a vote on the substitute, Senator Walsh said.

Recesses in a Turmoil.

The senate then recessed in a turmoil until Tuesday.

Thruout the debate of more than three weeks, senate noninterventionists had contended that the arms embargo repealer would put the United States half way in the European war, on the side of Great Britain and France, and inevitably would take the country all the way in. They had denounced as a sham and a fraud the contention of the administration supporters that repeal of the arms embargo was necessary to enact the purported cash and carry plan of regulating commerce with belligerents.

Tonight Senator John A. Danaher

[R., Conn.] forced the managers of the bill to concede that it is not even a cash measure so far as trade with private persons and corporations of the belligerent countries is concerned.

Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], one of the authors of the measure, admitted that there is not a line in it requiring individuals and private corporations of belligerent countries to pay cash for purchase of materials other than munitions in the United States.

Senator Danaher offered an amendment forbidding the export to belligerent countries of any materials until they had been paid for in "lawful money of the United States." It was rejected by a vote of 60 to 30.

Altho belligerent nations, or their agents, can obtain no credit for purchases in the United States, whether of munitions or other materials, Senator Danaher explained that private corporations of the belligerent countries could obtain huge quantities of such war supplies as oil, cotton, copper, iron, and steel on credit. Whether or not they were acting for the belligerent governments, these supplies could be requisitioned by such governments, Senator Danaher contended.

"The country has been told that this is a cash bill," said Senator Danaher. "It is a spurious and specious hoax."

"We have no cash and carry provision in this bill," said Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.]. "It is a fraud, a delusion, and a snare."

Reject La Follette Referendum.

The senate this afternoon, after a prolonged controversy, rejected by a vote of 73 to 17 an amendment by Senator Robert M. La Follette [P., Wis.], providing for an advisory referendum on the question of sending American forces beyond the seas to participate in a foreign war.

Except in case of attack upon the United States or its possessions, actual or immediately threatened, or upon any country in the western hemisphere by a non-American power, a national advisory election would be held on the question of war or peace prior to any declaration of war by congress.

Administration leaders, including Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], Senator Pittman, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Connally ridiculed the La Follette amendment.

"The people trust us; why can't we trust ourselves," Connally shouted. "If we haven't got sense enough to represent the people on the question of going to war we haven't got sense enough to legislate on anything else."

Clark and Pittman Clash.

After Senator Pittman had concluded a discussion of what he called the absurdities of the La Follette plan, he remarked that all senators who had practiced law were familiar with the term "pettifogging."

"I may say that in all my life I have never heard more suggestions of a pettifogging nature in so short a time as I have heard this afternoon upon this amendment," Clark of Missouri declared.

Pittman demanded to know whether Clark referred to his remarks and Clark said he thought they might be classed in the pettifogging category.

Clark, however, offered to withdraw the statement but Pittman objected, saying he wanted to answer it.

"He [Clark] has the habit in his conceit and vanity and lack of ethics of engaging in such expressions," Pittman said.

Clark called Pittman to order under the rule forbidding personal remarks and Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], who was in the chair, ordered both senators to take their seats. On a motion by Senator La Follette both were permitted to proceed in order.

La Follette Argues for Plan.

Senator La Follette declared that the constitutional power of congress to declare war is in fact exercised by the President, who can conduct the foreign policy in such a way, even to the extent of inviting an attack or reprisals against the United States, as to leave congress no alternative but to declare war.

"The time is coming," he said, "when the people will have a voice on the vital question of whether we shall send expeditionary forces across the seas in an offensive war."

Recalling the declaration of war in 1917, a few months after the reelection of a President on a program of keeping us out of war, La Follette continued:

"Acknowledging my supreme confidence in the sincerity of every statement which has been made by senators in this debate to the effect that they would not vote for a declaration of war involving the sending of American troops in an expeditionary force overseas again, I want to express it as my fear that history will repeat itself.

Executive Decides on War.

"I can find no instance in our whole history when the congress has refused the executive the resolution declaring war when it has been asked for. The demand to stand behind the chief executive, the pressure of party loyalty, becomes almost insuperable in such a situation. Members of congress may justify their conduct in the future as they have in the past, but I do not think it can be said that they will be acting in a representative capacity."

Senator George W. Norris [Radical, Neb.], who voted against war in 1917, opposed the La Follette amendment, insisting that congress never would vote to declare war unless the overwhelming majority of the people demanded it.

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], expressed sympathy with the principle of the La Follette amendment, but said he was compelled to vote against it because it was impracticable.

Reject Armed Ship Amendment.

Earlier the senate had rejected, by a vote of 65 to 26, an amendment by Clark of Missouri to treat both the submarines and the armed merchant ships of belligerent nations as warships in American ports. That is, they could not remain for more than 24 hours.

Senator Clark reminded the senate that belligerents submarines have been barred from American territorial waters and that just before the outbreak of the European war the German liner Bremen was detained for about 40 hours during a search for guns on the other hand he saw since the war began British and French merchant ships have been permitted to enter and leave New York harbor at will, with 6-inch and 12-inch guns mounted fore and aft.

Senator Pittman argued that there was no danger to the peace of the United States in permitting armed merchanships to use our ports because American citizens cannot travel on them. Anyway, he said, the President has discretionary authority, under the pending bill, to put restrictions on their use of American ports.

Will Outlaw Commerce.

Majority Leader Barkley argued that the purported cash and carry bill will outlaw commerce with belligerents on American ships and that the Clark amendment would have the effect of outlawing commerce with belligerents on their own ships.

Fourteen Democrats, 16 Republicans, 1 Progressive, La Follette of Wisconsin, and 2 Farmer-Laborites, Henrik Shipstead and Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota, voted for the Clark arms embargo amendment. Voting against it were 52 Democrats, 7 Republicans, and 1 radical, George W. Norris of Nebraska.

Both Illinois senators, Lucas and James M. Slattery, voted against the arms embargo amendment and for passage of the bill.

SALIENT POINTS IN SENATE ARMS SALES MEASURE

Bars American Ships in Munitions Trade.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—Here are the salient features of the administration bill permitting the sale of arms to belligerents, as approved by the senate:

Operation—Directs the President to put the act in effect when he, or congress, finds that a state of war exists and the President determines that operation of the law is necessary to preserve the peace and security of the United States.

Arms Sales—Repeals the present embargo and permits arms sales to belligerents for cash. Forbids American ships to carry arms to any belligerent port in any part of the world.

Shipping—Bars American vessels from transporting supplies or passengers to belligerent ports, with the following exceptions:

Ports in the Atlantic south of the 35th meridian; New Brunswick and Nova Scotia on the Bay of Fundy; the Pacific and Indian oceans; the China, Tasman and Arabian seas, and the Bay of Bengal; permits inland transportation by rail, air or water to Canada.

Aircraft—American aircraft could carry passengers and materials, except munitions, anywhere in the world except to European ports of the belligerent nations or thru combat areas proclaimed by the President.

Title Transfer—Forbids export of any materials to a belligerent state until shipper has filed a sworn statement with port collectors that title has been transferred to some foreign government, corporation, agency or national. However, shipments to individuals or private companies at ports included within the exempted areas in the shipping section can be made on a normal trade basis, without previous transfer of title.

Combat Areas—Empowers the President to establish danger zones around either belligerent or neutral ports, including the areas exempted in the shipping sections, into which American ships could not go. He could modify or change these zones at will.

Financial Transactions—Prohibits the purchase, sale or exchange in this country of bonds, securities or obligations of belligerents; forbids United States citizens to make loans or extend credit to any belligerent state, or its agency; forbids solicitation of funds for belligerents, except for medical aid, food and clothing to relieve suffering.

American Ports—Authorizes the President to restrict the use of American ports by belligerents' submarines or armed merchant vessels. [He also could require the owners of any vessel to post bond against carrying fuel, arms, men, supplies or information to any belligerent warship and could intern any ship which violated this provision].

Travel—Forbids Americans to travel on belligerent ships, with minor exceptions.

Merchant Vessels—Makes it unlawful for an American merchant vessel to be armed, except with small arms.

American Republics—The law would not apply to American republics unless they were coöperating with non-American states in a war, as Canada is.

Munitions Board—Continues the board and empowers it to control the manufacture and export of arms through licenses.

Penalties—Violation of the shipping and title transfer sections would be punishable by a maximum fine of $50,000 and five years imprisonment, violations of other sections by $10,000 fine and two years imprisonment.

Gets 4 Receptions

[Acme Photo.]

Ann Rutherford arriving in New York.

New York, Oct. 27 [Special].—Ann Rutherford, film starlet, arrived in New York by train and was accorded four receptions instead of one, due to the enterprise of four separate press agents. She was greeted by a group of dancing jitterbugs, a group of messenger boys singing "Happy Birthday," a birthday cake presented by the mayor of Rutherford, N. J., who confessed that he had not seen her on the screen, and a welcome from fraternity boys who elected her their "sweetheart." Anyhow, it was not her birthday.

Nickel—or Less—Admits Children to N. Y. Fair

New York, Oct. 27 (AP).—For a nickel each—and some of them for nothing — nearly 200,000 school children jammed thru the gates of the New York World's fair today. Harried gatekeepers, deluged by the flood, at one gate gave up and let every one —including adults—in free. Results included a broken arm for one girl, "abrasions" of the eye for a boy, and a good time for the rest of them.

SELLING OF ARMS IS PATH TO WAR, DIRKSEN ASSERTS

Keep Embargo, He Pleads in House Debate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—Sending of instruments of war to belligerents will inevitably draw the United States into the European conflict, Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] told the house today in arguing against repeal of the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act.

Rep. E. M. Dirksen. [Tribune Studio photo.]

The case for repeal, he said, consists of a policy of giving every possible aid to one side in the present controversy without actually being embroiled in war. It has been observed repeatedly by others that repeal of the embargo and substitution of the purported cash and carry sale of arms and other war supplies will help the British and French against the Germans.

"Can we do it successfully?" Dirksen asked. "One side will be inflamed with hate that our planes and munitions have come to destroy. Every broken body and shattered structure will augment that hate. The other side will not only rejoice but will widely publish the fact that we are on their side. So it was in 1915. Can it be otherwise in 1939?"

Cites Effect in Last War.

Dirksen cited reports of American diplomats prior to entry of the United States in the world war revealing the growing bitterness in Germany because the United States sold munitions to the allies. He told of instances in which the general staff in official accounts mentioned munitions of American manufacture. He gave an account of his own experiences in the St. Mihiel sector in which oncoming planes were identified by make and type long before they were near.

"What will be more natural than that a grim and determined effort will be made to stop the flow of planes and munitions?" the congressman asked. "Hate will ride the torpedoes as they seek to sink the cash and carry cargoes of munitions almost as soon as the vessels have slipped their hawsers. Hate will supersede reason and there will be 'incidents.' There will be notes and explanations. There will be reports and demands. It will be intoxicating. The fever will grow. And then we shall see whether the nation can be kept out of war."

Raps Roosevelt Remark.

Commenting on President Roosevelt's statement last night that talk of our getting into the war thru repeal of the arms embargo is "one of the worst fakes in current history," Dirksen said:

"Of all persons, the President should know that it does not work that way. War is a dramatic thing in which emotion takes the leading rôle. Twenty-two years ago we gambled with this identical question. Twenty-three of our colleagues who were members of this body in 1917 can testify whether we won or lost. Can we gamble in 1939 and stay out?"

BRITISH SILENT ON SENATE VOTE TO END EMBARGO

LONDON, Oct. 27 (AP).—British official circles declined to comment tonight on the United States senate's vote to repeal the arms embargo act. They suggested that any such reaction would be premature before the issue had been decided in the house.

Unofficially, it was stated in diplomatic circles, however, that Britain 'at least would not be dissatisfied with the senate's decision."

The senate's action caused some surprise in official quarters. Many had believed the opponents of repeal would put up a stiffer fight.

The Daily Mail said:

"It cannot now be concealed that the prospect of such a vast war storehouse as America offers comes as a tonic encouragement to the nations fighting the cause of democracy."

No Surprise in Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 27 (AP).—The United States senate's approval of repeal of the arms embargo today caused no surprise in official circles here. Official comment was lacking, a foreign office spokesman saying that the legislation as finally adopted must be studied before any possible effect on the course of the war could be appraised.

CARGO SEIZURES BY BRITISH STIR NO U. S. PROTEST

Many American Vessels Are Detained.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—Vessels of American shipping companies, bound for neutral ports, are readily submitting to search and detention by British vessels. Lack of resentment by the American government and by ship companies is in sharp contrast with the violent reaction during the world war.

The apathy towards British search and cargo seizure also stands out in contrast to the activity to which the state department roused itself over the taking of the American freighter City of Flint by Germany.

Since the war started a dozen ships have been detained by the British and in some instances the cargo was seized as contraband. Several complaints were lodged with the state department and the difficulty adjusted to the satisfaction of the department and the shipper without furor.

Aids British Blockade.

Not only has the United States failed to protest against the seizures but the government, thru the commerce department, has coöperated with the British government by publicizing suggestions of the British ministry of economic warfare for coöperation with Great Britain. These include the air mailing of copies of ship manifests for scrutiny by British officials in advance of the arrivals of American vessels in British waters.

Today American vessels trading with European neutrals are voluntarily checking in at several control stations established by the British government rather than taking the chance of being hauled in by Britain.

The control points, designated early in the war when the British declared a blockade of Germany, are Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands; Weymouth on the channel coast, North Foreland [the Downs] on the North sea coast, Gibraltar, and Haifa, Palestine.

Oil Cargoes Seized.

Here absolute contraband is subject to seizure and conditioned contraband, such as foodstuffs, to forced purchase if it is bound for Germany.

Last week two American cargoes of oil destined for Sweden were seized on the theory that their eventual destination was Germany. However, the British paid for the oil. It has been the practice to pay for both classes of contraband where there is any doubt as to destination.

American shippers are not complaining, except over delay, because they are receiving payments for the cargoes. The state department is lodging no protest, Secretary of State Hull said, when he was asked about the British seizures, because no complaints are being made.

Protest in World War.

It was different in the world war. On Dec. 28, 1914, the state department protested to Great Britain the seizure of American vessels laden with goods destined to neutral ports. The note complained that these vessels were detained in British ports.

The American government admitted the right of a belligerent to visit and search vessels of Americans carrying goods and to detain them when there is sufficient evidence that there is contraband in the cargo. But the American government cannot permit American ships and cargoes to be taken into British ports to be searched generally for contraband, the note to Great Britain contended.

The following November, in a further complaint, the United States intimated to Britain that she was favoring her own exports to neutrals at the expense of ours, but Britain replied that there was "no vestige of foundation" for this insinuation.

List of Ships Detained.

Following is a list of American ships detained by the British, with data on ownership, nature of cargo, date detained, and date released:

SACCARAPPA—South Atlantic Steamship company; phosphate, cotton; arrived Sept. 3; cargo seized Sept. 8; ship released promptly; cargo unloaded.

SCHICK SHINNY—South Atlantic Steamship company; phosphate, cotton; detained Sept. 16; Glasgow; released Sept. 18.

SUNDANCE—South Atlantic Steamship company; rosin and general cargo; detained Oct. 11; London; to date.

BLACK OSPREY—Black Diamond Lines; cargo unlisted; vessel picked up Sept. 6 by British naval vessel; released Sept. 13.

SANTA PAULA—Grace Line; cargo unlisted; when 30 miles from Curacao ordered to stop; delayed 20 minutes by unidentified British cruiser believed to be the Essex.

ETHAN ALLEN—Lykes Brothers' Steamship company; cargo unlisted; detained Sept. 20; released Sept. 30.

PATRICK HENRY—Lykes Brothers' Steamship company; detained Oct. 10; released Oct. 22.

OAKMAN—Lykes Brothers' Steamship company; detained Oct. 13 to date.

CRANFORD—Lykes Brothers' Steamship company; detained Oct. 17; released Oct. 21.

BLACK EAGLE—Black Diamond Line; detained; details not known.

LEHIGH—United States maritime commission; detained Sept. 5; released Sept. 7.

WARRIOR—Waterman Steamship corporation; detained Sept. 7; cargo of phosphate requisitioned.

The oil seized last week was the property of the New York firm of W. R. Davis & Co. It was being carried in two Norwegian tankers bound for Sweden.

Electrocuted When He Touches Fallen Live Wire

John Kunke, 25 years old, of Rockdale, a village three miles southwest of Joliet, was electrocuted early today when he touched a high tension light wire that had fallen not far from his home. A policeman was assigned to keep people away pending the arrival of repair men. One story was that Kunke touched the wire in spite of the policeman's warning. Another version was that he grabbed the wire in an effort to save an approaching motorist.

AMERICAN SHIP HEARS 8 S. O. S. CALLS IN 3 DAYS

New York, Oct. 27 [Special].—In the three days after the United States liner American Merchant left Belfast she picked up wireless calls from eight empire ships which were being chased and gunned by U-boats, Capt. Robert A. Smith reported when his steamship docked today in a thick fog.

Capt. Smith said that among the messages were appeals from the City of Mandalay and the Yorkshire, which were sunk by submarines Oct. 18.

The St. John, last of five ships chartered to return war-stranded Americans from Europe, arrived today with 437 passengers.

RUSSIA DEFENDS SURRENDER OF FLINT TO NAZIS

her out in the same status as she had entered one of the ports.

"He said that his government did not consider that it had the right to turn the vessel and her cargo over to the American crew unless the German prize crew refused to take her out, as in the opinion of his government to do so would be an unneutral act. In reply to a question he stated that the decision of the soviet government to permit the German prize crew to take the vessel to sea was final.

"I then asked him who had verified the alleged damage to the machinery, to which he replied that he had no information on this subject but assumed this had been done by the authorities at Murmansk.

"I again inquired concerning the welfare of the American crew and he said that it was his understanding that they had been on board the ship all of the time and were well.

Tries to Locate Captain.

"I then referred to my difficulties in making contact with the captain or members of the crew, reciting my repeated attempts to get into communication with them by telegram and telephone, as well as my inability to obtain a plane today. He disclaimed any responsibility for these difficulties, passing over the subject lightly by pointing out that the crew being on board the ship in the roadstead, in conjunction with the average delays in long distance telephone communication had probably brought about this 'unfortunate result.'

"I am again endeavoring to complete a telephone connection with the captain of the City of Flint at midnight."

Announcement that Russia had ordered the City of Flint to depart frustrated efforts of Secretary of State Cordell Hull to secure possession of the freighter, which had been seized by the German pocket battleship Deutschland and taken to Murmansk. America, contending the Germans had no right to take the ship to a neutral port, had demanded that Russia hand over the ship to this country.

Secretary Hull said that the United States would not sit in on the prize court proceedings, if they are to be held, unless the vessel, as well as her cargo are to be subject to court action.

In the event the ship is to be claimed as a prize, the government will step into proceedings, because the vessel is the property of the maritime commission under charter to the United States Lines. The shipper alone will be represented if only the cargo is to be claimed as a prize.

Hull said that the immediate concern of the state department is over the crew of the City of Flint. He expressed himself as certain that they are reasonably safe, because there are no mines or submarine operations in the vicinity of Murmansk.

Officials here would not speculate as to what might happen to the vessel should she be captured by British warships while en route to Hamburg. They said they would meet that problem when it confronts this country.

Students of international law said there was no reason why the City of Flint could not be taken from her German prize crew by a British warship, whether the freighter is flying the German or American flag, so long as she is a Nazi prize. It was considered unlikely that the British would fire upon the vessel, because she is unarmed. The British would probably effect capture by driving off escorting German warships.

ARMED BRITISH MERCHANT SHIP LANDS 80 NAZIS

Takes Captured Seamen to Port in Scotland.

LONDON, Oct. 27 (AP).—Eighty German seamen were landed today at a Scottish port by a British armed merchant cruiser, it was announced here.

The landing stage was closely guarded by military and police. It was stated by admiralty officials that the seamen were members of the crews of five German ships — the Phoebus of 8,863 tons, Gloria of 5,864 tons, Bianca of 1,375 tons, Poseidon of 5,864 tons, and Biscaya of 6,369 tons, whose capture was announced yesterday.

Tugs brought the prisoners ashore. They were guarded by soldiers with fixed bayonets, and bundled into buses and taken to a Scottish internment camp. Their ships presumably will be added to Britain's merchant fleet.

Two Raiders Roam Seas.

Meanwhile, British naval authorities said that two of Germany's three fast, heavily gunned pocket battleships, the Deutschland and the Admiral Scheer, have been ranging the high seas for a month and have sunk at least three ships.

It was the first time authorized British spokesmen had accepted previous reports that the Admiral Scheer had been operating in the South Atlantic. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told commons of the Deutschland's operations yesterday.

Sinking of the British ship Stonegate about 500 miles east of Florida Oct. 5 was said to have been the Deutschland's first victory. The next heard of the Deutschland she was off Newfoundland Oct. 12 when a Norwegian ship was stopped but not sunk.

Two days later the Norwegian ship Lorenz W. Hansen was sunk by the Deutschland near Newfoundland, the naval authorities said.

Clement Is Third Victim.

The third victim of the raiders was said to be the British freighter Clement, sunk off the Brazilian coast Sept. 30 by a vessel the British identified tonight as the Admiral Scheer.

There was no explanation from naval authorities tonight of what had happened to a wrecked German submarine which was discovered yesterday on the Goodwin sands in the straits of Dover. Between 50 and 60 bodies were reported taken off the boat. Some believed the submarine might have been attacked off Deal and others that it was sunk off Folkstone and drifted along the sea bed. Heavy firing was heard off the coast on Wednesday.

Divers worked from a salvage vessel beside the submarine. Part of the conning tower and periscope were visible from shore with the aid of glasses.

U-Boat Uses Accidental Decoy.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 27 (AP). — Five men clinging to the wreckage of a British ship were the unintentional decoys that a German submarine used in sinking her second victim at the same spot, Capt. Norman Rice of the freighter Ledbury declared today.

Rice, with his entire crew of twenty-five men and five earlier castaways, was landed here by the American freighter Crown City. The skipper said that about 80 miles west of Cape Spartel, African promontory on the strait of Gibraltar, the Ledbury came upon the five men amid the wreckage Tuesday morning.

Instructing his radio operator to stand by, he cautiously circled in a calm sea and finally managed to cast a line to one of the men. The others were picked up in a lifeboat. All proved to be seamen from the Menin Ridge, destroyed a little while before by a submarine.

Suddenly the U-boat reappeared and fired a shot which missed the Ledbury.

"I put the Ledbury's stern toward the submarine," said Capt. Rice, "and ordered an S O S dispatched.

"Thereupon the submarine commenced shelling the Ledbury heavily. I instantly ordered the crew to abandon ship and I ran to the cabin to secure the ship's papers.

Blames Winston Churchill.

"While I was doing so, a shell burst on the deck underneath, wrecking the cabin. The Ledbury began to sink, and all of us on it, including the men from the Menin Ridge, got safely into two lifeboats just as she sank.

"The submarine then approached the lifeboats and her commander shouted in good English:

"'It's Winston Churchill [first lord of the British admiralty] and the money grabbers of London who want war who are to blame; we don't want war.'"

Rice said the Crown City appeared three hours later and brought the men here.

WAR AND BRITISH BLOCKADE BLOW TO BELGIAN PORT

Foreign Commerce Cut to 25 Pct. of Normal.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANTWERP, Belgium, Oct. 27.—Foreign commerce, as reflected by boat clearances at Antwerp, continental Europe's most active port, has been reduced to one-fourth of normal by the war and the British economic blockade.

The captain of the port presented statistics indicating that since the war began weekly boat clearances from Antwerp are averaging 64, as against 240 previously. Registered tonnage shows a proportional drop, from a weekly average of 480,000 to 125,000. He said that inland canal transportation had been reduced to 42 per cent of normal.

Italian Fruit Arrives.

Figures for overland trade are not available, but it is known that fruit and other products from Italy are reaching Belgium normally thru Germany.

The port captain, however, expressed the belief that negotiations going on in London will result in an understanding whereby shipping will be able to approach normalcy by January.

The Brussels newspaper Le Pays Reel, however, does not reflect optimism. It says editorially that "Britain has us by the throat to make us understand that sooner or later we must rally to its cause if we do not desire to perish." It demands to know why the smaller neutral nations are not given the same consideration that powerful pro-Hitler neutrals, namely, Italy and Russia, receive.

Ships Held Up by Britain.

"England has everything to lose and nothing to gain by such economic pressure," the newspaper warns.

American automobile dealers declared that, owing to contraband inspection in England, it takes from 25 to 30 days for American ships to reach Antwerp instead of the normal two weeks. However, outside of the mails, no American cargo has been interfered with so far.

NEW DEAL FAILS IN A $4,000,000 HOMESTEAD PLAN

Hightstown, N. J., Oct. 27 [Special].—The failure of one of the early New Deal experiments in subsistence homesteads was acknowledged by the government today when it announced notice of sale of the garment making machinery of the New Jersey homestead garment factory.

The government spent an estimated $4,000,000 in building a homestead project for 200 families on a 1,250 acre tract four miles south of here.

The Original Plan.

Garment workers living in New York were brought here with their families to live in government built houses in a coöperative community. Cash was to be derived from the sale of garments made in the government built factory, and wages were to be supplemented by the produce of the 500 acre coöperative farm.

The government advanced about $200,000 for machinery for the factory and for working capital, but the factory was not a success and after several years of operation it closed down several months ago. Today Walter A. Simon, administrative officer of the project, announced that the machinery, worth about $30,000, would be sold at auction on Monday to meet part of the $200,000 obligation. Actual foreclosure was waived under the agreement at the time it was made.

About 150 families have lived in the project from the start. Recently the practice was inaugurated of renting the homes that were unoccupied to families outside of the coöperative agreement. Since the closing down of the factory, a number of the garment workers have been commuting to work in New York or Philadelphia.

Face Doubtful Future.

The fate of the families now living here is still doubtful. The project was incorporated some time ago as the Borough of Jersey Homestead. Mayor Philip Goldstein of the borough said today that the families hoped to be able to induce some clothing manufacturer to take over the factory and equipment from the government, and thus furnish work for the employés of the government plant.

The plant has been subject to criticism from time to time, chiefly because of its high cost. It has been administered in recent times by the Farm Security administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

CHICAGOANS TUNE IN ON BROADCAST FROM FRONT LINES OF WAR

Chicagoans last night tuned in on a short wave radio broadcast from near the front lines in the European war. The program was presented by the British Broadcasting corporation. It came, the announcer said, "from a little village somewhere in France."

Soldiers sang and military bands played. New war songs, not yet familiar in America, were heard. So were some old ones, such as "Tipperary," "There's a Long, Long Trail," and "Pack Up Your Troubles."

At the conclusion the announcer said the program "demonstrated that the morale of the British army is high and that the troops are ready for anything."

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Oct. 27 (AP).—In the darkness of an air raid rehearsal the cabinet inner council tonight studied Finland's course in its negotiations with soviet Russia for a report to the full cabinet tomorrow. The delegation to Moscow, headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, was expected to return to the soviet capital Sunday for a third conference on the Kremlin's reported demands for strategic islands in the Gulfs of Finland and Bothnia and a mutual assistance pact.

GERMANS MASS AT SIX POINTS, FRANCE IS TOLD

Nazi Troops Stretch from Italy to North Sea.

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP).—French military authorities tonight studied carefully reports of their intelligence service on German troop dispositions for indications of the Germans' intentions. These reports said the Nazi forces were in six great concentrations, five running from the Italian frontier to Denmark, with the sixth in reserve.

The French reported the disposition of the Germans about as follows: The southernmost group facing the Swiss frontier and extending northward; the second along France's Rhineland frontier on the southern flank of the front; the third along the northern flank between the Rhine and the Moselle; the fourth along the Belgian and Netherlands frontiers; the fifth on the North sea and the sixth forming a great reserve in central Germany.

21 Divisions on Swiss Frontier.

The French were said to be studying particularly the reported concentrations facing Switzerland and on the northern flank. They reported there were 21 divisions on the Swiss frontier.

[A German division's strength is between 12,000 and 15,000 men.]

Four army corps of three divisions each were reported massed between Basel and Lake Constance, and three corps of three divisions each stationed from the lake south to Italy.

Because of the cold and flooded conditions in some parts of the front, French observers expressed doubt that a German drive would be immediate, although they said they expected it as soon as the weather improved.

Patrol Clashes Grow in Scope.

Clashes of increasing intensity between German and French combat patrols were reported tonight between the Rhine and the Moselle rivers.

Reports from the front said the Germans were strengthening their patrol action. This action was reported to be passing from a preliminary reconnaissance phase, in which groups of four or five scouts were used, to action involving combat patrols of about 50 men. The fighting was about equally divided between French and German soil and carried on in bitter cold weather.

The night communique told of increasing activity of advance guards in contact along the 100 mile front and added that artillery fire from both sides was increasing.

Natives of Frontier Region.

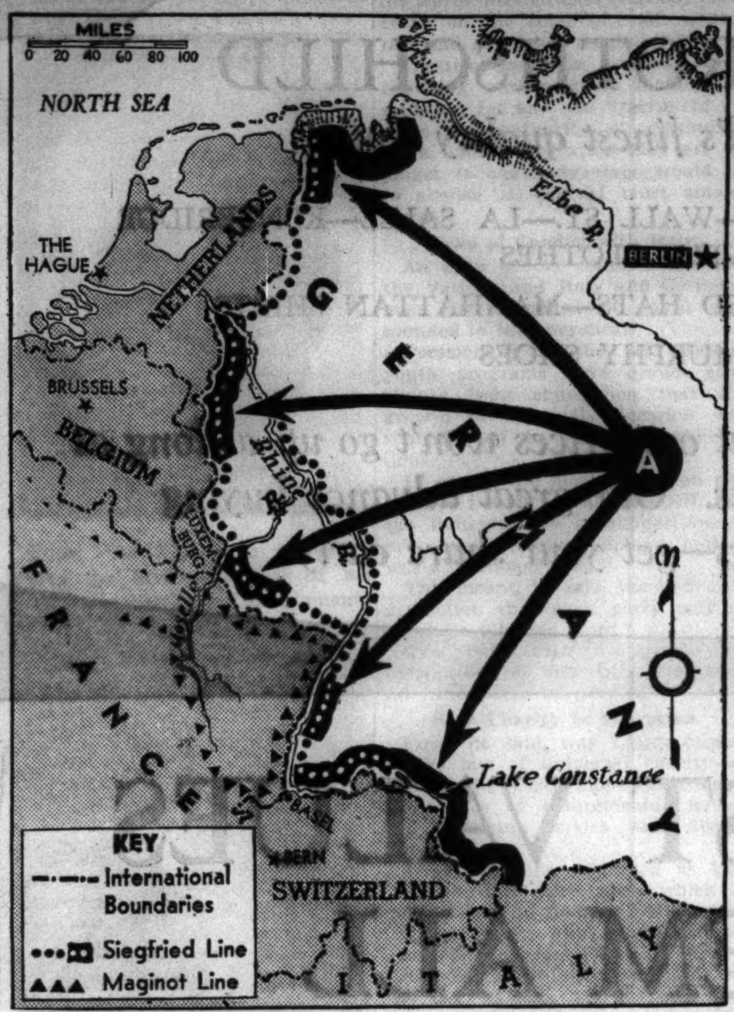
Some points of no-man's-land, which varies from about 500 yards to a mile and a half in width, are almost entirely within France, while others are on the German side of the frontier.

The German combat patrols were said to be led by "grenzeschultze" troops, who are natives of the frontier region and know every forest trail and every hill and valley.

BABY KILLED IN FALL.

Stephen Flashing Jr., 1 month old, died last night in the family home at 4447 Carroll avenue of injuries suffered in a fall from his mother's arms.

Germany Masses Troops at Six Points



Heavy black lines represent areas where, according to the French military intelligence service, Germany has concentrated forces totaling one and one-half million men. The reserve (A), prepared to send more troops to front (as shown by arrows), is massed somewhere in central Germany, the exact location or locations not given. Opposing the Germans, France has, according to the best information available, about one and one-half million soldiers at the front and Great Britain 158,000.

GERMANS TOLD TO TREAT POLES AS INFERIOR RACE

BROMBERG, Germany [formerly Bydgoszcz, Poland], Oct. 27 (AP).—Nazi Commissioner Kampe issued a decree today providing that Poles in this conquered Polish area should be treated as inferiors and would be accommodated only after Germans in stores, factories, and public buildings.

German is the official language. Poles may not display the swastika flag. "Germans who have German identification cards must be given the preference in every way," Kampe said. Polish uniforms, caps, and similar clothing may not be worn.

The decree also provided that all foreign exchange must be delivered to German authorities by Oct. 31.

Spain Exiles Miaja, Former Head of Defeated Regime

MADRID, Oct. 27 (AP).—A Melilla court has condemned Generalissimo José Miaja, former president of the defeated republican [loyalist] government, to 15 years in exile and expropriated his property, the official gazette announced today. Miaja fled to Mexico with his family soon after the republican cause collapsed. The court recommended the Franco government deprive him of citizenship. A fine of $100,000 was imposed on his wife.

ITALIAN SHIP SPEEDS FOR HOME IN DEFIANCE OF BRITISH COMMAND

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP). — Reliable reports tonight said the Italian liner Saturnia was en route to Italy from Gibraltar after the Italian government had countermanded a British order to her captain to proceed to England with what Gibraltar authorities declared a contraband cargo.

One source said the ship had started to England but upon receiving the order from Italy turned back to Gibraltar, unloaded iron and copper which authorities there believed was destined for former Czechoslovakia, then headed for Naples.

Mrs. William Phillips, wife of the American ambassador to Rome, was aboard the Saturnia. Out of New York, the ship was due at Naples Tuesday but had been held up by the lengthy examination of the British authorities at Gibraltar.

PREDICTS HITLER WILL ASK PEACE BY CHRISTMAS

A prediction that Adolf Hitler will be ready for peace by Christmas was made yesterday by Dr. Robert Temple, consulting psychologist of Washington, D. C., in a lecture to the Will County Teachers' institute in Joliet.

"I have had several interviews with Hitler," said Dr. Temple. "He is a frustrated man fearful of the December elections in his country. Because his star is waning with the German people, I feel the war will fritter to a close in two months. Then Hitler will retire to devote himself to the arts."

7 ARE INDICTED ON CONSPIRACY CHARGES IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 17 [Special]. — Charges of extortion and conspiracy were made today in an indictment returned by the Queens county grand jury against William J. Flynn, former commissioner of public works in the Bronx and a Tammany leader, and six other men. The grand jury, which has been investigating the building industry in Queens, charged that the defendants had tried to control plumbing contracts in the borough, stopping construction on a playground in Rockaway and apartments in Elmhurst and Forest Hills, extorting $600 in one case, $400 in another, and $100 in a third.

GERMANY SEEKS AID OF RUSSIA IN SIEGE OF BRITAIN

Holds Out Lure of Great Territorial Expansion.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 27. — Never—not even in the early days of the world war when the kaiser's troops were advancing at great speed into Belgium and France—have official circles in Berlin displayed as great optimism as now. Four reasons are given by the Nazis for their certainty of victory. They are:

FIRST—Belief that soviet Russia will join Germany in a military alliance.

SECOND—Belief that the Nazi naval and air forces are superior to those of France and England and that the British fleet is vulnerable.

THIRD—Belief that the German mechanized forces are superior to those of the empires.

FOURTH—The German "mystery weapon" which Fuehrer Hitler has mentioned in his speeches. No hint has been given as to what this weapon might be.

Claim Reds Promise Alliance.

The Nazis hope their friendly relations with Moscow will be turned into a military alliance when Russia's supreme soviet [parliament] meets in extraordinary session on Oct. 31. The Germans say they have promises to that effect from their Russian friends, and military preparations are being made in Germany for this Russian-German coöperation.

The Germans hope that the Russians, after the alliance is announced, will coöperate in a joint blockade of England to bring the war to a speedy conclusion.

Whether this optimism is justified is a different matter. One thing is certain—it undeniably exists in official Nazi governmental and party circles and in official Russian circles in Berlin. German army circles, however, are more reserved in their expectations and their utterances.

Neutral observers in Berlin who know conditions in Moscow well have asserted heretofore that they were certain Russia would not engage in military activities. Nazis ridicule this standpoint.

Hold Out Lure to Reds.

"The chance for booty is so great that the Russians just cannot leave this temptation," they say. "The British empire will be smashed and Russia can expand in Asia. She can take the Dardanelles, for which she has been craving for centuries. That's the booty which makes it worth while for Russia to coöperate with Germany."

When asked if they do not fear that Russia might grow too strong if it emerges victorious, the Nazis reply: "We have always been able to manage the Russians."

That big scale military operations are proceeding in Germany is undeniable. Travelers returning from Moscow thru former Polish territory assert that big German forces are stationed in Upper Silesia and west of Lemberg [Lwow]. They heard rumors that these forces might be set into motion if war starts on the Black sea. The object, it was said, would be to punish Turkey for entering an alliance with England and France. The Turks, it was declared, would be expelled from Europe.

Responsible circles in Berlin also claim that forces are being concentrated for a spectacular blockade and siege of England. The Nazis, it is said, hope Russia will join in this blockade and delay an attack on the Dardanelles until later.

Begin Trade Talks.

I. T. Tevosian, soviet people's commissar for shipbuilding, who arrived in Berlin yesterday at the head of a large trade delegation, met leaders of German industry at the chancellery today. The Russians will travel thru Germany inspecting plants and studying economic methods. They will visit ship wharves, optical plants, military plants, and other industries.

Admiral Erich H. A. Raeder, commander in chief of the German navy, has invited the Russians to a trip on a German warship. The air force will entertain the Reds at Friedrichshaven, where they will be shown the zeppelin plants. The army will escort them to the Siegfried line. The labor front will show them the giant plants erected with the coöperation of Italian workers for the manufacture of the new People's automobile.

After their tour of inspection has been completed, the Russians will choose plants to which they will send thousands of Russian workers and engineers to learn German methods. Functionaries of the labor front are learning the Russian language in special courses.

Nazi leaders assert that Russian-German economic coöperation is so close that the British blockade has lost all its terror for Germany.

The Story of a U-boat.

An incident which was said to have occurred on Sept. 25 convinced Hitler that his navy is better than the German world war fleet. The incident deals with a submarine which was attacked by British bombing planes.

The Nazis claim this submarine was hit by two British bombs. It sank. The Germans state that the submarine crew believed they were lost, but after three hours they managed to bring the vessel to the surface. When they emerged they saw a British destroyer and cruiser. The crew sailed the U-boat in their wake. The English never looked back. The badly damaged submarine reached its home port in 26 days.

When Hitler was told this story he declared that if, despite two direct hits, the British were unable to sink a submarine, their explosives could not be as good as the German explosives. His conclusion that Germany's new submarines are infinitely better than its world war submarines is shared by German navy men.

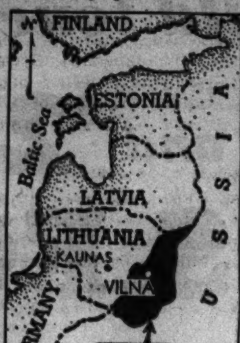
LITHS START MARCH INTO VILNA AND BURN BOUNDARY MARKERS

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Oct. 27 (AP).—Boundary posts which for 19 years have separated Lithuania from its lost province of Vilna [Wilno] were burned today as Lithuanian troops began entering Vilna territory.



Black area covers province of Vilna.

The province, containing the city of the same name which Lithuanians consider their ancient capital, was returned under the recent Russian-Lithuanian mutual aid pact. The capital is to be entered tomorrow.

As the troops began marching, the liberty bell in Kaunas, gift of Lithuanians in the United States, rang for the first time to celebrate recovery of the province.

HITLER HONORS 12 HEROES OF SWIFT POLISH CAMPAIGN

Gives Them Country's Highest Decoration.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Adolph Hitler today awarded Germany's highest war decoration, the knight's cross of the iron cross, to 12 officers for bravery and for playing a decisive part in the victorious Polish campaign.

Gen. Franz von Halder
[Assoc. Press Photo.]

The decoration was presented to nine generals, one colonel, and two lieutenants. The generals included Franz von Halder, chief of staff of the German field army, and Gen. von Briesen. Gen. von Briesen's division was almost annihilated by the Poles at the battle of Vistula bend.

Suffer Heavy Losses.

Despite heavy losses the German division held out until reinforcements were rushed up. The battle ended with the capture of 240,000 Poles.

The creator of the German tank corps, Gen. Guderian, also was among the decorated officers. As chief of Germany's "speed troops," he was to a large degree responsible for making a flash war out of the Polish campaign, which, according to Hitler, was "practically decided in eight days."

Former Austrian Honored.

The two lieutenants decorated distinguished themselves in the attack on Warsaw. One of them is a former officer of the Austrian army.

Today's German war communique again was restricted to a few lines, reporting that "artillery fire livened up in the sector between the Moselle river and the Warndt forest, west of Saarbruecken. In other sectors there was only patrol activity and occasional harassing fire."

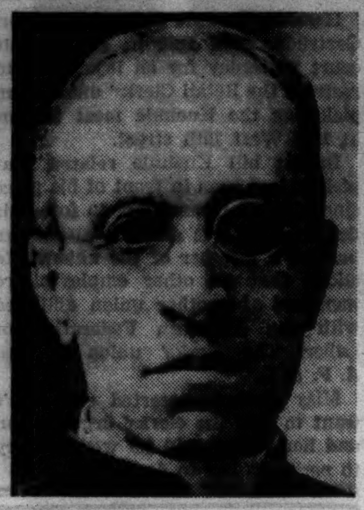
POPE PIUS FLAYS DICTATORSHIPS; PREDICTS DOOM

Warns Against Sword as Means to Peace.

Assails Dictators



Pope Pius XII., who yesterday issued the first encyclical of his pontificate, attacking governments in which civil authority "puts itself in the place of the Almighty."

Castel Gandolfo, the pope's summer residence in the Alban hills, where the document was issued.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Oct. 27 (AP).—Pope Pius XII., in the first encyclical of his pontificate, today assailed governments in which civil authority "puts itself in the place of the Almighty and elevates the state or group into the last end of life."

"It is quite true that power based on such weak and unsteady foundations can attain at times under chance circumstances material successes apt to arouse wonder in superficial observers," he acknowledged.

"But the moment comes," he warned, "when the inevitable law triumphs, which strikes down all that has been constructed upon a hidden or open disproportion between the greatness of the material and outward success and the weakness of the inward value and of its moral foundation."

Offers Consolation to Poland.

The pontiff, who said his first encyclical was "directed to the whole Christian people scattered over the world," offered his consolation to conquered Poland, condemned treaty violations and resorts to force, and offered his support for peace efforts.

He expressed the belief that Poland—"our dear Poland," he called the dismembered nation—would rise anew as he called for "the generous and brotherly sympathy of the whole world" while the Poles awaited "the hour of a resurrection in harmony with the principles of justice and true peace."

His holiness observed that "the dread tempest of war is already raging despite all our efforts to avert it" and gave the pledge:

"Whatever we can do to hasten the day when the dove of peace may find on this earth, submerged in a deluge of discord, somewhere to alight, we shall continue to do."

Warns Against Unjust Peace.

The pontiff cautioned, however, against attempts to impose sacrifices and suffering on the conquered which would lead to new wars.

"Safety does not come to peoples from external means, from the sword, which can impose conditions of peace but does not create peace," he said. "Forces that are to renew the face of the earth should proceed from within, from the spirit."

He said he recognized that time and circumstances might create a case for revision of a treaty to remove injustices but he declared any such modification should be done by peaceful discussion, not force.

He added that in his work for peace he was trusting in those "who called not for justice alone but for love and mercy."

Says World Has Lost Its Way.

The pope spoke of "a world in all too dire need of help and guidance," of a world which, he said, "preoccupied with the worship of the ephemeral, has lost its way and spent its forces in a vain search after earthly ideals."

"In the recognition of the royal prerogatives of Christ and in the return of individuals and of society to the law of His truth and of His love," he said, "lies the only way to salvation."

He said that for the new order of the world international relations must rest "on the solid rock of natural law and of divine revelation."

Treaties may be revised when changing circumstances dictate, he said, but for any one "tacitly to assume the authority of rescinding them unilaterally when they are no longer to one's advantage would be to abolish all mutual trust among states."

Echo of Conflict with Italy.

An echo of old conflicts between the Vatican and Italy and Germany over the education of youth was sounded in the encyclical.

Occasionally in the past Fascist youth programs have drawn complaints from churchmen that the growth of spiritual education was subordinated to political considerations.

In one of the most outspoken portions of the encyclical, Pius XII. said the indispensable presupposition of peaceful intercourse among nations was a "national trust."

This meant, he said, the "effective conviction that each party will respect its plighted word."

The pontiff said two errors were responsible for disturbing the peaceful intercourse of peoples.

Says Charity Is Forgotten.

First, he said, was "forgetfulness of the law of universal charity—of that charity which alone can consolidate peace by extinguishing hatred and softening envies and dissensions."

The second he described as that "contained in those ideas which do not hesitate to divorce civil authority from every kind of dependence upon the Supreme Being."

"Once the authority of God and the sway of His law are denied in this way," he said, "the civil authority as an inevitable result tends to attribute to itself that absolute autonomy which belongs exclusively to the Supreme Maker.

"Legitimate and well ordered love of our nation and country should not make us close our eyes to the all embracing nature of Christian charity."

Returns to Vatican Today.

The encyclical will be known as the "summi pontificatus," the first two words of the Latin text, meaning "the supreme pontificate's."

It bore the date Oct. 20, 1939, and Castel Gandolfo, the pope's summer residence in the Alban hills, was given as the place of issue. Only one other encyclical bore Castel Gandolfo as the place of issue, an encyclical on the rosary two years ago by the late Pius XI.

Pius XII. planned to return to the Vatican tomorrow from his summer residence for the consecration of 12 missionary bishops on Sunday, the feast of Christ the King.

The Fascist press today gave only a column summary of the encyclical but Italians found the full text in the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano.

GETS NINE MONTHS FOR FRAUD.

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 27 [Special].—Held in Lee county jail here the last three months, Edgar Harshman of Hagerstown, Md., was sentenced to nine months on the state prison farm at Vandalia today by Circuit Judge Harry E. Wheat. Harshman was charged with obtaining $350 from a cousin, Clayton Kesserling of Franklin Grove, under false pretenses.

ITALY TO SPEND 873 MILLION ON ARMS PROGRAM

Commercial Agreement Signed with Britain.

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP).—Fascist Italy celebrated the eve of the 17th anniversary of the blackshirt march on Rome today by tossing about $873,800,000 into the world armament race.

The government's announcement that it would spend 17,476,000,000 lire on a new arms program, brought Fascist army, navy, and air force expenditures to 133,281,000,000 lire [currently about $6,664,000,000] in 17 years.

Agreement With British.

At the same time Italy and Britain moved to improve trade relations by signing an agreement establishing a permanent commission to regulate commercial affairs between them.

The Fascists' celebration of the 17th anniversary of their climb to power will be marked by three steps toward making a greater nation, Fascist leaders announced.

The ministry of agriculture will inaugurate the second block of 100 farms in the Apulia "heel" area of Italy—farms created by cutting up large estates.

Battleships to be Launched.

Fifteen thousand colonists will sail for Libya to join 20,000 already there, strengthening an economic link in the Italian empire.

The new battleship Impero, of 35,000 tons, heavily armored and built to attain 30 knots, will be launched at Genoa. It will carry 15 inch guns.

Since the last anniversary of the Blackshirt march, Fascism has extended across the Adriatic to Albania and placed that country under the Italian flag.

Pact with Greece Forecast.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 27.—A new diplomatic agreement between Greece and Italy is expected to be announced soon. Diplomatic circles say it will be in effect a friendship pact.

BRITAIN SOOTHES JAPAN; ASKS NEW TALK ON CHINA

See London Giving In to Check Russia.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Oct. 28 [Saturday].—All around improvement in Anglo-Japanese relations during the last few days is seen by observers here as one of the most significant trends in the far eastern situation. Coming at a time when the United States is stiffening its attitude, these observers declare that Britain again seems to have decided to leave America out on a limb as it did during the Manchurian crisis in 1933.

The British ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, called on Vice Foreign Minister Masayuki Tani last night and asked for a resumption of Anglo-Japanese conversations dealing with the settlement of Chinese problems.

Friendship As War Aid.

The talks were disrupted in September when Britain insisted that the United States and France be called in on the consultations regarding economic questions. Japan flatly turned down the demand.

Tokio believes that London altered its stand due to the urgent necessity of keeping Russia in check and also because Japanese friendship would be of incalculable advantage in carrying on the war with Germany.

London recently made friendly gestures toward Japan. It replaced the anti-Japanese consul general at Tientsin with the pro-Japanese Oswald White, dismissed the chief of police there, and stopped support of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese dictator.

Says U. S. Is Jealous.

Sotomatsu Kato, Japanese minister at large in China, reports a change in the British attitude thruout north and central China. Yakichiro Suma, foreign office spokesman, says that discovering a point of harmony with Britain is easier than obtaining an accord with the United States.

Firing a broadside against the United States, Suma told the Osaka chamber of commerce that jealousy of Japan's increasing strength is the main cause of the American feeling. He declared that American notice of termination of the 1911 trade treaty was a challenge to Japan.

SEAWAY PROJECT TO BE PUSHED BY PACKING SCHEME

Roosevelt Will Put Own Experts on Board.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt has shaken up the International Joint commission and is preparing to pack it with new members who are specializing on the vast government development of water power involved in his St. Lawrence seaway project.

This was disclosed at the White House today when the President was questioned at his press conference on the recent resignation of two members of the International Joint commission, which deals with questions of the disposition and regulation of boundary waters between the United States and Canada.

Three Replacements.

Roosevelt said that the three American members of the commission will be replaced by three experts on water power and other questions within the jurisdiction of the body. The new members will be experts already serving in other government agencies. They will continue in their present positions, drawing their present pay, and will serve in addition on the joint commission without drawing the commission pay, which is $7,500.

The President explained that the purpose of this move is to get the advantage of technical knowledge on the commission and to save money for the government. The economy represented would be $22,500 a year.

From another White House official it was learned that there is to be a similar shakeup and packing of other boards and commissions that are supposed to be independent of executive dictation. The ostensible purpose is economy and greater efficiency.

Previous Defeat by Court.

For several years Roosevelt has endeavored to dominate the independent agencies of the government. His first move in that direction was checked by the Supreme court. He demanded the resignation of William Humphrey, member of the Federal Trade commission, because he wanted to name in his place a member whose mind "will go along with mine." The court held that the President had exceeded his authority.

The shakeup of the International Joint commission leaked out following the resignation of Eugene Lorton of Tulsa, Okla. Lorton, when questioned by a TRIBUNE correspondent, said that the President had requested his resignation in order to "appoint an expert from some other government department who would serve the commission without further salary."

Roosevelt confirmed this statement. He said that he wrote Lorton that in view of the principal purposes of the reorganization act of 1939, which were to effect economies in expenditure and to bring about greater efficiency, and in view of the possibility of the St. Lawrence waterway project, which may come up for consideration in the near future, steps should be taken to reduce the budget of the commission and at the same time make available specialized knowledge on certain technical subjects.

One Member Left.

The President then mentioned the fact that another member of the commission, former Gov. John H. Bartlett of New Hampshire, has handed in his resignation. The President said Gov. Bartlett had heard about the reorganization plan and agreed with it and had so stepped out. There remains only former Senator Augustus O. Stanley of Kentucky.

A. O. Stanley. [A. P. Photo.] Eugene Lorton. [A. P. Photo.] J. H. Bartlett. [(C): Harris & Ewing.]

One of the new members of the joint commission probably will be Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle, who drafted the pending treaty under which the seaway would be constructed and a vast volume of water power developed. Another will be a state department law officer. The third is likely to be a water power expert, possibly Leland Olds, a left winger, formerly in the employ of the New York Power authority, whom the President recently appointed chairman of the Federal Power commission.

Giant Consolidation Expected.

The indications are that the joint commission, the special commission to construct the seaway, the TVA, the Grand Coulee, Bonneville Dam, and Boulder Dam will be integrated into one vast government water power establishment dominated by the National Power Policy committee, which recently was consolidated with the National Defense Power committee under the chairmanship of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, a public ownership zealot.

Roosevelt said that the negotiation of the seaway project with Canada is still in a preliminary stage. It was dormant for a year, but is now being dusted off because of indications that Canada is ready to accept the treaty because of the need of increased electric power to operate the war industries to be developed in Canada by the British government at a cost of 3½ billion dollars.

THE ARMY ISN'T FIT FOR DEFENSE, SAYS GEN. DRUM

Weakness Shown in Maneuvers.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 27 (AP).—High army officials opened fire on the United States' war preparedness today, one asserting "we are not even ready for defense," and another declaring the army has a lack of seasoned fighters.

Lieut. Gen. H. A. Drum.

Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the 1st army and 2d corps area, told the National Guard association convention that "recent maneuvers revealed our forces to be lacking in almost every essential except energy, aggressiveness, and intelligence."

"We are not ready for a war," he said. "We are not even ready for defense.

"Startling Weaknesses."

"We learned in the field at Manassas and elsewhere the startling weaknesses of the National Guard and other reserve units. As to strength, the forces are far too small to face the rigors of a campaign."

He said efforts were being made to correct deficiencies disclosed at the maneuvers.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, said this winter's concentration of 75,000 regular army troops in the south would be a "practical war college."

Comparing the army to a football team that has never played a game, he said, "with the exception of a few soldiers who participated in the world war we have few seasoned fighters in our army. Because of a lack of funds we have been forced to throw passes in a chicken coop."

First Essential Steps.

The maneuvers this winter, he said, "will be the first time that the army has gone thru all of the steps and operations essential to modern warfare."

Secretary of War Woodring, speaking before the convention, struck out at those who "pronounce the inevitability of our entrance into this second world war" and declared that to create such a psychology "is to deny that most Americans are convinced that our democratic form of government can be maintained only thru continuance of peace."

STEALS DRUM AND BEATS IT.

NAVY MAY TURN TO BUILDING OF LIGHTER CRAFT

Considers a Holiday on Battleships.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—The United States navy may declare a year's holiday on the building of additional new battleships, and concentrate instead on fast cruisers and destroyers.

This was reported today in authoritative quarters, which indicated that the primary reason was the crowded conditions of American shipyards. In addition, German air and underseas raids on British shipping have dramatized the necessity for plenty of light speedy surface craft. Cruisers and destroyers are indispensable in convoying merchant ships, combatting submarines, and protecting capital ships.

Still Believe in Big Ships.

Officials emphasized that they had undiminished confidence in the battleship as the backbone of sea power. They said battleships already ordered would be built, and that replacements would be made regardless of the spectacular air and U-boat raids.

The holiday plan, if it is adopted, merely involves postponement of construction of additional new capital ships for a year. Chairman Scrugham [D., Nev.] of the house naval subcommittee said he understood the warship program to be submitted to congress next year omitted provision for further capital ships, for the first time since 1936.

The keels of four new battleships have been laid, and four others have been ordered. In addition, the navy some time ago had evinced an intention to ask funds to begin work on two ships of the 45,000 ton Iowa and New Jersey, which are among the four ordered but not yet started. However, the crowded conditions of shipyards indicated that the two sister ships could not be started for at least a year, even if congress voted funds.

Navy Day Observed.

The navy, busy with expansion and the neutrality patrol, all but ignored the eighteenth annual Navy day celebration today. Contrary to precedent, warships and shore stations were closed to visitors.

"The most promising way to preserve our peace lies in the ability to defend our sea frontiers," Mr. Roosevelt said in a Navy day letter to acting Secretary Charles Edison.

"That peace we shall strive to maintain by all honorable and advanced means. With the world in arms, this country is compelled as never before to maintain an adequate and positive defense."

APPEALS COURT RESERVES RULING IN MANTON CASE

New York, Oct. 27 [Special].—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, specially constituted to hear the most unusual case in American legal history, reserved decision this afternoon on the appeal of Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the court, from a conviction of conspiring to sell justice and to defraud the government of his impartial services.

In Manton's former chair sat Justice Harlan F. Stone of the United States Supreme court. Beside him sat Justice George Sutherland of the same court, called out of retirement for this unusual duty by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

On the other side sat the only local judge eligible to hear the case, Charles E. Clark, former Yale law school dean, who was appointed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals after Manton had resigned.

Failure of this appeal may forecast, in the opinion of lawyers, a failure before the Supreme court. And that will mean that Manton will be taken to a federal penitentiary for two years and will be forced to pay a fine of $10,000.

GIVES U. S. ARMY RAY TO EXPLODE POWDER DUMPS

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 27 (AP).—Secret details of a "detonator" ray, declared capable of exploding gasoline and ammunition two miles away, were submitted to war department representatives today for tests.

The sponsor is Otto H. Mohr, elderly Oakland inventor, who said his process dealt "in part" with gamma and beta rays and that, as yet, he had found no way of controling the direction of the beam. Lieut. Col. Roland W. Pinger, army ordnance officer to whom Mohr submitted the matter, will make his report to the war department.

Beta rays are streams of electrons. They cannot travel far thru the air. The gamma ray is something like the X-ray but of shorter wave lengths and is the most penetrating of radioactive emanations. In ordinary use its range, also, is limited.

Mohr came upon the phenomenon accidentally while experimenting with one of his many inventions designed to harness the power of the sun. Its first effect, he said, was to explode a number of rifle cartridges stored nearby. He tried it on a small quantity of gasoline several hundred feet away, and the liquid fuel also exploded. He suggested it might be utilized to explode fuel and ammunition stores "within a radius of a few miles." If directional control can be achieved, it thus might be used against enemy supplies or even hostile aircraft.

NAVY DAY PARADE THRILLS 6,500 AT TRAINING STATION

Air Maneuvers and Drills Mark Observance.

A column of 850 white and blue clad recruits drilling in the chill air at the Great Lakes Naval Training station was the high point of Navy day in Chicago yesterday.

Rear Admiral W. C. Watts.

The celebration—the navy's greatest in the central west—included mock dive bombing and flight maneuvers by three navy biplanes over Chicago and Great Lakes, and exhibitions of navy equipment before 9,000 visitors at the navy station and thruout the city.

The training station was open to the public for the first time since the declaration of a limited national emergency in September. Approximately 6,500 persons took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the hospital, the barracks, and equipment, and to watch a parade at 3 p. m. to the music of a sixty piece navy band—all this despite a morning drizzle and a raw breeze that followed. The parade was reviewed by Rear Admiral W. C. Watts, commander of the station, and others.

School Children Attend.

Many of the visitors were school children and their teachers.

The day's demonstration in Chicago centered in the Naval armory on the lake shore opposite Randolph street, where the largest gunboat in the navy, the 2,600 ton U. S. S. Wilmette, was on display. It was inspected by 2,000 visitors. At noon and at 3 p. m. a fast flying naval squadron of biplanes dived in mock attack upon Navy pier.

Recruits Put Thru Drills.

The afternoon's activities took many forms, including flag dedications in several schools, speeches, and lunch club meetings.

Among spectacular demonstrations at the Great Lakes station were a boathouse drill, a man-overboard drill, boat maneuvering by signal flag control, knot tying and splicing, and exhibits of such things as torpedoes, naval field guns, machine guns, shells, sail rigs, diving gear, emergency field radio equipment, hammock stowage, and sea bags.

The Navy Council of Illinois gave a banquet in the Palmer House last night for Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, former commander of the United States Asiatic fleet.

EX-SUITOR SLASHES WOMAN.

Miss Lorraine Simpson, 29 years old, a manicure, was cut on the face last night by a man whom she described as a former suitor. The attack occurred near her home at 6139 Ellis avenue.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON PLAYS HIDE AND SEEK WITH CLOUDY CHICAGO

The eclipse of the moon played hide and seek with Chicagoans last night. Clouds obscured the vision during its early phases but cleared sufficiently at near totality to allow an excellent view with the naked eye.

In New York, where clouds also obscured vision, the Hayden planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History, planned to send photographers in airplanes above the heavy clouds.

Astronomers had calculated that phases of the eclipse would be visible thruout most of the world, providing skies were clear. The moon entered the earth's shadow at 9:41 p. m., with the mideclipse [99.2 per cent complete] occurring at 12:26 a. m. today. The next eclipse will not occur until March 13, 1941.

CAVALRY RACES ACROSS COUNTRY TO OUTFLANK FOE

Balmorhea, Tex., Oct. 27 [Special].—One of the most spectacular maneuvers of the current war games here was a dash of United States cavalrymen yesterday in storming "enemy" infantrymen at the base of Davis mountain about 30 miles west of Balmorhea.

The motorized 9th infantry had flanked the 1st Cavalry division on a 100 mile circuit during the night. Taken by surprise at the rear attack, the horse cavalry quickly deployed and circled the infantry position.

The horsemen cut a dashing figure as they raced across open ground to outflank and surround the infantrymen. However, the umpires ruled the situation a stalemate because the infantry, altho outnumbered, was equipped with new semiautomatic rifles while the horsemen's commanding position was minimized by their obsolete Springfield rifles.

Fireman's Prompt Action Prevents Theater Panic

Prompt action by William Lamprecht, 3057 North Christiana avenue, a city fireman, averted a possible panic in the Logan theater, 2648 Milwaukee avenue, last night after smoke caused by a short circuit in an exhaust fan had spread thru the house. Some of the 800 persons in the theater began leaving hurriedly. Lamprecht, who is attached to ladder truck 25, arose from his seat. "I'm a city fireman," he shouted, displaying his badge. "There's no need for alarm. Everybody remain seated." His advice was followed.

The oldest, Beatrix, was born on Jan. 31, 1938, and the youngest, Irene, was born on last Aug. 5.

More than 2,000 fathers and sons are expected to attend the first father and son banquet sponsored by the Chicago Urban league at the Savoy ballroom, 47th street and South Park way, tonight.

PICKET TO MAKE GIRL JOIN UNION; SHE AND DAD SUE

Herman Kuehnle and his daughter, Gertrude, filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday for an injunction to restrain the Retail Clerks' union from picketing the Kuehnle meat market at 1523 West 79th street.

In his bill Kuehnle related that pickets had been in front of his place since Oct. 19 in an effort to force his daughter, who is also his cashier, to become a member of the union. He added that all other employés are members of another union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The clerks' union is also A. F. of L.

Miss Kuehnle asserted she didn't want to join the clerks' organization and her father said he wouldn't try to persuade her to do so.

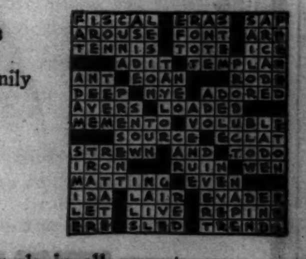
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



NOTE: This is a regular crossword puzzle in all respects excepting in the diagram, which is "patternless," that is, all black squares and all numbers, except No. 1, have been omitted so that you do not know how many letters any word contains until you have done a little experimenting. To solve, proceed in the usual manner, placing a black square at the end of each word and penciling in the numerals to correspond with the numbers of the definitions.

TACKLE PROGRAM TO GIVE CHICAGO NEW INDUSTRIES

A. of C. Executive Begins Survey of Problems.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

New industries and pay rolls are the first items in the Greater Chicago Plan which experts began to tackle yesterday. Leverett S. Lyon, new chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, which has raised $500,000 to back the plan this year, has been here during the week. He has been quietly looking the ground over, starting his research into the problems of Chicago's business. Lyon was joined yesterday by E. P. Querl of Los Angeles, who has been chosen to head the industrial division of the Greater Chicago Plan.

Lyon, a native of Will county, has been executive vice president of the Brookings institution, Washington, a foremost organization in economic research. He is an authority on commodity distribution.

Querl from Los Angeles.

Querl for 17 years has been head of the industrial development division of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He has been credited with persuading airplane and automobile companies to start plants in Los Angeles, bringing millions in pay rolls into southern California. His job will be to make contacts with business concerns that may establish factories, branches, warehouses or sales offices in Chicago.

The staff at association headquarters is to be increased. A survey is to be made of the entire Chicago industrial district and a selling force of experts is to be equipped to explain Chicago's industrial advantages to industrial concerns thruout the country.

While Chicago has been losing industries some other cities have been gaining. The association displays figures showing what alert cities can do in bringing in new industries. In the Chicago industrial area the federal census bureau says, the number of plants in 1935 was 9,302, but in 1937 it had dropped to 9,019, a loss of 283.

Other Cities Show Gains.

Meanwhile some other cities were gaining. Boston increased its count during the same two years by 239, Dallas by 54, Los Angeles added 143, Pittsburgh gained 114, San Francisco, despite its labor troubles, increased by 128.

Calling attention to these figures, the Greater Chicago Plan experts say:

"Chicago must have more new industries. More industries mean more pay rolls. More pay rolls mean more homes and more trade. This means better living and a thriving community."

In giving its appraisal of Chicago's assets and liabilities as a center of manufacturing and trade the Greater Chicago Plan, in a preview booklet, sets forth that no other city has more to offer the industrialist than Chicago. It is supreme in transportation—the crossroads of the continent. And with this is a great diversity of man power, availability of raw materials, facilities for distribution, and freedom from serious labor disorders.

Factory Buildings Available.

"While Chicago lags," says the book, "other cities gain factories, warehouses, and branch offices. Chicago today has dozens of sizable vacant factory buildings and warehouses begging for wage paying tenants. It has more than 100 square miles of well located, but idle, industrial property.

"Just as Chicago can be made the airplane manufacturing center of the map, so it offers boundless possibilities to other lines of manufacture."

The building construction industry, now stagnant, is the next major item in the program of building up the city's pay rolls. In 1938, 37 other metropolitan centers, all but one smaller than Chicago, surpassed this city in volume of construction expenditures. They built new skyscrapers, factories, homes; reduced unemployment, collected back taxes.

Last year the per capita expenditure for new building in Chicago was $8.17. In Houston, Tex., it ran up to $63.50; in Los Angeles, $48.93; in New York, $44.71; in Detroit, $43.45; in San Francisco, $33.92; in Buffalo, $12.84, in Milwaukee, $10.69.

Taxes Dampen Building.

Chicago taxes are a weight on the building industry, exemplified by the growth of new building in the suburbs. One proposal is the creation of a civic affairs division and council, staffed by specialists and equipped with a municipal research bureau. Its aim is to get the greatest value possible from the tax dollar, and to reduce cost of living.

Other main proposals are a concerted drive to bring more buyers to Chicago, to expand foreign trade. A calendar of special sports events is to be arranged to bring more tourists and visitors to Chicago. A division is to be set up to inspect and report on legislative proposals at Springfield and Washington.

As the convention capital of America, with a million delegates coming here yearly and leaving more than 50 million dollars in Chicago cash registers, one proposal is for a modern exposition hall. The Greater Chicago Plan advocated the remodeling of Navy Pier into a hall which would attract trade shows.

Mrs. Ethel Joy, who died mysteriously; and her husband, Gaynor D. Joy, who was questioned.

Atlantic City, N. Y., Oct. 27 [Special].—Gaynor Donald Joy, 33 years old, son of A. R. Joy, treasurer of Cluett, Peabody & Co., Troy, N. Y., was held for questioning today after the death of Mrs. Ethel Joy, 32, in a hospital here.

Joy was found walking along a street more than 24 hours after his wife was found unconscious on the floor of her bedroom. She died early today, leaving authorities uncertain as to whether she committed suicide or died of injuries received in a beating.

Analysis of a half-empty bottle of mouth wash found beside her revealed a small quantity of poison, authorities said. Marks on her body, according to police, indicated she might have been beaten or injured in a fall.

19 DAIRIES SUE TO ENJOIN STATE ON MILK LABELS

Suit to enjoin the state health department from forbidding the labeling of their dairy products grade A was filed in the Circuit court yesterday in behalf of 19 suburban dairies. The suit grew out of a recent order that the dairies involved, and others, cease labeling their milk grade A until farms supplying them with milk could be shown to have complied with sanitation requirements of the recently adopted grade A law.

Attorneys W. H. Sloan and W. A. Leopold, representing the Suburban Milk Dealers' association, said several of the plaintiff dairies already had met the requirements and been granted permission to continue use of the grade A label. The group will act as a unit, however, until all members have been given time to meet the new standards. The bill alleged it is impossible for the dairies to do so on such short notice. It also charged that it believes there is a conspiracy between certain officials and several larger dairies to ruin the small dairies' business.

The Pure Milk association said that most of the 54 dairies in Cook and Du Page counties served by their members also had been ordered to drop the grade A label, at least temporarily. This does not include dairies in Chicago.

MILK PRICE RULE BY GOVERNMENT CALLED FAILURE

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 27 (AP).—The government's artificial fixing of prices paid to farmers for fluid milk is not helping farmers or consumers as intended, W. A. Wentworth, secretary of the dairy industry committee, said today.

Wentworth told the International Association of Milk Dealers' convention that economic consequences of milk price-fixing have tended to reduce the farmer's volume of sales of milk used for cooking and drinking.

He said consumers were turning to milk in forms that bring farmers less money because of the artificially fixed higher prices paid to farmers for fluid milk.

8,000 DOCTORS TO HEAR LATEST MEDICAL NEWS

Will Attend School for a Week in Chicago.

Dr. George W. Crile.

School opens Monday in Chicago for 8,000 physicians and surgeons of the United States and Canada. Eighty distinguished teachers and clinical experts will be on hand at 8 a. m. in the Palmer House to give them an intensive course of study for one week.

From 8 a. m. until 11 p. m. each day lectures and demonstrations will follow one after the other with interruptions only for meals and for review of scientific and commercial exhibits.

The physicians are coming to Chicago to attend the 24th international medical assembly of the Interstate Postgraduate Medical Association of North America. Most of the students will be on hand early to participate in the special surgical clinics at the city's leading hospitals and the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium today. The Chicago Medical association is host to the assembly, with Dr. Robert H. Hayes, chairman of the general committee.

Tells Aims of Assembly.

The object of the assembly, as outlined by Dr. William B. Peck of Freeport, Ill., the managing director, is to give the doctors the latest and best in medical science so that they may return to their communities and give them the benefit of the newest advances in medicine.

Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland is president of the association. He is expected to contribute to the discussion of vascular and circulatory surgery, a subject of intense interest because of its possibilities in the relief of high blood pressure.

Sulfanilimide and its compounds will come in for much discussion. This new remedy for pneumonia and forms of blood poisoning will be carefully examined. The doctors will receive guidance on how to use it.

Child Welfare Problems.

There are many new aspects of child and maternal welfare to be considered. Great advances have been made in this branch of medicine lately, Dr. Hayes said.

The new shock therapy involving use of various medical products is certain to get emphasis, he said. A typical application is that of insulin in cases of paresis. Shock therapy is now generally used in institutions for mental cases, he said. The subject of hormones and gland therapy also will get attention.

Among the experts to contribute to the assembly will be Dr. Chevalier Jackson, president-elect of the association, a pioneer in the use of instruments to remove objects swallowed or inhaled; Dr. Nathan B. Van Etten, president elect of the American Medical association; Dr. Nathan S. Davis III., president of the Chicago Medical society; Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, veteran obstetrician. Scores of others on the program are the premier men in various fields of medicine and surgery.

New York City Lacks $212 to Pay for Two Typewriters

FATHER OPPOSES NAZI INFLUENCE AND WINS SON

Hellmut Stolle does not want his son, Ernest, 3 years old, subjected to Nazi influences. When he was in court a month ago, Stolle said his estranged wife, Hildegarde, 25, was teaching the child to say "Heil Hitler" in her parents' home at 5857 Dakin street, and that she was taking the child to German bund picnics. Stolle said he feared she would take Ernest to Germany to live.

Stolle asked for the boy in habeas corpus proceedings yesterday. Judge Harry Fisher held that the father is better able financially to care for the boy in his home at 1946 Nelson street, and that the mother is unable to give her full time to his care. Over the tearful protest of Mrs. Stolle, the judge awarded the boy to the father, but told the mother she might reopen the case when she is better able to care for her son.

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations intended to be of value to those it seeks to serve.

WHEN THE TELEPHONE RINGS (2)

By CALEB

THE WORD "efficiency" has just ten letters—and efficient use of the telephone, under any and all conditions, has just ten little commandments profitable even to the running reader. Simple and obvious—yes. Yet the decalogue that follows is one whose provisions are violated in some particular by almost every phone-user. . . .

1. Answer the call promptly. How many times have you called a number, heard the receiver unhooked—then listened, maybe for minutes, to innumerable neighborhood noises, until the callee finally got around to saying "Hello"?

2. Identify yourself. Merely answering "Hello" doesn't do it for the caller—he may not always be your friend Bill, instantly familiar with your voice. "Mr. Carter speaking," if it's Carter at Carter's phone. Or "Mr. Carter's phone, Mr. Brown speaking," if it isn't. Saves time, temper and a possible bad impression all around.

3. Listen attentively. The same as you would in face-to-face talk. If you're half-listening, and asking things over, "favorable" is hardly the word for the impression at the other end!

4. If it's something important, write it down. Just as you would otherwise, for future correct reference. Yet how many of us forget this simple point!

5. Speak clearly and naturally. Vital. Sound alert; articulate distinctly; don't use a mumbling or high-pitched, artificial tone of voice. Just remember to be yourself.

6. Talk into the transmitter. Not at it. The transmitter is actually your listener's ear—he hears only what it hears.

7. Replace the receiver gently. You wouldn't slam the door on a visitor—why on a telephone caller? You may also injure the instrument, or leave it so that the phone is out of service.

8. Return calls promptly. You don't know how important they may have been. Also it's a mark of business breeding and appreciation.

9. Don't get impatient. Operators are sometimes momentarily "swamped," and therefore can't answer your flash immediately.

10. Cultivate a welcome voice. If yours is one of those harsh, thin, raspy, nervous voices—smooth it out, tone it down, make it persuasive and pleasing. On the telephone, your voice, and your voice only, is YOU.

MANTENO QUIZ AGAIN DELAYED BY PROSECUTOR

52 State Hospital Deaths Still Go Unexplained.

State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee county, who has been promising all week to launch an investigation into the typhoid epidemic at the Manteno State hospital, delayed action again yesterday. Trial of a criminal case engaged his entire attention. Fifty-two patients have died of typhoid in the institution and 305 still are ill.

Shapiro said last night he will question witnesses today. He has asked three persons to report to his office this afternoon. At least one of these, an employé at Manteno, is expected to supply valuable information, the prosecutor said. Shapiro said he would begin questioning physicians at the hospital on Monday.

Shapiro added that he had not yet received from Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, managing officer of the hospital, and A. L. Bowen, director of the state welfare department, records relating to state health department warnings over a period of eight years that the water from wells at Manteno was unfit for use. He said these were expected soon.

No Further Typhoid Deaths.

Dr. Hinton said there had been no new typhoid deaths and that only five or six of the 305 isolated patients were in serious condition.

Dr. Hinton said there still is only one known case of amebic dysentery in the hospital. Twenty other patients, however, are isolated and under suspicion of having dysentery in some form. One patient has died from the amebic type.

The hospital has 52 cottage type buildings and covers 1,220 acres of ground. It is one of nine state institutions for insane or feeble-minded persons, and at present houses 5,275 patients and 875 employés. Dr. Hinton said that in normal times the number of employés is between 770 and 780, of whom about 550 are attendants and 22 nurses. There are 21 physicians.

The majority of the hospital land was purchased in 1928. Construction of the institution began in 1929. The hospital opened in 1931 with 841 patients. Dr. Hinton was transferred from the Elgin State hospital to be managing officer.

Dr. Hinton said 11 and a half million dollars had been invested to date in grounds, buildings, and equipment. In normal times about 250 patients are admitted each month, of whom about 15 per cent are alcoholics. There also are a few drug addicts. All inmates are classified as insane. Most of them come from Cook county. At present there are very few admissions because of the epidemic.

Pay $655,000 in Salaries.

Dr. Hinton said the hospital budget from July 1, 1939, to June 30 of next year called for $655,000 in salaries, $620,000 for operating costs, including clothing, food, heat, water, and household needs, and $94,000 for repairs and equipment, including salaries for mechanics. All other needs amount to somewhat less than $100,000, he said.

The amount spent yearly for medical and surgical supplies is between 25 and 30 thousand dollars, he said. Clothing, about half of which is furnished by relatives, costs between 50 and 60 thousand dollars, and the annual food bill is about $475,000. Some food is grown at the hospital.

Director Bowen said there were beds for 7,300 patients at Manteno and that it is planned to increase the capacity to 10,000.

LYONS BLAMES TYPHOID SCOURGE ON GOV. HORNER

Responsibility for the conditions at the Manteno State hospital, where a typhoid epidemic has taken 52 lives, was laid at Gov. Horner's feet last night by Richard J. Lyons, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Lyons addressed the Cicero Republican organization in the Warren Park community house, 16th street and 57th avenue, Cicero.

"Never before have the people had to pay so much or have been forced to endure such inefficiency and stupid, not to say venal and corrupt, management of state affairs and public institutions as under the present administration," said Lyons.

"Responsibility for the shocking conditions at Manteno, the parole scandals, the desperate situation which confronts hundreds, if not thousands, of relief clients who are said to be facing actual starving, does not rest alone upon those in immediate charge of the state agencies involved. The real responsibility rests upon the governor.

"The incompetency, stupidity and carelessness of these minor officials must rest upon the one who put them on the payrolls. They are his agents. For their efficiency he is entitled to blame or credit."

Stewart was fatally injured Oct. 2 when he was struck by Piccariello's car while riding his bicycle at 60th street and Wentworth avenue.

U. S. AGENTS PUSH QUIZ OF "ISM" GROUPS IN CITY

Government investigators were busy yesterday looking for evidence of subversive activities in Chicago by Fascist, Nazi, and communist organizations. The search was started Thursday, and followed a similar investigation conducted previously by the Dies congressional committee.

United States Attorney William J. Campbell said that no "witch hunt" was contemplated, but that he wanted to learn whether political groups have been violating federal laws. Some of the investigators talked with five members of the Silver Shirts, who were arrested for tossing bricks into department store windows. The Silver Shirts are anti-Semitic. Lieut. Make Mills of the Chicago police described the organization as unimportant.

"It has about 40 members," he said. "They meet in their own homes except when national officers come in. Then they try to hire a hall. They are a bunch of chumps looking for publicity."

MAYOR PRAISES BOY AID GROUP AT INDUCTION

Mayor Kelly attended the induction ceremonies last night for the newly elected officials of the Boys Brotherhood Republic in their headquarters at 1530 South Hamlin avenue. The Answers.

William F. Foy, salesman, 1401 Olive street—He ought to resign or take the administration of state hospitals out of politics. This is another example of political appointees disgracing the state by neglecting their duties until great tragedy results.

Miss Evelyn Lusk, dressmaker, 1707 Crilly court—He should whitewash the situation so that the system of filling jobs in state institutions thru political patronage may be preserved for his friends who bring in the votes for his reëlection next fall.

Peter Mussar, barber, 168 North avenue—He should completely reorganize the Manteno hospital, and give it a new management. The previous management was guilty of neglect of duty in permitting water contamination to exist in the institution.

Miss Dora Smith, 246 South Maple avenue, Oak Park—This disgraceful situation should be remedied by appointing executives who are interested in doing their jobs and not merely in holding them. The governor should find capable nonpolitical men.

Morris Siegel, cashier, 1324 South Harding avenue—A complete investigation should be made to find just where the fault lies. It's a shame nothing was done before so many people had to die. To prevent such things more competent employés should be selected.

CYCLIST, 86, OUT FOR HIS HEALTH, HIT BY CAR; DIES

William C. Bailey.

William C. Bailey, 86 years old, who learned to ride a bicycle after he was 80, was injured fatally near his home in Underhill, Vt., a few days ago, according to word received yesterday by Chicago relatives and friends. Mr. Bailey rode to Chicago from Underhill — 1,028 miles — in July, 1937. He required only 18 riding days. He took up cycling as a health measure, and had ridden some 20,000 miles. His old age hobby led to his death. He was struck down by an automobile while he was on his bicycle.

13 Slot Machines Seized by State Police Downstate

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27 (AP).—Illinois state highway police, renewing their campaign against slot machines, seized 13 of the devices in raids last night in the East St. Louis area. Police Chief Walter Williams said the machines were confiscated in five taverns, and the raids are the first by state police in downstate Illinois since early June. At that time a series of raids were made in La Salle and Du Page counties. A number of confiscations have since been made in Cook county, however. As a result of the earlier raids Attorney General John E. Cassidy filed with the state liquor commission formal protests against retail liquor license renewals for taverns where the machines were taken. The commission held hearings a month ago but has not yet announced decisions.

CAR CATAPULTS ACROSS RIVER; THREE INJURED

Three men were injured last night when their automobile, traveling at high speed, crashed thru an iron fence at the north branch of the Chicago river and catapulted more than 45 feet from one bank of the river to the other. It cleared the water, which is 15 feet deep at that point.

The scene of the crash was in Foster avenue, about 200 feet east of Pulaski road. Those injured are Carl Larson, 30 years old, 1410 Massasoit avenue; Ernol Lee, 28, of 145 West Burton place, and Michael Hojnacki, 51, of 5660 Gunnison street. They are in the Swedish-Covenant hospital. All are glass finishers.

The three, with Lee at the wheel, were driving west in Foster avenue. Near the bridge Lee tried to pass the car of M. K. Soper, 6114 Newberg avenue. Lee lost control. The car went into the shoulder of the road and crashed thru a side railing parallel with the river. The car went over the bank and crashed on the opposite side.

Miss Alyce Johnson, 30 years old, 5901 Fillmore street, was injured when her automobile collided at Monroe street with a Clark street trolley. She was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 703 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 544 were killed in Chicago, where 18,188 were injured in the same period.

KNEW MRS. JUDD PLANNED FLIGHT, SAYS EX-PASTOR

She Told Him Weeks Ago, G-Men Advised.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 27 [Special].—A retired minister was questioned by police and federal agents here today after he walked into a local newspaper office and said he knew five weeks ago of plans for the escape of Winnie Ruth Judd, trunk slayer of two women, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Judd has been a fugitive since Tuesday night when she fled from the State Hospital for the Insane at Phoenix. She is under sentence to be hanged if she ever is found sane.

Identity Withheld.

Authorities refused to give the name of the man, but it was reported he formerly had been pastor of a church in Phoenix. He is now said to live on a farm outside of Peoria.

He purported to be well acquainted with Mrs. Judd and said she told him five weeks ago of a plan to run away. Phoenix authorities, who wired Peoria police to question the man, said he was one of a delegation of preachers who recently asked the Arizona state board of pardons and paroles regarding Mrs. Judd's status.

"Interrogate him fully upon all facts surrounding her escape," Joe Conway, attorney general of Arizona, telegraphed Peoria police. "If possible, have a court reporter take a statement in full."

Authorities in Peoria did not hold the former minister after questioning him.

Escape Plot Traced.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 27 [Special].—The belief that Winnie Ruth Judd escaped from the state insane asylum by means of a plot in which she had outside assistance was expressed today by investigators.

Gov. Bob Jones' secretary, Y. C. White, who is directing the investigation, said it is obvious the slayer had help in her midnight flight. He expressed the opinion she had assistance both inside and outside the institution.

Sheriff Lon Jordan and deputy searched the home of Mrs. Judd's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, as a precautionary measure. Mrs. McKinnell said her daughter's escape had further impaired the health of the Rev. Mr. McKinnell, who has been seriously ill and bedridden for months.

Governor's Theory.

"I wouldn't say any of her friends were hiding her," Gov. Jones said in San Francisco, "but I believe some of them could say where she is."

Meantime, Dr. Louis J. Saxe, superintendent of the state hospital, reported that an effort was made last July to kidnap Mrs. Judd. He would not elaborate on the charge but indicated his belief that it was a political move to embarrass him and the administration of Gov. Jones.

TRUSTY WHO FLED INDIANA PRISON IN 1934 CAPTURED

Leland Everett Phillips, Indiana state prison trusty who in 1934 walked away from the Warren, Ind., prison farm where he was serving a life term for murder, is under arrest in Newport, Ky., Michigan City prison officials were notified yesterday.

Using the name of John Long, Phillips was arrested in Newport three weeks ago on a charge of larceny. A study of his finger prints at the federal bureau of investigation in Washington disclosed his identity. Prison officials said he would be returned to the Michigan City penitentiary on Monday. Phillips was first sent to prison from Wayne county, Ind., in 1926.

BANDIT'S KILLING OF GIRL, 9, IS HELD MYSTERY BY JURY

A coroner's jury held yesterday that Jacqueline Neville, 9 years old, 4201 Lowe avenue, was the victim of murder by an unidentified person or persons.

Jacqueline was struck Oct. 6, while she was playing near her home, by a bullet fired by a robber who was attempting to hold up two insurance collectors. Two of her small companions, Geraldine Brankin, 12, and Loretta O'Brien, 9, were among the witnesses at the inquest.

Lieut. Joseph C. Wilimovsky Jr., ballistics expert, testified that the bullet had been fired from a pistol found on the body of John McGuire, an escaped convict who was slain Oct. 7 in a battle with police.

JUNKYARD OWNER ACQUITTED.

Isadore Starkman, 45 years old, owner of a junkyard at 1154 Hastings street, was acquitted of a charge of buying stolen property yesterday by a jury before Judge Michael Feinberg. Starkman was accused of purchasing $2,000 worth of stolen copper cable. He denied knowing it was stolen.

REPORT DOOMED POLICE KILLER OF 1927 IS IN MEXICO

Chicago authorities were notified yesterday that a man believed to be Bernardo Roa, a Mexican, who escaped from the Will county jail in 1927 while awaiting execution, is under surveillance in Puchuca, Mexico.

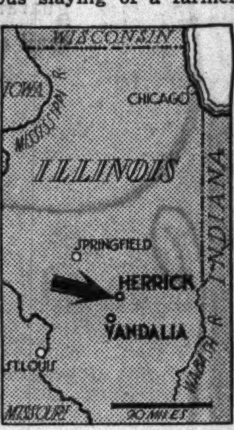
Bernardo Roa.

Copies of Roa's fingerprints and pictures were immediately sent to Mexican authorities with the request that they arrest the man if he proves to be Roa.

Roa, who was serving a life term for murder, and six other convicts fled from the Joliet penitentiary in 1926 after killing a deputy warden. All were recaptured, convicted of murder, and sentenced to hang. On March 12, 1927, Roa and two companions broke out of the Will county jail. His companions were captured, but Roa escaped after killing a Chicago policeman.

SHOTGUN BLAST KILLS FARMER; WIDOW QUIZZED

Vandalia, Ill., Oct. 27 [Special].—The mysterious slaying of a farmer as he lay in bed in his home today climaxed a series of violent and legal troubles that recently have involved his middle aged wife.



Arrow points to town where slaying occurred.

The victim was Harvey Cokenower, 52 years old, who lived with his wife, Florence, 49 years old, on a farm near Herrick, about 25 miles northeast of here. He was fatally wounded by a blast of shotgun slugs, apparently fired thru the window of his bedroom.

Mrs. Cokenower said she was in the kitchen cooking breakfast when she heard the shot. Her husband called to her, she said, but by the time she reached his side he was unable to talk. He died a few minutes later.

Officers questioned Mrs. Cokenower, who is under indictment on a charge of using a shotgun on one of her neighbors. She is scheduled to go on trial in the Fayette county Circuit court on Nov. 6 on a charge of assault with intent to kill Charles Sarver, a well-to-do farmer whom she accused of raping her.

JAIL FATHER, SON IN MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FRAUD

A father and son were sentenced yesterday to 90 days in jail on a charge of obtaining $3,000 from a mother and daughter by selling stock in violation of the so-called blue sky regulations.

The men are James Smith, 55 years old, and Robertson Smith, 28, partners in a loop advertising firm. The women are Mrs. Ida Anderson and her daughter, Lucile, 25 years old, of 479 Ridgewood avenue, Glen Ellyn, the suburb in which the Smiths live. Miss Anderson told Judge Albert E. Isley of Newton, who heard the case without a jury in county court, that she had been engaged to the younger Smith, but that he broke the engagement after she and her mother had bought $3,000 worth of stock in his agency and lent the Smiths $2,500 more. Nathan Kinnally and John Phillips, assistant state's attorneys, said the stock was not qualified with the state security commission.

Board Frees 163

Paroles for 163 prisoners in the state's penal institutions were ordered yesterday by the Illinois parole board. Eighty were convicted in the Cook county Criminal court.

Two of those who will be released are Thomas Shannon and Michael Quarrato, convicted of robbery in 1934 and sentenced to one to 20 years. They were members of a band of seven bandits who robbed more than 100 victims. Another prisoner to be paroled is Ace Melville who was accused of 75 robberies when arrested in 1929. He received a sentence of one year to life.

Salvatore Valenza, who has served two years of a five year sentence for bigamy, will be paroled if the immigration authorities wish to deport him. He married two cousins. Kenneth Johanson, a 16 year old student at the Lakeview High school when he was sentenced to serve one to 20 years for robbery in 1936, also will be freed. He and two other students robbed a score of victims.

Statistics released by parole authorities show that the number of Cook county parolees from Joliet, Stateville, and Pontiac prisons for the first nine months of the years since 1930 range a low of 229 in 1938 to a high of 935 in 1936. For the first nine months this year 436 Cook county parolees have been freed from prison.

ALIEN PAROLEE OPPOSES MOVE TO DEPORT HIM

Federal Judge John P. Barnes issued a writ of habeas corpus yesterday in behalf of Carmen Calcagno, 21 years old, a paroled convict whom the department of immigration is seeking to deport to Italy. The writ was made returnable on Nov. 6.

Calcagno, whose home is at 1109 South Racine avenue, was born in Naples and brought here when less than 2 years old. His father never was naturalized and his mother, Caroline, has only her first papers. Calcagno was sentenced to Pontiac reformatory six years ago on a charge of purse snatching and was paroled Oct. 20. Immigration authorities seized him and placed him in the county jail.

Attorney Anthony Champagne, representing the young man, said that he had paid his debt to society and wished to become a citizen. He added that Calcagno had no ties in Italy. His plea was backed by Miss Jessie Binford of the Juvenile Protective association and Attorney Helen Perry of the Immigrants' Protective association.

PURSUE CLEANUP OF KANSAS CITY, U. S. JURY URGES

Much Is Yet to Be Done, Report Says.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27 (AP).—A challenge to Kansas City to carry on the fight against its "octopus-like" machine was sounded today by Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves and the grand jury which sent Boss Tom Pendergast to prison.

Giving the 21 grand jurors their honorable discharge from duties begun last January, Judge Reeves declared a reign of terror had been halted but the task is not yet finished.

The jurors, reviewing their attack on the organization they said protected gambling, vice, and racketeering of every kind, declared the opening wedge has been driven deeply but much information remains on which federal officials may base further investigation.

Two Arraigned on Charges.

As the jury made its final report the last two Pendergast lieutenants to feel its force were arraigned on income tax evasion charges. They were Matthew S. Murray, former state WPA director, and Otto P. Higgins, resigned director of Kansas City police.

Already in prison as a result of the jury's investigation besides Pendergast are R. Emmet O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, and Charles V. Carollo, collector for the gambling syndicate. All were sentenced for income tax evasion.

Pendergast came first, the jury said, because the only solution offered for breaking the machine's strangle hold was to go directly to the source of trouble.

Judge Agrees with Jury.

At the machine's door the jury laid responsibility for rottenness of conditions "under which individuals, and business firms as well, were afraid to oppose the machine for fear of being run out of business, closed up, intimidated in various ways, and even afraid of their lives." The judge concurred.

Only a few hours after the jury charged that the old Kansas City police force was in the hands of the machine and dominated by one of the lieutenants, the new chief of police, L. B. Reed, a former FBI agent named by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark as the state took control, described the force he inherited as a web of corruption.

"We found among other things," the chief told a business men's group, "a list of names of certain men not to be arrested under any circumstances."

Two Jailed as Card Sharps; Hotel Guests Are Fleeced

Two men were under arrest last night at the detective bureau as suspected card sharps. They are George Curtis, 49 years old, and Charles Morton, 38. Sergts. John Warren and John Griffiths said they answer the descriptions of two men who have been operating in loop hotels. A week ago John McGee of Philadelphia told police he lost $90 to two men in a game termed Cubanola. Previously George Beaty of Beaumont, Tex., complained he had been fleeced of $460 by two men.

PICKET STABBED AT STRIKE BOUND DODGE FACTORY

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 27 (AP).—A scuffle at the gates of Chrysler corporation's big Dodge plant, central point in the dispute with the C. I. O.-United Automobile workers which has tied up production for three weeks, resulted in the stabbing of a picket today and arrest of a plant janitor.

Witnesses said pickets protested to James Fulton, 34 years old, the janitor, against entering the plant, and in a brief fracas Joseph Vegella, 25, was stabbed in the left shoulder. Police held Fulton for investigation. Vegella was but slightly hurt.

Corporation and union meanwhile disagreed on their "real issue." K. T. Keller, president of the corporation, contended in a statement that the union "has one paramount objective: that is to make us a party to collecting union dues."

In reply, R. J. Thomas, U. A. W.-C. I. O. president, said the main issue was the union proposal for arbitration of any grievance on which corporation an union spokesmen cannot agree.

2 BOOKIES FAIL TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL; CONVICTED

When two defendants in a bookie gambling case failed to answer their court call yesterday Judge Stephen Adamowski in South State street court found them guilty of possessing gambling equipment and fined them $75 each. The defendants were George Mahoney and William Dawling. The judge based his conviction on the evidence of police who seized the men in an alleged gambling place at 5150 Division street. In addition Judge Adamowski issued warrants for their arrest on a charge of violating the state gambling laws. Attorney George Bieber who appeared as the judge was concluding the case, protested he had not heard the case called. His attempt to enter a motion to quash the evidence and the warrants was denied.

Police Study Bombing of Awning Firm's Entry

Police yesterday were investigating the explosion earlier in the day of a black powder bomb in the entrance to M. Mauritzon & Co., awning concern, at 407 Milwaukee avenue. The explosion caused damage estimated at $50. No one was hurt. Officials of the company could give no reason for the bombing. They said they had had no labor trouble.

END OF DEADLOCK ON STATE'S G.O.P. FUNDS IS LIKELY

Blackett Willing to Keep Out of National Drive.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The road to a peaceful termination of the three month deadlock over Republican party financing in Illinois was seen by party leaders yesterday in a statement issued by Hill Blackett, national committeeman.

The statement was contained in a telegram to THE TRIBUNE from Danville, Ill., where Blackett was engaged on organization matters. He said the Illinois Republican finance committee does not claim the right to raise money for the national committee. That committee is the one which the state central committee authorized him to create with himself as chairman.

If Blackett stands by that position, Chicago leaders said, he will be free to raise the money required for the operations of the state committee from now until the primary next April. The national committee, thru C. B. Goodspeed, national treasurer, will take care of Illinois' quota for the needs of the national organization.

National Group Asks $125,000.

Each of these amounts is relatively small. Blackett recently was instrumental in reducing the state committee's monthly budget to $1,590. The national committee has asked only $125,000 from Illinois toward wiping out a long standing deficit and pay its current expenses. Goodspeed is prepared to raise that amount in the state.

This limited fund raising omits all provision for collections after the primary in April and the national convention in June or July. That is because both state and national committees are expected to follow a hands-off policy until the nominations have been made. Thereafter they take charge of the campaigning and new funds are raised for that purpose.

Much of the confusion in connection with the deadlock has arisen because some of the disputants overlook the fact that the life of the present state committee expires next April, when a new committee will be elected by the Republican primary voters. And a new national committee will be set up at the national convention. The jurisdiction of the present organization machinery expires before election campaigning begins.

Plan Favored by Goodspeed.

National Treasurer Goodspeed consistently has favored what Committeeman Blackett now mentions as a way to break the deadlock. He has not opposed the state committee's raising its own funds thru Blackett or otherwise. When Blackett recently appealed to National Chairman John Hamilton in connection with the situation here, Hamilton stood squarely behind Goodspeed. He said so in his letter of reply to Blackett, the substance of which was published yesterday in a Washington, D. C., dispatch.

The essential parts of Blackett's telegram from Danville follow:

"All that the Republican Finance committee is trying to do is what all other progressive states are already doing and have been doing for some time. There is no other state in the Union where Republican finances are handled as they have been in Illinois. This is one of the main reasons Illinois has lagged behind other states in coming back to the fold.

"In regard to Mr. Hamilton's letter to me, I must say in justice to Mr. Hamilton that he did not take pride in the matter. Mr. Hamilton knows that this whole question is a state affair which should not be confused with the function of the national committee.

Same Treatment Asked.

"Let me repeat, the state organization is merely asking to be treated as state committees are treated in other states. I am supporting them because they are acting within their rights for the good of the party in Illinois.

"The Illinois state finance committee has never claimed the right to raise money for the national committee, but will gladly help if assistance is desired."

It was a letter sent out on the letterhead of the Illinois Republican Finance committee over the signature of Robert Hall McCormick as treasurer on Aug. 29 that said it was the committee's purpose to raise funds for the election of the nominees for national office as well as for state offices that precipitated the deadlock.

CONGRESS ASKS POLICE FOR NLRB STRIKE QUIZ AID

Captains commanding Chicago's police districts have received a set of questionnaires which they are requested to fill out for the information of a special house committee, headed by Congressman Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], which is investigating the National Labor Relations board.

The captains are to report separately on each strike in their districts since July 4, 1935. They are asked to tell of each request for police protection during labor disputes, and of the response. Also, they are to outline any forcible measures taken to quell disorders and to tell whether strikers were armed.

"Were any of the labor disputes in your jurisdiction which required police protection created by any activities of the NLRB?" was another question.

Wife Waits for 47 Years and Then Gets a Divorce

Mrs. Mary Henry, 72 years old, of 4035 Greenwood avenue, came to court yesterday with her attorney, A. A. Dobbs, to complain that George J. Henry had deserted her. She said she doesn't think he's coming back. Judge Oscar F. Nelson agreed with her and gave her a divorce, because it was in 1892 that Henry left her.

Model Wins Divorce

Because she is a model, Mrs. Eleanor Huntoon told Judge Cornelius J. Harrington yesterday, she thought she would be a model wife when she got married. So she increased the family income by modeling hats. But she had to work nights, she said, and Lloyd Huntoon didn't like that.

Mrs. Huntoon, who is 25 years old, said they quarreled and her husband beat her. Her sister, Madeline Madden, testified for her. Mrs. Huntoon got a divorce and $10 a week for her daughter, Judith, 2 years old, who lives with her at 530 Addison street.

ALDERMEN SEEK A SNOW PLOW FOR EACH WARD

25 More Are Needed, Says Lindell.

A snow plow for every ward. A subcommittee headed by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] made this recommendation yesterday to the city council finance committee. Lindell said the city has 43 snow plows and needs 25 more. He said only 27 of the present plows, which are scrapers that can be attached to trucks, are used in outlying districts. The others are needed in the downtown district or at the airport.

Water bills, if unpaid, may become liens on property. The council finance committee recommended an ordinance making water bills, delinquent four months or more, a property lien.

The council must have full power on all contracts awarded by the city, regardless of whether they are given to the lowest bidder, the finance committee decided. Since 1931 the council has permitted city department heads to complete contracts when awards were made to lowest bidders, without referring them to the finance committee. Yesterday a subcommittee suggested that contracts be returned to the committee on the ground the present system is illegal.

City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber was given authority by the finance committee to have 300,000 copies of the municipal traffic code printed for distribution. The printing will cost $3,875. Schreiber said he plans to distribute the code at the automobile show next month.

A request for $15,000 to finance special tests of soil pressures in the subway tunnels was approved. The tests are to determine the necessary thickness of walls of the subway while construction is under way.

SHUN WAR, KEEP LIBERTY, URGES ALFRED LANDON

Mount Vernon, Ia., Oct. 27 [Special]. —Dr. John Benjamin Magee was made eighth president of Cornell college here today with ceremonies featured with an inaugural address by Alfred Landon, Republican candidate for President in 1936. Mr. Landon asked the leadership of the country not to let Europe's war divert the country's attention from American problems.

Dr. Magee, former pastor of the First Methodist church in Seattle, Wash., was appointed head of the college last May. He succeeded Dr. H. J. Burgstahler who resigned to become president of Ohio Wesleyan university.

The nation's problems, with unemployment the chief one, Landon declared, would have the devastating social effect of war if a cure cannot soon be found. He asserted that while American ingenuity could find a way to solve the unemployment problem, yet nothing has yet been done except to coddle the unemployed with doles and temporary work projects.

PRESIDENT SAYS 'RULE OF REASON' IS UP TO SCHOOLS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—President Roosevelt charged the nation's schools tonight with the responsibility of teaching the coming generation to solve its problems in the democratic way, by the "rule of reason," rather than by force.

In a message for American education week, which will be observed Nov. 5-11, the President added the hope that "out of our schools may come a generation which can persuade a bleeding world to supplant force with reason."

American Education week is sponsored jointly by the National Education association, the American Legion, the United States office of education, and the National Congress for Parents and Teachers.

Fire Lieutenant Injured in Rescuing Man at Blaze

Lieut. John Enright of engine 17 suffered a possible ankle fracture last night when he fell while rescuing a man from a burning rooming house at 802 Lake street. About 35 roomers were routed, but the fire was confined and did only $200 damage. Lieut. Enright found Joseph Pliml, 60 years old, in a daze from smoke and was carrying him down the rear stairway when he tripped. He was taken to St. Anthony's hospital and Pliml went to the county hospital.

DIES, ATTACKED BY ROOSEVELT, STICKS TO GUNS

Resolved to Expose Reds in Key U. S. Posts.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—Accused by President Roosevelt of employing "sordid procedure," Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] of the house committee investigating un-American activities replied today that he was merely determined to expose "communists in key federal positions."

The exchange resulted from the Dies committee's act in making public the names of 563 government employés alleged to be on a membership and mailing list of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Dies has branded this league as a communist front organization, a charge denied by league officials.

When President Roosevelt was asked at his press conference for an expression of opinion, he called the committee action "sordid procedure," tho he said he was not familiar with details. Then he permitted reporters to quote his rebuking words directly, a thing he seldom does unless he wishes to emphasize a statement.

Dies Refuses to Yield.

But in the face of the criticism from the President, from some members of his committee, and from a sizable group of other house members, Dies stood his ground.

Addressing the New York City Federation of Women's clubs, the Texan declared:

"I know the federal government has communists in key positions and nothing will deter me from exposing them to the people.

"I cannot now enter into a controversy with the chief executive of my land. I would not say that my wisdom and judgment were superior to the chief executive of the United States, but I will say to you, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, that you may regard publication of the names of members of a communist front organization as 'a sordid thing'; you may be correct, but from my way of thinking government employés that belong to any organization controled by a foreign power ought to be exposed and the American people ought to know about them.

Denies Issue Is Partisan.

"This is not a partisan issue. You are dealing with the happiness of the American people. This is not a time when politics and political considerations should be given weight in the scales of justice and fearless exposure.

"I said at the beginning of this investigation that I would conduct it without fear or favor and I would not hesitate to expose any man, Republican or Democrat, in government or industry.

"And if in the interests of political expediency or party leadership I would have to nullify my conscience I would surender my commission and go back to private life with my honor unimpaired. While I love my party, I love my country more."

Mason Supports Stand.

Representative Noah M. Mason [R., Ill.] supported Dies. He told the house that he did not agree with Mr. Roosevelt and expressed belief that a majority of the country would not agree.

Representative H. Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.], who voted against continuing the committee last January and later was appointed to it, said in a statement:

"I agree that publishing the list was wrong. I don't think anybody wanted to be sordid."

A fresh flurry of debate over the propriety of the committee's action broke out on the house floor when Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], announced that he had introduced a bill to prohibit payment of federal funds to any government employé belonging to an organization which teaches or is affiliated with organizations advocating overthrow of the government by force.

ROOSEVELT DODGES THIRD TERM QUERY; CHIDES QUESTIONER

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 [Special]. — President Roosevelt today again sidestepped committing himself on the third term question.

Asked to comment on the recent statement in an interview at San Francisco, Cal., of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace that the international situation had increased the need for the President to run again, Mr. Roosevelt declared that questions about third term possibilities are not news.

Following up his parry of the 1940 question, the President told the reporter that it would be a good thing hereafter if the latter confined himself to news.

The chiding was not quite so severe as that Mr. Roosevelt delivered when the third term question was first popped to him at a press conference some 18 months ago. He told his questioner to put on a dunce cap and go stand in a corner.

Civil Liberties Union Head Deserts Red Front League

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 27 (AP).—Roger N. Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties union, was reported to have resigned today from the American League for Peace and Democracy, asserting he could no longer work effectively with the communist elements of the organization. He was quoted as saying: "It has become painfully evident since the mutual assistance pact between the soviet union and Germany that communist international policy is now dictated by the national interest of the soviet union wherever it may lead."

QUALIFY FREEDOM OF SPEECH RIGHT IN NLRB RULING

Rockford Mill Official's Talks Held Coercion.

"Freedom of speech is a qualified, not an absolute right," the National Labor Relations board declared yesterday in an order directing that the Rockford Mitten and Hosiery company of Rockford cease alleged violations of the labor act.

The board held that the company had sought thru coercion to prevent its employés from joining a C. I. O. union. However, it ruled that the company had not discriminated in discharging employés as the union had alleged.

Warns Employés in Talks.

The board's comments on freedom of speech were directed at talks which J. B. Glasner, general manager, gave to groups of 15 to 20 employés at a time in his office on the subject of joining the union. The labor board said Glasner told the employés that the management was fair and was always ready to listen to grievances and that he did not care much about unions.

"There will be no discrimination against you," Glasner was quoted as saying. "All I am asking you to do is to think the thing over before you do it [join a union]. Don't let any of these long haired boys with a brass band and a lot of ballyhoo herd you like a bunch of sheep."

Claim He Discredited Union.

The board ruled that the tenor of Glasner's remarks conveyed to employés "the impression the union was a fly by night organization led by irresponsible and wholly unintelligent persons. . . No employé could fail to understand that if he disregarded the warning he might find himself in difficulty with his employers."

In holding that the company was guilty of coercing its employés, the board said it did not believe its ruling abridges the right to freedom of speech which is guaranteed by the Constitution.

"The National Labor Relations act requires the employer to refrain from acts that interfere with, restrain or coerce employés in the exercise of their rights to self organization and collective bargaining," the order read.

"The guarantee of such rights would indeed be wholly ineffective if the employer, under the guise of exercising his constitutional right of free speech, were free to coerce them into refraining from exercising the rights guaranteed them in the act.

Cite Rejection by Courts.

"The contention that coercive statements made by supervisory officials to employés are protected by the first amendment [to the Constitution] has been rejected in several cases arising under the act."

The complaint against the company was filed on July 15, 1938, by the American Federation of Hosiery Workers thru the Textile Workers' Organizing committee, affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization. Hearings were held in Rockford July 25, 26, and 27, 1938, and on Oct. 21, 1938, the trial examiner filed his intermediate report finding that the company had engaged in "unfair labor practices."

The company was directed to state within 10 days what it was doing to comply with the board's ruling.

FHA EX-OFFICIAL CONVICTED OF WIFE MURDER; GETS CHAIR

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 27 (AP). —A district court jury tonight convicted Roger Cunningham, 34 years old, for the strangulation murder of his wife and fixed the penalty at death in the electric chair. The jury deliberated nearly seven hours.

Cunningham's attorney had sought life imprisonment for the former Federal Housing administration inspector on a plea of insanity.

Cunningham's wife, Eudora, was last seen alive the night of March 6 at a dinner party at the fashionable home of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joel P. Stokes.

Two days later Cunningham said she had gone to California. First suspicion that something was wrong came when the Stokeses received a telegram from San Francisco, purportedly from Eudora, telling them not to worry. Her first name was misspelled.

Police learned a friend of Cunningham had sent the wire, and asserted Cunningham had sent him the telegram in a letter and asked that it be sent to the Stokeses.

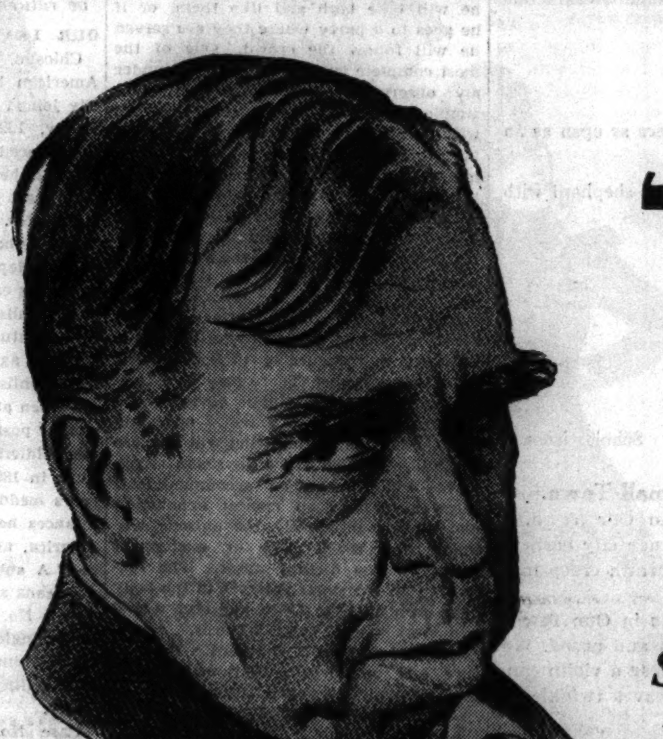
Five days after his arrest on March 20, he confessed he had strangled and buried his wife in a sewer ditch. He blamed his action on domestic discord.

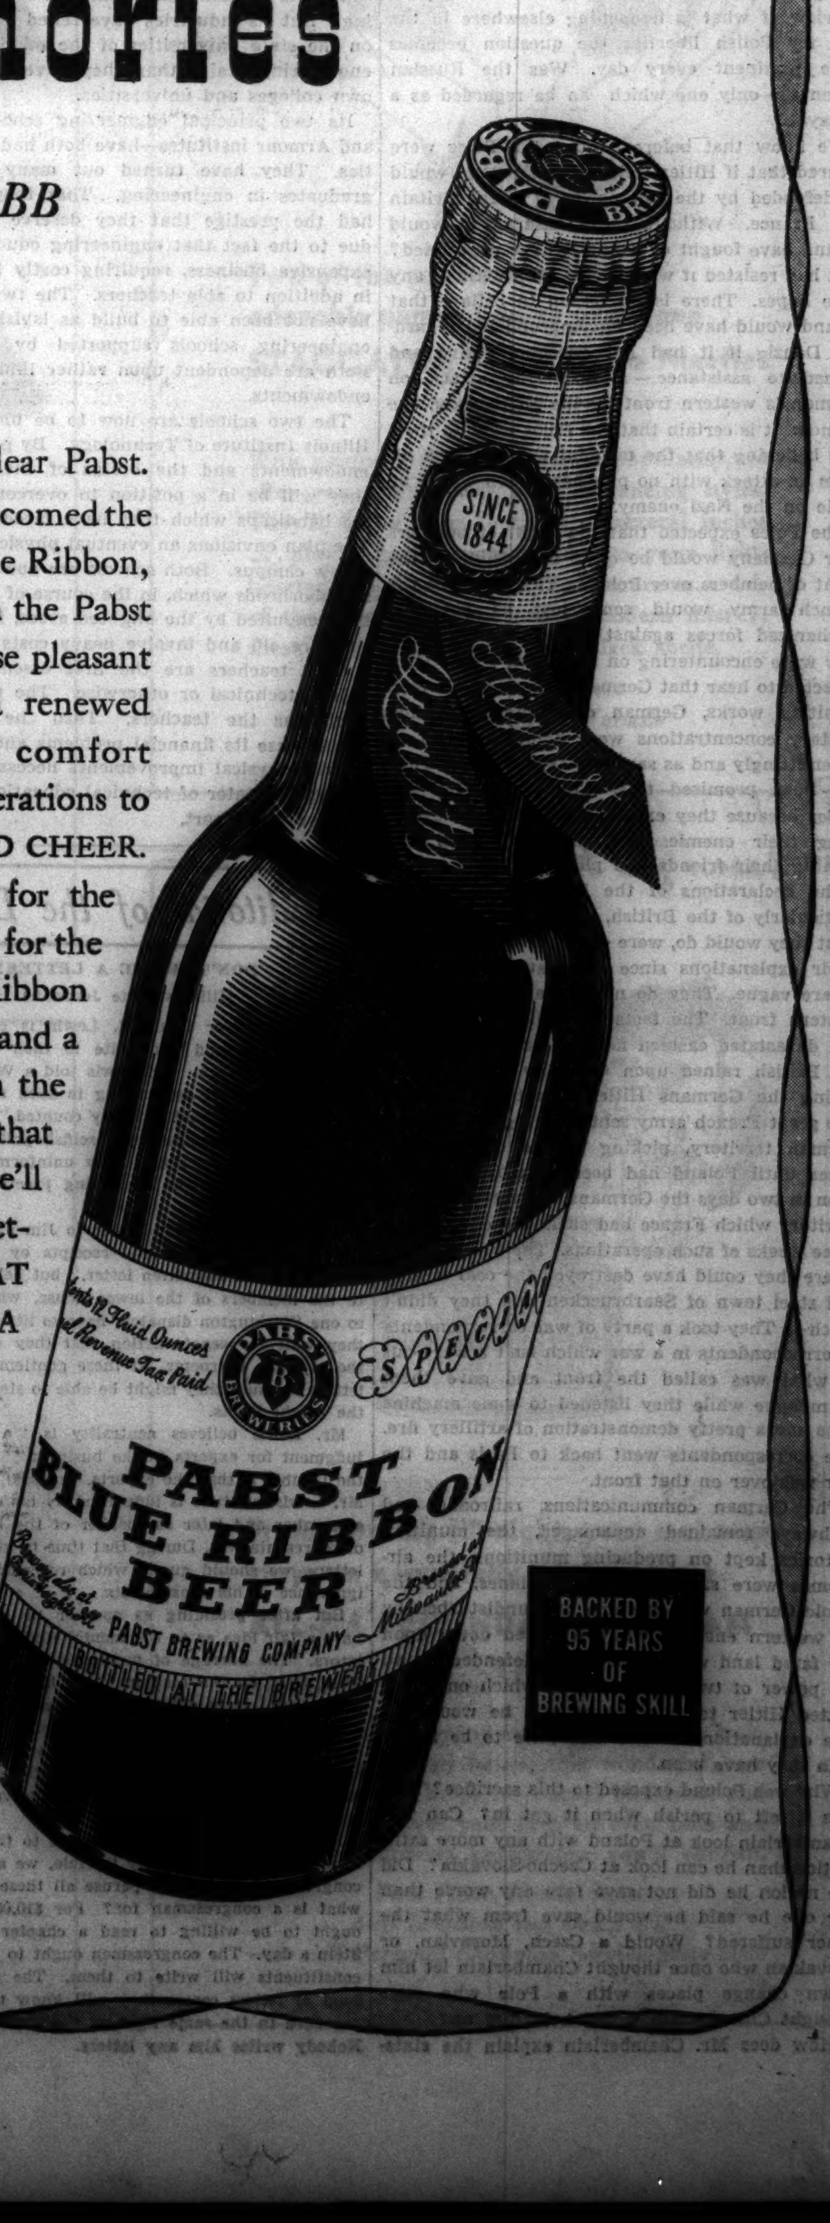
FEDERAL HOUSING TAX EXEMPTION BY CITY ASSAILED

The 17th Ward Community council protested yesterday to the city council against tax exemption for federal housing projects.

The organization cited 10 reasons: 1. A government subsidy is unfair to property owners. 2. The projects put the entire burden of taxation on the local government despite the fact that they were financed by federal funds. 3. They do not serve the purpose originally intended of aiding people from slum areas. 4. The construction work could have been done cheaper with private capital. 5. Private capital is discouraged from investing in housing. 6. Government tenants are not interested in tax problems. 7. The projects create disinterest among property owners in paying of taxes. 8. The local government is deprived of tax revenue. 9. Housing is placed in politics. 10. Un-American principles are created.

The petition asked the council to repeal its tax exempt grants which permit the federal projects to pay the city only a small service fee.





"Thanks for the Memories"

SAYS IRVIN S. COBB

WHEN you Pabst people put the silk Blue Ribbon back on the Pabst bottle, you did millions of us old-timers a mighty fine turn.

"Because you call to our minds a whole stream of golden memories—memories of the good times we used to enjoy over glasses of as satisfying a beer as ever was brewed or, I reckon, ever will be brewed.

"You make us think of happy hours at fish fries and barbecues and picnics and in the home, where your most delectable and always dependable product was the favorite refreshment; and we think of glamorous evenings at Rector's and Delmonico's—of oyster suppers and bubbling welsh rarebits and silver chafing dishes and mugs of cold, clear Pabst.

"Accordingly we have welcomed the news that again the silk Blue Ribbon, like a badge of honor, is on the Pabst bottle, to remind us of those pleasant by-gone days, and to be a renewed guarantee of solace and comfort through the years and generations to come—THE BEER OF GOOD CHEER.

"So once more, thanks for the memories. And thanks, too, for the certainty that the silk Blue Ribbon will continue to be a proof and a pledge of high excellence in the quality; a symbol to show that when we call for Pabst we'll know exactly what we're getting—A BREW WITH A GREAT PAST, A BREW WITH A GREAT FUTURE."

Gratefully yours,

Irvin S. Cobb

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike for another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other."—From the Farewell Address.

THE FATE OF POLAND.

The Nazis invaded Poland Sept. 1. Stalin sent the Red army in on the Polish rear two weeks later. Within a month the Polish nation was dead; its government officials and its high military commanders were in flight; its armies had been defeated, captured, dispersed, or driven to internment in other countries. Its capital had been wrecked, its other cities, towns, and villages had been shattered by bombs, its railroads, terminals, junctions, and highways, industries, and airdromes destroyed and tens of thousands of its civilian population killed. Other tens of thousands are still in what remains of the Polish hospitals.

Poland is now divided between Germany, which until a few months ago had a treaty of nonaggression with it, and Russia, which had professed a friendship which would assist the Poles against the Nazis. This was blitzkrieg if there ever was a lightning war. A nation has been shattered, its land devastated, and its people ruined and robbed of their independence. What brought about this almost complete catastrophe? In view of what is happening elsewhere in the war for Polish liberties the question becomes more pertinent every day. Was the Russian action the only one which can be regarded as a betrayal?

We know that before Sept. 1 the Poles were assured that if Hitler went to war Poland would be defended by the full power of Great Britain and France. Without these assurances would Poland have fought or would it have negotiated? If it had resisted it would have been without any false hopes. There is no reason to believe that Poland would have been uncompromising regarding Danzig if it had not expected active and immediate assistance — a shattering attack on Germany's western front by the British and the French. It is certain that the Poles went to their fate believing that the moment the Germans hit them an attack with no punches drawn would be made on the Nazi enemy.

The Poles expected that the flight of bombers over Germany would be quite as terrible as the flight of bombers over Poland. They thought the French army would send just as powerful mechanized forces against the German rear as they were encountering on their own front. They expected to hear that German airdromes, German munition works, German communications, and military concentrations were being pounded as unremittingly and as savagely as their own. They had been promised this. They said "No" to Hitler because they expected it. They got everything their enemies had promised them but nothing their friends had pledged.

The declarations of the British and French, particularly of the British, before Sept. 1, saying what they would do, were emphatic and complete. Their explanations since of what they did not do are vague. They do not explain the peaceful western front. The facts do explain the bloody and devastated eastern field of war. The bombs the British rained upon Germany were leaflets telling the Germans Hitler was their disaster. The great French army sent scouting squads into German territory, picking at the German pill boxes until Poland had been destroyed, whereupon in two days the Germans recovered all their territory which France had shadowly occupied in three weeks of such operations. The French were where they could have destroyed the coal mining and steel town of Saarbruecken and they didn't touch it. They took a party of war correspondents —correspondents in a war which isn't a war—out to what was called the front and gave them champagne while they listened to some machine guns and a pretty demonstration of artillery fire. The correspondents went back to Paris and the war was over on that front.

The German communications, railroads, and highways remained undamaged, the munition factories kept on producing munitions, the airdromes were safe for German planes, and the whole German war machine was undisturbed by its western enemies while it rolled down upon the fated land which was to be defended by all the power of two great nations which only permitted Hitler to do what he said he would do. The explanations of this will have to be better than they have been.

Why was Poland exposed to this sacrifice? Why was it left to perish when it got in? Can Mr. Chamberlain look at Poland with any more satisfaction than he can look at Czecho-Slovakia? Did the nation he did not save fare any worse than the one he said he would save from what the other suffered? Would a Czech, Moravian, or Slovakian who once thought Chamberlain let him down change places with a Pole who once thought Chamberlain would hold him up?

How does Mr. Chamberlain explain the statement that Russia proceeded properly in taking nearly half of Poland by armed invasion along with the Baltic states? Can the war be won satisfactorily for civilization, democracy, and humanity while Stalin stands with his share of the stricken prey?

If this is our war, as some of our repealers say it is, we are entitled to some explanations of these extraordinary happenings. Before our sympathies carry us away our intelligence should be better satisfied. We are bound to try to find some reasons for the extraordinary conduct and can afford to ignore none that may be possible, probable, or plausible. Americans do not know what is going on in the intrigue of Europe. They only know that self-interest is being pursued without regard for the welfare of other peoples whom it may involve. The funny business in Europe exceeds the imagination and defies the reason.

STOP SALES TAX WASTE.

The Illinois legislature is to be called to a special session to consider a supposed relief emergency. To date the only suggestion for raising more money for relief has been that the property tax for that purpose be doubled. This comes at a time when Cook county taxes are already so high as to cause a delinquency unequaled anywhere else in the country.

The word has gone out that Gov. Horner's downstate supporters will not tolerate any more relief payments from sales tax receipts, altho the tax was imposed originally for relief purposes. Their contention is that all the sales tax receipts have been pledged to other purposes.

Representative Arnold L. Lund has answered this specious argument. He challenges Gov. Horner to list economy among the subjects for action at the special session. With his challenge he has given the governor a 25 page list of reductions which he says can be made without harming essential governmental activities. By returning to the standards of 1929, before the sales tax permitted state spending to run hogwild, Representative Lund figures that $57,637,740 could be cut from the biennial appropriations passed at the regular session this year.

Such an economy action as Representative Lund proposes would solve the relief crisis by freeing state funds for the use for which they were raised. It would end the extravagant régime at Springfield under which the only concern of the state administration has been to find ways to spend its vastly increased revenues.

But we will hazard right now that Gov. Horner refuses to accept Representative Lund's challenge. He will not include economy among the subjects for action at the special session. If there is any economy, he will have to fire pay rollers. If he fires pay rollers his extortion brigade can't shake them down for contributions to his 1940 campaign fund.

ARMOUR AND LEWIS UNITE.

It is strange that Chicago, center of one of the nation's great industrial areas, has never been notable as a center of engineering education. In a day when the city was dubbed the hog butcher of the world it saw the rise of a great center of education in the arts at the University of Chicago. Thru the period when it was charged with being the crime capital of the world it also maintained its standing as a center of religious training. But its industries have relied more heavily on the state universities of the middle west for engineering brains than they have on Chicago's own colleges and universities.

Its two principal engineering schools — Lewis and Armour institutes—have both had able faculties. They have turned out many competent graduates in engineering. That they have not had the prestige that they deserve is perhaps due to the fact that engineering education is an expensive business, requiring costly laboratories in addition to able teachers. The two institutes have not been able to build as lavishly as have engineering schools supported by tax funds. Both are dependent upon rather limited private endowments.

The two schools are now to be united as the Illinois Institute of Technology. By pooling their endowments and the brains of their faculties, they will be in a position to overcome some of the handicaps which they have faced previously. The plan envisions an eventual physical union on a new campus. Both schools are now situated in neighborhoods which, in the course of years, have been engulfed by the blighted areas, in buildings that are old and involve heavy costs of upkeep.

Good teachers are the first essential of any school, technical or otherwise. The new Illinois Tech has the teachers. Thru the merger it should ease its financial problems and make easier the physical improvements necessary to give Chicago a center of technical education it should be glad to support.

Editorial of the Day

DON'T WRITE A LETTER!

[Illinois State Journal.]

State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis is of the belief that people should not write to their congressmen about the embargo. Mr. Lewis told a Waukegan audience that letters are coming in such numbers that they "cannot be read but only counted" and that of the letters not inspired by "selfish political instigation" the others "reflect only uninformed emotions and confuse those who are trying practical means to retain peace."

Mr. Lewis is not only unfair to Jim Farley, who is trying to boost the postal receipts by urging folks to "write that unwritten letter," but he's also unfair to the members of the lower house, who, according to one Washington dispatch, have so little to do while they wait for senate action that they are haunting the capital's barrooms. If these gentlemen had more letters to count they might be able to stay away from the bright lights.

Mr. Lewis believes neutrality is "a problem of judgment for experts in the business." Righto! But the trouble is that the experts, as usual, don't agree. Mr. Lewis' attitude is influenced by his experience as a member and later as speaker of the Illinois house of representatives. During that time he received many letters, we should guess, which revealed to him the ignorance of his constituents.

But after presiding as speaker he ought also to have a fair idea as to the mental limitations of legislators. The barrage of fireworks that concluded his final night on the rostrum must have left him with misgivings. It is difficult to believe that election to a body in Washington makes a man smarter than does his election to the state legislature—and that is said with a realization of the oddities that turn up in Springfield, thanks to the cumulative voting system.

People will go on writing letters to their congressmen, anyway. It is pretty terrible, we agree, for the congressman to have to peruse all these epistles, but what is a congressman for? For $10,000 a year he ought to be willing to read a chapter of Gertrude Stein a day. The congressmen ought to be glad their constituents will write to them. The day that the flood of letters ceases they will know that they are regarded in the same light as the town dog catcher. Nobody writes him any letters.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

MAROONS, 123; CHAMPIONS, 0.

This column's report of the highest football score on Stagg [formerly Marshall] field was slightly premature. We claimed the record for Hyde Park High vs. Brooklyn Poly [105 to 0] in 1902, but it's better than that. In 1919 [opening game], the University of Chicago defeated the Great Lakes Naval Training station team by a score of 123 to 0.

The records of the war period are supposed to be thrown out of court in Big Ten rivalries, but you can't cancel printer's ink. There were mighty Maroons in those days. The team also defeated Purdue, Northwestern, Michigan, and Iowa, and lost to Illinois and Wisconsin. It is interesting to note, moreover, that the Great Lakes team had been the national champion of the preceding season, and played in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1919. The score: Great Lakes, 17; Marine Barracks, 0. [George Halas and Paddy Driscoll starred in that game.]

Two genial sharpshooters, T. A. Davis of Canton, Ill., and Lawrence Thompson of Chicago, have drawn beads on us for saying [Oct. 25] that the name of D'Artagnan in the "Musketeer" romances, is Raoul. They claim that his name is John, and Mr. Davis cites chapter and verse—a letter, accompanying a purse of money, sent by D'Artagnan to Athos and Aramis as they depart for England in "Twenty Years After."

Well, gentlemen, we would meekly accept the correction if the English translations of the Dumas texts that litter this country were the final authority. But the French original is the court of appeal in such matters, and in our edition that letter is signed "Votre d'Artagnan"—"Your D'Artagnan." Thank you for calling our attention to a curious typographical error.

A hasty search of the scenes between D'Artagnan and Mme. Constance Bonacieux in "The Three Musketeers" has failed to reveal the single mention of the name Raoul that we claim is somewhere in the series, either in French or English. Nevertheless we are firm in the faith that D'Artagnan's name is Raoul, and that the Vicomte de Bragelonne, son of Athos, was named after him.

JUDGING BY APPEARANCES.

Once I knew a man who twirled a neat black mustachio
And looked like one of the less admirable characters from Boccaccio;
In fact, he looked sinister.
—He was a well known minister.

And I knew another man with a face as open as an eight day clock,
And with the sanctimonious air of a shepherd with a well-to-do flock.
He was as smug as a bug in a rug.
—He's doing a stretch in the jug.

What I mean is, not every crook
Has a criminal look;
And there's many a saint
Looks like what he ain't.

In Praise of a Certain Small Town.

The sun shines the brightest in Our Town. I know, for I have stood on strange city corners and never felt a comforting warmth creep into my heart.

We have the most beautiful trees in Our Town; the greenest, the most straight and proud. We have all kinds of trees, and I hear a violin concert when their silver green leaves twinkle in the sunlight. They're like stars.

I've never heard such a symphony in any other Town but Ours when the stars come out, and I've been sense drunk hearing their chants and soaring melodies.

I've never heard such heart stirring music as the wind creates as it marches up and down our streets and knocks its storm warning on the doors of all the good neighbors.

God has never elsewhere placed his finger so lovingly as He has on the Church in Our Town. We know, for our steeple sends forth golden notes from an iron bell!

Love has its home in Our Town. I know, for the searching fingers of the Northern Lights have told me so, and one certain lake, where the moon god lives, ripples in affirmation.

Horrors of War in Arkansas.

In Arkansas there are two small towns named England [population 2,100] and Stuttgart [population 4,900]. They were the terminals of the Central Arkansas and Eastern railway, but today, like their European namesakes, they are not on speaking terms. Reason: All trackage torn up, sold, and line abandoned.

CHARM AGAINST HALLOWEEN.

When I'd said my prayers Mom tucked me in tight,
She gave me a kiss and turned out the light
Then I pulled up the covers tight under my chin
So the ghosties and goblins couldn't crawl in.
Then burying my nose in the blanket so warm
I knew all at once I was safe from all harm.
For today that same blanket hung out on the line
Just freshly washed with its face all ashine
And the wind blew it madly like a flag in the breeze
And now it smells sweetly of dry burning leaves,
And spicy chrysanthemums and hard winter pears,
And big yellow pumpkins and sharp autumn airs.
I'm safe in the dark . . . don't fear Halloween,
For ghosties and goblins hate things sweet and clean.

More than Southern Hospitality.

Recently my family and I enjoyed a motor trip thru the delta country of Louisiana and Mississippi. One evening, at dusk, we stopped at a rural store and gas station, midway between Vicksburg and Natchez. After purchases of gas and oil we entered into conversation with the proprietor. We were interrupted by a call from his wife, "Supper's ready, George." He acknowledged her call and turned to us and said:

"Won't you folks join us at supper?"

It was a technique of graciousness one associates with The Man of Galilee.

BEHAVIOR PROBLEMS IN CHILDREN.

YOUNGSTERS are so busy at their principal job—growing—that many have but little reserve when it comes to illness. Their physical constitutions are used up in making bone. In consequence, some may be in a far more delicate balance than we realize. This "shooting up" process may explain the peculiar susceptibility of some to what we term functional disorders.

Such children ofttimes are termed nervous, oversensitive, or highstrung. This does not mean that they are weaklings in any sense of the word, as they may display endurance in games far in excess of their playmates. Nevertheless, when it is all over they may show a far deeper type of exhaustion.

With our tiny tots their hunger for learning is great. This leads to innumerable questions of why this and why that. They seem to possess an insatiable desire to touch and handle everything. In other words, information is acquired through the feel of the thing as well as its size and color. If they are satisfied, well and good. If not, much unhappiness may ensue.

Such an emotion may be exhibited in scores of different ways. The child may refuse to obey and do the very opposite of what he is told. Passionate outbursts of weeping may be brought on by denial. In like manner we have the boy or girl who refuses to eat. Instinctively the desire to be coaxed is dominant and the rascal may obtain a thrill over observing the worry of his elders. By placing him with companions of his own age—out of mother's sight—the chances are that he will follow their example and clean the plate.

Many a physician is told, "Freddy will never touch his carrots and he can't abide milk." If he is hungry enough he will take both and like them, or if he goes to a party where they are served he will follow the crowd. One of the most complete cures that has come under my observation was effected by the simple maneuver of removing the dish within two or three minutes after it had been placed on the table, altho not a morsel had been touched. This was continued for a few meals, whereupon the lad howled his objection. Of course, such a simple device as forbidding all lunching between meals may solve the ordinary case.

Now and then these little ones will develop what is commonly called cyclic vomiting and recurring attacks appear from time to time. There may be a temperature and the patient is obviously ill. The breath will have a fruity odor and an examination of the urine will disclose a condition which every physician recognizes—acidosis. As an accompaniment, there may be deep mental exhaustion and all too frequently the episode will follow too much play or excitement rather than a dietary upset. The reason is that the sugar reserves in the body have been used up. Now and then a cold will start one of these seizures. Again, abdominal pain will complicate the picture and an investigation will be required to rule out appendicitis.

There is no more helpful measure than the afternoon nap. This should be continued if possible well into the school years. During kindergarten, half day sessions are the rule and a half hour of rest is provided after the noon luncheon.

We must remember that every active child needs sugar; and restricting fats is advised. With some who are inclined to be overweight—eggs, butter, and cream may be omitted or greatly reduced in quantity. Surprisingly enough, these routine vomiters will maintain strength better on a low fat diet.

If habit spasms occur they will be made worse by calling the victim's attention to them or indulging in corrective nagging. Offering a prize for control instead of scolding is far more effective. Such a child needs encouragement and occasionally mild sedatives will help to overcome what otherwise may prove a serious handicap later in life. The symptoms may include twitching of the eyebrows, snuffling with one or both nostrils, a nervous cough.

Finally, too much solicitude is unwise. As has been well said, we must respect the child's own plans for his welfare.

TAKE IT EASY A WHILE.

H. G. writes: I was in bed for a week with the grippe. Now, when I walk or try to do anything active I become short of breath. Is this a natural occurrence that will go away in time?

REPLY.

With rest, proper food, and moderate exercise, this symptom should disappear gradually. The heart muscle has probably been weakened. You must resume activity gradually.

AMEBIC DYSENTERY.

H. S. writes: Have you any printed matter on amebic dysentery, which is mentioned in the news stories?

REPLY.

Yes, and it may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Oct. 28, 1914.

LONDON. — A revolt against the British government in South Africa broke out with Gen. de Wet and Gen. Beyers of the Boer war as leaders of the rebellion. The colonial office said the revolt would be dealt with firmly.

LONDON.—Lord Kitchener appealed for another 100,000 troops.

PARIS—The French war ministry told of successes east of Nancy by which the Germans were driven across the frontier. Neutral sources said there were no consistent gains on either side and the contest in west Belgium and northern France had become a test of endurance.

BERLIN.—It was claimed that the Germans had repulsed Russian attacks southwest of Warsaw and were making some progress. In the fighting before Ivangorod the Austrians had captured 8,000 Russians.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Contracts for $10,674,112 worth of armor plate and steel for new battleships were awarded to the Bethlehem and Midvale steel companies.

OUR LEADERS' "WAR" RECORDS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—I am happily an American by birth and choice, voluntarily joined the National Guard [164th infantry, 1925, at age of 17 years], and have faced and fired a machine gun. Here is the record of some of our people in highest positions.

Case No. 1. Franklin D. Roosevelt was 17, rich, healthy and husky, unmarried, and no dependents, but when New York state was calling for volunteers in 1898 he didn't enlist. Again at the age of 35 in 1917 he stuck on as assistant navy secretary and again didn't get into active fighting or enlist, even as his cousin Theodore did when at the age of 42 he did resign a similar post and not only joined but lead the soldiers in fever and disease-ridden Cuba in 1897. Yet thru Franklin Roosevelt's meddling and clearly one sided utterances he has caused much anxiety in America, and indeed his slogan seems to be "A submarine a day keeps the Republicans away," from the White House.

Case No. 2. Harold L. Ickes was 24 in 1898, single, and no dependents, but he didn't volunteer when Illinois was frantically calling for him; no, he didn't enlist, either.

Case No. 3. William Bullitt was 26 years of age, rich, healthy, single, and no dependents in 1917, but he didn't enlist. No, indeed, he weasled his way into the state department thru pull, even as Elliot and his type would if they were called up.

Cases No. 4, 5, 6, ad infinitum—Let's just cite Representative Woodrum from Virginia, the latest Hitler hater. Where were he and his type when the last war was on? I'll tell you; he was cleaning up at home as an attorney for the Commonwealth in Roanoke, Va. But enough; I feel better now, it is off my chest.

ROBERT J. WATZKE.

DISTURBED BY NEWSBOYS.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—I know I am expressing the sentiment of thousands of persons in Chicago when I raise my voice in protest of the disturbance of the newsboys on Sunday mornings. At 7 o'clock again last Sunday morning they were under my window hawking in not so melodious tones, "Yo-ho-o Sunday morning paper."

There is a constant parade of newsboys, starting at 7 and lasting until about 11 o'clock. No, I don't sleep until 11; how could I? Sunday, the only day in the week we have to catch a little extra sleep, starts out the same as any other morning. I appreciate the fact that the boys need the money, but why can't they start out an hour or so later? I am sure they would sell more papers, because they would not antagonize prospective buyers. The minority who wish to get their paper at 7 a. m. should have it delivered or should go to the corner stand and buy it.

TIRED WORKER.

WOULD ADD NAME "FRANKLIN."

Chicago, Oct. 24.—May I suggest that your paper add another plank to its platform for Chicago by advocating the change of the name Roosevelt road slightly to Franklin Roosevelt road, thereby honoring our great and benevolent leader?

Surely no real American can have any objection to this small display of gratitude for our fine President who did so many great things for his country.

Incidentally, under his administration the number of TRIBUNES sold is now over a million daily!

HEE-HAWING ASSES.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—In view of the popularity of the rodeo now showing in Chicago, it occurs to me that, aside from entertainment, much benefit would be derived from promotion of a "roundup" organized on a larger scale.

For instance, why not conduct a national roundup of all those long eared brethren who bray so loudly about our duty to aid the "democracies" in the present crisis in Europe?

By so doing, a large number of hee-hawing asses could thus be corralled and branded for service on the European range where they would be available to the aforementioned "democracies" for the service they so ardently urge upon peace loving Americans.

Of course, it would not be an easy task to rope the critters, as their propensities for avoiding capture and service are well known, but, anyway, it is a suggestion, and one worthy of consideration by all real Americans.

AN ENLARGED BOOK PAGE.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 24.—May I offer you my thanks for at last giving Miss Fanny Butcher the opportunity to conduct a splendid book page? We depend on her judgment; we like her opinions; we respect her integrity, and at last we have book news that is as complete as any in the city, and of the finest quality. The hosts of women's clubs to which I speak every year read her with avidity and pleasure, and THE TRIBUNE is quoted more and more for "book" opinions since Miss Butcher has space given her for her fine work.

KENNETH HORAN.

SAMPLE OF NEW DEAL WASTE.

Du Quoin, Ill., Oct. 25.—My sincere thanks to you for the timely publicity given the nefarious New Deal Crab Orchard Lake project in Williamson county, this state.

Among other issues involved in the Crab Orchard project is the vital question of state rights, invasion and abrogation of which constitutes a dangerous menace to state sovereignty.

Completion of the worthless lake project would establish a precedent long to be regretted. Its only useful purpose would possibly be to serve as a lasting monument to the wasteful stupidity of New Deal spending.

As attorney for the Crab Orchard citizens' committee, opposed to the project, I hasten to express our deep appreciation of the commendable attitude of THE TRIBUNE in this matter.

GEORGE W. DOWELL.

POLITICIANS, PLEASE NOTE.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Many people in business pay a tax [or license fee] just to earn a living, on top of a lot of other license fees, such as auto, driver's license, gas tax, etc.

Besides these, we are taxed to live, thru the 3 per cent sales tax on food.

If the greater part of this can be diverted legally, who diverts it? A politician. Why? Does he profit thereby?

Whoever heard of a politician being on relief?

But wouldn't it be fine if the politicians licensed themselves as a source of revenue for the distressed? They do not hesitate to ask donations from civil employés for other purposes.

Why shouldn't they do a part of the donating—as politicians? Turn about is fair play.

PURCHASE AGREEMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 24 [Legal Friend of the People].—Last December I purchased a refrigerator and [1] upon delivery I found it was a used box, had been sprayed with paint and been run also.

2. As the radiator was all dust we notified the sales room at once, the salesman who sold the box came to see us and agreed to take back the box but leave it in our house until he found a prospective buyer. We have a receipt showing this in writing, whereas the salesman signed the name of the refrigerator sales company. In June the salesman passed away. Now we have notified the sales company and they tell us we have to keep the box as [3] it is a IHA.

4. On our last month's light bill we only paid the light and left off payment on the box. The sales company said the electric company would turn off our light if not paid up in full. Please let me know regarding this. We called the electric company ourselves and was told there was no set law regarding this; it was up to us to see our salesman. He being dead it would refer us to the [5] company he represented when selling us the box.

C. A. A.

1. You do not make clear whether you received the box which you had inspected nor whether there were important differences due to the box having been used.

2. The presence of dust would not necessarily make the radiator any less serviceable.

3. We do not understand what you mean by this statement.

4. Are we to infer from this that you are purchasing from the electric company? If so we would expect them to be ready to explain matters to you.

5. Your letter is highly obscure as to the identity of the seller from whom you bought.

103,598 CHICAGO FAMILIES TO GET 15% RELIEF HIKE

CRA November Budget Restores July Cut.

Payments to Chicago's 103,598 relief families will be increased by 15 per cent during November, Leo M. Lyons, relief commissioner, announced yesterday. The increase will bring grants back to standards which existed prior to last July, when a slash in state appropriations permitted allocation of only 65 per cent of family needs.

Restoration of the cut for next month will be possible, Lyons said, as a result of a $1,033,000 loan to the Chicago Relief administration authorized last week by the city council. The loan, intended to help maintain relief thru next January, was made as an advance on the CRA'S share of the 1939 property tax levy to be collected in 1940.

Expect More State Funds.

Other factors which made the increase possible, according to Lyons, are the expected allocation of more state funds, the reduction of relief rolls due to the upward trend of private employment and the successful development of the program to develop work projects.

"According to present indications," Lyons said, "the CRA will be able to make grants during November of 80 per cent of the amount budgeted as regular relief items. In addition, it is estimated that surplus commodities will also increase the amount of food available."

Higher grants also will be made in November for shelter, fuel for cooking and heating, and lights, he said.

Average to Be $27 a Month.

The average check now received by relief clients is about $23 a month. During November this will be increased to nearly $27, Lyons said. He declined to predict whether the same standard would prevail for the rest of the year.

State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg said yesterday that Republican representatives in the legislature are unanimous in demanding that Gov. Horner include the subject of unemployment relief in his call for the special meeting.

"Any impression to the contrary is false," he declared. "At the same time our party demands that something be done about reports that in many communities 40 per cent of the cases are not entitled to relief. "Money thus wasted could be used in two ways—to increase the budgets of deserving reliefers and to reduce the sales tax."

LIGHTNING HITS W-G-N; FAST WORK KEEPS IT ON AIR

Quick work by W-G-N's engineering staff late Thursday kept the station on the air despite damage to the system caused by lightning. How this was accomplished was told yesterday by Chief Engineer Carl J. Meyers.

When lightning struck a telephone line carrying programs from the studio to the transmitter near Itasca W-G-N was partly cut off from the transmitting unit. The W-G-N mobile unit with its short wave transmitter was rushed to the scene. Telephone crews meanwhile sought to find the exact point of failure.

When the telephone service failed completely an hour and a half later, the mobile unit, standing at Wooddale, was ready. It picked up the programs from the studio off the wires and transmitted them by short wave to the W-G-N transmitting station a few miles away. Then the programs were rebroadcast thru the 50,000 watt transmitter. The mobile crew stood by along the highway until the station signed off at midnight. Then telephone men made repairs.

CLOUDS BLOCK CITY'S VIEW OF MOON'S ECLIPSE

Cloudy weather last night prevented most Chicagoans from viewing an almost total eclipse of the moon. Miss Maude Bennot, director of the Adler planetarium, reported she saw part of the moon thru a break in the clouds at 11:30 p. m.

At the Yerkes observatory in Williams Bay, Wis., observers said the cloudy weather also obscured their vision. In New York City the Hayden planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History planned to photograph the eclipse from above the heavy clouds.

Astronomers had calculated that phases of the eclipse would be visible thruout most of the world, providing skies were clear. The moon entered the earth's shadow at 9:41 p. m., with the mid-eclipse [99.2 per cent complete] occurring at 12:36 a. m. today. The next eclipse will not occur until March 13, 1941.

Gardiner, appointed Monday. Robert O'Neal and Miss Julia Field brought mandamus proceedings in Baton Rouge District court to compel District Attorney Dewey Sanchez to accept an ouster suit against the governor—which he refused to do. 80 LAKE FREIGHTERS, DELAYED FOR HOURS BY FOG, SAIL AGAIN

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 27 (AP).—Lifting of dense fogs today permitted more than 80 Great Lakes freighters, delayed for hourse after some of them had grounded in the St. Clair river channel, to move toward Detroit, Lake Erie, and Lake Huron.

The self-unloader Wyandotte of the Wyandotte Transportation company, remained aground this afternoon near Algonac. The Wyandotte ran aground last night while avoiding a collision with another freighter. Part of her cargo was removed today by the lighter Maplecourt of Port Huron in an attempt to refloat her. Several other ships were aground for a time early today but were swung into deep waters.

The river, connecting Lakes Huron and St. Clair, was blocked completely when some of the freighters swung across the channel. Downbound vessels were stopped behind these boats, while upbound ships anchored in Lake St. Clair off the river entrance.

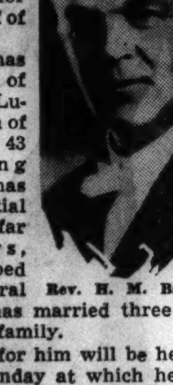
PASTOR SPENDS 80TH BIRTHDAY IN WORK OF CHURCH

Fills Rockford Pulpit for 43 Years.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 27 [Special].—The Rev. Hugh M. Bannen, D. D., celebrated his 80th birthday today by going about the religious work in which he has been engaged here for more than half of his long life.



Rev. H. M. Bannen.

Dr. Bannen has been pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church of Rockford for 43 years. During that time he has tied 7,740 nuptial knots and, as far as he knows, none has slipped loose. In several instances he has married three generations of a family.

A reception for him will be held at the church Sunday at which he will receive bouquets of flowers and the well wishes of his flock.

Active and in Good Health.

Both Dr. Bannen and his wife are in good health and are unusually active for their age. The pastor spends week days visiting the sick among his congregation and caring for church work. Every Sunday finds him on the church rostrum preaching his weekly sermon.

"I have my hand on the plow and my face to the future," was his optimistic comment. "I'm looking forward to many more years of service in the vineyard."

Dr. Bannen lamented that radio and movies are reducing church attendance and that war has a demoralizing effect on religion. During his ministry, however, more than 6,000 persons have joined Trinity church.

Arrives in 1896.

It was on April 1, 1896, that the Rev. Mr. Bannen came to Rockford to take over the pastorate of the Trinity church. At that time there were 24 members in the church and an enrolment of 50 young people in the Sunday school.

Since then Dr. Bannen has seen the church expand to more than 3,500 members and with an attendance of 1,500 in the Sunday school. The church has six choirs with a total of 300 voices and has six missionary societies.

Dr. Bannen is a native of Turbotsville, Pa. He is a graduate of Carthage college and attended the Gettysburg [Pa.] Theological seminary. He was pastor of the Lutheran church at Princeton, Ill., for five years before coming to Rockford.

116 HORSESHOES BRING NO LUCK TO THE BATH'S NAGS

If the 29 race horses left by the late Ald. Bathhouse John Coughlin have lost faith in horseshoes as good luck tokens, here's why: Each of them is carrying around four horseshoes, and still they're having a hard time making ends meet.

They're eating themselves out of house and home. The horses are appraised at only $12,000, and their groceries and care have cost $8,977 in the last year, according to a report submitted to the Probate court yesterday by Fletcher Robinson, executor.

Mr. Robinson said some of the horses are trying to be breadwinners for the rest. The breadwinners, whose shoes are working like the left hind foot of a rabbit, are the ones that win their races.

SNOW CRUISER LOSES TIME ON TRIP TO BOSTON

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 27 (AP).—Delayed by narrow bridges and a minor accident, Admiral Richard E. Byrd's snow cruiser was more than twenty-four hours behind schedule tonight on its trip from Chicago to Boston. Dr. Thomas C. Poulter of the Armour Institute of Technology, designer and captain of the antarctic vehicle, had hoped to reach Ohio tonight, but delays have ruined the schedule.

Fort Wayne was the cruiser's objective yesterday but it was halted by a narrow bridge at Warsaw and spent the night there. Today a hub cap containing part of the mechanism was damaged when the cruiser sidewiped a truck west of Columbia City.

While the "ice buggy" was being repaired here, Dr. Poulter arranged to obtain new fuel pump parts from Fort Wayne. The cruiser faced two more tight squeezes in a bridge at the east edge of Columbia City and a railroad underpass west of Fort Wayne on U. S. roads 30 and 33 before leaving Indiana.

Rooney was selected in a secret vote of rodeo performers for his skill, courage, and ability.

For Readers of "Maud."

If you have read or intend to read Maud, that recently published diary of a glamor girl in Cairo, Ill., kept by her for 14 years in the '80's and '90's and edited and arranged for publication by Richard Lee Stout, you might like to know that relatives of the characters are still living. Maud herself is living, for the author in his preface says: Of their (the journals) appearance now in print, half a century later, Maud is a pleased observer.

C. O. Patier, a son of the Col. Patier in the book, lives in Chicago. One evening last week Mr. Patier related the details of the incidents Maud reveals in her diary to another relative, Mrs. Albert E. Grosch.

FIREFLIES.

Mother says
That fireflies are Tiny little elves
Who carry lanterns
In the dark
So they can find themselves!
—Ruth MacKay.

Impressed.

A teen age Winnetkan had attended his first formal dinner party, and later he described its splendor in detail to his mother.

" . . . and they had individual squabs," he recounted reverently.

Cuff Notes.

Robin Douglas, author son of Norman Douglas, is writing in Chicago a piece on the sons of Joseph Conrad. Young Douglas lived with the Conrad family in England while his father was in St. Petersburg during his diplomatic career. One of the Conrad boys was older, one younger than Robin. . . . Young Henry Brandt, arranger of Benny Goodman's Mozart and Bach swing compositions, composed the musical score for the American Ballet Caravan's City Portrait, to be given at the Civic theater tomorrow afternoon. . . . Celebrities note: Ruth Chatterton and Ramon Novarro got up from table No. 1 in the Pump room the other night, just before theater time, and Elliott Roosevelt and two Chicago friends, entering at that moment, sat down.

Making Room in the Music Hall.

Philip Manuel and Gavin Williamson, directors of the Chicago Festival of Ancient Music, who are dedicating their final harpsichord concert Nov. 1 to Handel, in observance of the 180th anniversary of his death, have a notice copied from a Dublin newspaper of 200 years ago that shows the appreciation Handel was accorded then, too. The notice stated that the doors of the concert hall would open at 11 o'clock and that the program would begin at noon. The demand for tickets was so great that, in order that as many as possible might be accommodated, the notice cautioned:

"The favour of the ladies not to come with hoops this day to the Musick hall in Fishamble street. The gentlemen are desired to come without their swords."

Milk Fund Benefit.

The Illinois Club for Catholic Women will hold its fourth annual Tombola, "a dude ranch and barn dance," this evening in the Mural room of the Morrison hotel. Proceeds will be turned over to the Mrs. Frank J. Lewis Milk Fund for Tuberculous Poor.

Opera Opening Adds to Joys of Busy Week-End

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE opening of the grand opera season, Halloween parties, football games, and weddings are among today's major events that will keep every one busy from noon until midnight. One would need an airplane that would land on the proverbial dime to enjoy all the things that are scheduled today, for one would have to fly north, south, west, and even east.

East to Ann Arbor, where Yale and Michigan will battle on the football field and where many loyal alumni of both universities will be in the grandstands this afternoon.

President and Mrs. Franklyn B. Snyder will hold another in their series of football teas after the Illinois-Northwestern game this afternoon. The party will be at the University club in Evanston. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess will receive with the Snyders. Last night the Snyders held their first homecoming reception for alumni in the Student Union building on the Evanston campus. More than 5,000 alumni are expected at today's homecoming game.

Many Halloween Parties for Week-end.

The zero hour for Halloween witches and goblins will not arrive until nightfall next Tuesday but the specters of All-Hallow's eve are being lured to a number of favorite haunts today and tonight, more convenient times for merrymaking. The Dunham Woods Riding club has pumpkin colored invitations out for a party tonight and so has the South Shore Country club.

Mrs. Louise Rehm Floyd is giving a party for her children, Charles and Roxane La Roche, this afternoon at the Churchill, where Mrs. Floyd and her mother, Mrs. Frank A. Rehm, live. About three dozen youngsters between 8 and 12 will enjoy all the traditionally mysterious Halloween games.

A slightly older group of young people from the Parker and Harris schools will spend the evening bobbing for apples and dancing at a party Martha Woodward, daughter of the Malcolm C. Woodwards, will give at her home, 3030 Sheridan road.

Those whom the Wharfrats [the Charles Cutters and the Glendon Gerlachs] have invited to be "shanghaied on the barge Industry" tonight will assemble at 9 o'clock at the barge on the north side of the river, east of the Michigan avenue bridge. The guests were asked to wear costumes suitable for covering the water front.

Dinner Parties to Precede Opera.

Dinner parties that precede the opera tonight will be early ones so that the diners may reach the Civic Opera house around 8. Henry Weber, conductor, will lift his baton promptly at 8 so music lovers will try to be there before that time so as not to miss a note of the music of "Boris Godunoff." Dinner parties, however, are apt to linger over coffee and liqueurs and, as a consequence, arrive a trifle late.

Tonight's audience should be a brilliant, glittering spectacle, for the Edwardian fashions that are in style should be complemented with jewels: necklaces, brooches, bracelets, and hair ornaments. Many women will pay visits to safety deposit boxes today to take out their jewelry, for tonight is the night to wear it, if ever it is going to be seen in the light of night.

Architects' Ball Jan. 12; Racquet Club Delays Party.

Neither the architects nor the Racquet club will hold a ball on Friday, Dec. 1. Until Thursday it appeared that the two balls would be held on the same night. Then the architects decided to postpone their party and arranged to meet yesterday to pick a new date. They select-

Model at Fashion Show

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Winfield Durbin might have been dressed to attend the opening of the opera tonight when this picture was taken. Instead she was modeling in a recent fashion show. The gown is a daring one of black satin with absolutely no back, one that few women could wear, but that was beautiful on the former Barbara Hess.

'Godunoff' to Open Chicago Opera Tonight

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Tonight is the night. At 8 o'clock the great curtains of the Civic Opera house will part for the performance of Mussorgsky's "Boris Godunoff," the opening presentation of the Chicago City Opera company's seven week season. Between now and Dec. 18 many of the best and most expensive singers in the world will be heard here in an elaborate répertoire of Italian, French, German, and Russian opera.

Ezio Pinza, the distinguished Italian bass who used to be a six day bicycle rider, sings the name part in "Boris" tonight. His principal colleagues will be Elen Longone, formerly Eleanor La Mance [the widow of Paul Longone, late artistic director of the Chicago opera], and Armand Tokatyan. Henry Weber, now the company's musical director, is to conduct this first performance.

"Boris" is laid in Russia about the year 1600. Its settings have the barbaric splendor characteristic of the place and the time. The opera abounds in large scale scenes and massed choruses. Tonight's performance rates as a revival, for the work has not been seen here for nearly eight years.

TWO PIANO RECITAL

Pearl Appel and Ruth Alexander, intelligent and hard working Chicago musicians, offered in Kimball hall last night a program of original and transcribed two piano music. The recital was a benefit for the scholarship fund of Phi Beta fraternity.

The Mozart D major sonata boasted a splendid fluency and a serene beauty of phrasing. The Brahms-Haydn variations were glorified by the restraining gray of the tone colorings and by the performers' dignity of pace.

Among the novelties was Casella's "Pupazzetti," a suite of cleverly condensed standard forms—a march, a berceuse, a serenade, a nocturne, and a polka. The presentation was pat and epigrammatic.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Again we go to war!

This time we're transported back to the days of the world war when, to protect our shores from enemy submarines, submarine chasers were put into action. These were manned by motley crews—any available seamen who would enlist—for it was hard to find able men at home those days, as many will remember.

A large percentage of the chaps secured had never known discipline. Patriotic, they, but resentful under orders. Wallace Beery plays such a one in this movie.

A tug captain he is with an only daughter who has been his devoted companion—and guardian—since the death of the wife and mother. For, altho an able skipper, with master's papers, Thorson is, when off duty, just a lovable old rum hound, irresponsible and unpredictable. . . .

The joy and pride of both father and daughter's hearts is the Susan G. And this deep springing emotion is responsible, in strange fashion, for Jon's enlistment. . . . Under an able young commander—whom, for personal reasons he hates like the devil hates holy water—he gets his first taste of dicipline. He disregards orders in his determination to capture alone and unaided the submarine that had sunk his beloved "Susan" and which, like a still, poisonous spider creeps about the bottom of the waters near Nantucket, commanded by a still, sinister captain, who is without scruple and without mercy—fails in his mission, is court martialed, and. . . . ?

But there comes a day. . . . !

Events are exciting and informative. The acting is all excellent. I think the picture would have been more effective with an all male cast. For, tho Miss Grey is a charming creature and gives all she has to her rôle, the romance between her and hard-bitten "Rocky" Blake—so capably played by Chester Morris—does seem dragged in by the heels.

See you tomorrow.

Dr. DeLee 70 Today; to Mark Anniversary by Visiting Hospital

Dr. Joseph B. DeLee, noted obstetrician, will celebrate his 70th birthday today with a visit to the Chicago Lying-In hospital which he founded.

Dr. DeLee has delivered more than 8,000 babies since he began the practice of medicine in 1892. He is the founder of the Chicago Maternity center, which grew from a four-room dispensary on Maxwell street in 1895, to a famous welfare institution which last year cared for 3,000 tenement mothers and trained 320 medical students in the practice of obstetrics.

Dr. DeLee taught obstetrics at Northwestern university medical school for 32 years.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

On the Subject of Courage

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 27.—To hear Connie Boswell sing, clear, cool notes pouring out of that deep auditorium, you'd hardly think that she was the type of girl who is entitled to all of the medals that they pin on individuals for heroism in action. Yet there are few performers who can match the Boswell record of courage. She is one of the few persons living who has had to whip paralysis twice.

Connie Boswell.

The dread disease first manifested itself in New Orleans when she was 3 years old, brought on when Connie fell off a speeding kid's wagon. She couldn't speak or move a muscle for months. Just when she was returning to normal health, in 1930, the Boswell Sisters were playing a date at Topeka, Kas. Connie decided to play a joke on Sisters Martha and "Vet" by disappearing from the hotel room. She thought the ground was only a foot below the window. But she fell ten feet to the concrete floor of a basement well. Both legs were paralyzed by the fall.

She's recovered the partial use of her limbs, but has to sing from a wheel chair. The point is that she kept on singing, refused to be counted out and she's won headline rating.

Herbert Marshall, after the world war, was left with one leg. By every standard of reckoning Marshall could have enjoyed the prestige of a hero, rested on his laurels. He decided that there was no reason he couldn't go on with his acting career. Doctors advised against it; theatrical producers were dubious. Marshall refused to let them douse his enthusiasm. Today he's one of the top performers of the world.

There is no nicer person in Hollywood. He, who had the right to become bitter, became gayer than all the rest and more charming. Two years ago we brought out the harvest moon dance champions to make a picture. The plane was to get in at the fairly inconvenient hour of 7 a. m. We wanted a movie star to meet the kids at the airport, to give them the thrill of a real movie star welcome. At 7 a. m. Marshall was at the airport and he made those two youngsters feel that they were the most important persons in the world. In my book, he fits into the Legion of Valor.

Because of its very nature, blindness is a body blow to a professional performer. Managers don't want to engage a performer so afflicted because of the fear that the audience will be depressed by the performer's misfortune. Alec Templeton, however, refused to take the count on his knees. There is only one stipulation, in Templeton's act: He is not to be introduced as a blind pianist, and there is to be no reference in advertising or in press agentry to his affliction. He is one of the great acts of show business, a piano virtuoso with a sense of humor so keen that he leaves audiences holding their sides. You've heard performers boast that they "rolled 'em in the aisles." Templeton actually does it.

Nelson Eddy's courage is more responsible for his enormous success than is that of any single actor. Lacking the funds to take lessons, he decided that he'd learn to sing in the only way that was open to him: He bought phonograph records of the great operatic baritones, studied their technique and sang aloud while the records played, to learn where his voice was lacking. If you think that's easy, try it some day on your phonograph—more important, carry it through to the successful conclusion that Eddy achieved. His career was handed to him on a platter, but it was not a silver platter—it was a phonograph platter.

There have been many sensational dancers in vaudeville. One of the greatest is Peg Leg Bates, a Carolina colored boy. I think a train ran over him. A colored boy in the south has a hard enough row to hoe, but a colored boy without a leg has reached a new low in tough sledding. Peg Leg, hopping to school one day, fell in love with a colored girl in the class. His rival was the baseball captain and the one legged boy, sick at heart because he couldn't show off his prowess on the baseball diamond like his rival, decided he'd triumph over his handicap. He did. Today he is a show stopper of vaudeville and night clubs. His introductory song is a warning to the audience not to give him any sympathy; that he wants to be judged strictly on the merit of his dancing. He performs steps that two legged dancers can't match.

Raoul Walsh's career as an actor was cut short on a motor trip through Arizona, when a rabbit, frightened by the headlights, leaped through the windshield. The flying glass cost Raoul an eye. He could have folded up. Walsh instead became one of the top flight directors of the business.

Lionel Barrymore, for the last two years, has been compelled to use crutches as an aid to walking. You can assume that at times the veteran has suffered physical agony and that he often thought to himself that he had earned the right to rest. His career was not an insignificant career; he could retire and still remain an important memory. Barrymore, instead of quitting, insisted that he'd continue acting. "You Can't Take It With You" found him on the screen, on crutches. "On Borrowed Time" found him turning in a magnificent performance, in a wheel chair. In the prize ring, they call that sort of fortitude "moxie."

Smart Money Buys Miles of Braid, Fringe

BY RHEA SEEGER.

It's more fun to snoop in the trimming departments this season than ever before. Braid is being sold by the mile, fringe also is in great demand, while decorative frogs go out as fast as they can be wrapped.

Gold braid, gold fringe, gold tassels are running the black stuff a good race. All in all the trimming counters are enjoying a rush of popularity.

If you've a yen for epaulets [and who hasn't the fever] and the gold metal units are priced too high for your budget try the braid affairs in either gold or black braid. They are smart creations ready for any shoulderline, daytime coat, dress suit jacket, or the colored velvet dress parade jackets. The fringe part hangs down three to four inches and the neat braid top is easy to attach and detach. The prices are considerably lower than the gold metal epaulets and the effect sometimes is better, especially on the braid trimmed wool suits for day wear.

The high fashion black lace bands and edgings for dull crepe or thin wool daytime dresses are available at the trim department. This rage for black lace accents on slim, distinctive dull black dresses continues. It's a new flattery, very becoming and soft in effect, making such models grand ideas for dress parade, afternoon, or for cocktail or dinner outfits.

Sequin braid in copper, silver, or gold and some new arrivals made of multicolored sequins, together with gold braid in graceful leaf designs are featured for jacket trim. Jackets also wear the many widths of fancy gold soutache braid.

Grand Duchess Marie Will Speak in Lecture Series

The Grand Duchess Marie of czarist Russia, and Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., both known as writers, will talk on "The Eve of Europe's War" in Thorne hall on the Northwestern university downtown campus Monday night. The program will be the first in the annual university lecture series.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

You may say and think what you please about the current wasp waist fashion, but it's responsible for a brand new figure consciousness that is going to be awfully good for feminine health as well as silhouette.

More and more women are interested in corrective exercise and sane diet. In the beauty establishments everywhere the body departments, where women exercise or take massage to improve the silhouette, are just as busy as those departments which are set aside for face treatments or hairdressing. It's quite a change from the old days, when women thought only of their faces and let their figures go pretty much to ruin.

More women than ever before are taking dancing lessons. That's marvelous for the figure, for the spirits, and for the litheness that is one of the real secrets of wearing clothes well.

Freak diets are out of fashion. Women are not inclined these enlightened days to follow blindly the trick diet that is recommended by some friend. They ask their physicians for guidance and they know more about food values than they ever knew before.

Posture is a recognized factor in dramatizing the new clothes. You can't wear a bustle or a wasp waist with any success if your shoulders sag or your abdomen is fat and flabby. A trim figure is essential.

For years and years those interested in feminine health have pleaded with women to exercise. Theirs was a voice crying in the wilderness. But Dame Fashion has accomplished what the health experts were about to give up as hopeless.

They Hunted a Fox

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1939: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Alison Young and her fiancé, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, are guests at Chenerys, the English country estate of Tom Boldre, to attend a fox hunt and ball. Wynn Marchmont, sister of Tom's wife, Pat, is engaged to Tom's brother, Derek. Alison overhears a love scene between Pat and Arthur Kingsclere. Chenerys is mortgaged to the hilt. Gregg, Tom's agent, urges him to accept an offer made for the estate, but Tom refuses to sell. At the hunt, from a far off hill, Alison and Colin see Tom thrown and a man bending over him. Reaching the accident, they find Derek stooping over Tom's prostrate form. A farmer, Glover, happens along and helps them. Tom, revived, is surprised that Derek, rather than his neighbor, Maj. Fitts, found him. Three weeks later Tom is again thrown and dies soon after. Alison visits Wynn at Chenerys. Riding near the scene of Tom's first accident they find the dead body of Glover. Official verdict is that Glover was killed by a shot from a passing car. Kingsclere, Derek, and Maj. Fitts all drove that way. Inspector Headcorn from Scotland Yard finds the murder weapon. It belongs to Maj. Fitts, but was stolen the afternoon of the day Glover was shot—after Kingsclere and Derek had called. Dr. Blount, who'd attended Tom, admits he gave Tom an anti-tetanus injection—which caused his death, as he had not been desensitized after a previous injection. The first injection must have been given Tom after his first fall when he was unconscious—whoever gave it must have murdered Glover because he was a witness. Derek admits having anti-tetanus serum which was taken from his room. Derek goes out for a walk in the night—that same night Mrs. Glover is beaten up by some one evidently looking to destroy evidence. The inspector finds Wynn battling with Mrs. Glover over a syringe which Glover had apparently found. Derek is arrested. Wynn and Alison figure some one else may have reached Tom after his first accident before Derek. Wynn finds out Maj. Fitts rode behind Tom. A fire breaks out in Wynn's room at Chenerys in the night. She believes some one is trying to murder her and Alison.

INSTALMENT XLII.

A SADDLE EXAMINED.

"You haven't proved anything," Derek said shortly. "Take my advice, Wynn, and let it drop. It's far better to leave it all to a decent counsel."

Wynn beat her smarting palms on the table. "O, Derek, you utter fool, what can any counsel do for you? You may by a miracle get off at the assizes, but you'll be outlawed here for the whole of your life. Our lives. You can't live at Chenerys—ever. Surely you've thought of that?"

"Of course. What's the good?"

She gave up argument, biting her lips to keep back the tears. After a brief battle she said, "Let it go for now. There's one other thing though. I'd like you to tell me word for word exactly what you told the inspector. You know, about that hunt. If I could just be sure where we stand——"

"Quite." He glanced again at the warder. "Well, you've had the bad luck yarn about the girths and so on. As far as I knew I was right bad luck yarn about the girths and so on. I came out of the timber and saw Tom on the ground. I'd just wiped the mud from his face when Ladbroke and Alison trotted into the open. Ladbroke had a look, said Tom was only stunned, and as he was asking if we could get help Glover suddenly appeared."

Her breath caught. "How long were you alone with Tom?"

"Maybe three minutes. I didn't look at my watch."

"Derek, is this all you said to the inspector?"

"Certainly," he answered, but his gaze quickened oddly.

She sat pulling at her gloves. "I see." She rose to her feet.

Derek stood up. The table made a wide barrier between them. Neither looked at the other. The warder held open the door.

Wynn felt dizzy. There was something Derek had kept back.

"O, God," she prayed, "don't let it be that damned electric wiring!"

* * * * *

The door of the saddle room was locked.

Alison turned furtively round, and saw Gregg beside her.

"O! Could I just take a peek at the hunting saddles? I might even ask your advice. I wanted to order one as a present."

Had she been glib enough? She couldn't quite tell. Anyhow she had achieved her object. Brightening a little, Gregg had got out a bunch of keys and was ushering her into the sun-specked dusk of the room.

"Try Riggs," said Gregg. "St. James', you know. He's almost the only good, old fashioned saddle maker left in London." He slapped a gleaming, nut brown saddle and stood mourning over it.

"Tom's," he informed her. "You won't do better than to have this copied."

"What a lot of funny straps!"

"O, just the usual. This fellow takes sandwiches as a rule!" His hollow eyes were upon her. "I say, that was a baddish scare you two had last night. I always warned Tom about that wiring. What roused you, smoke?"

"I heard Wynn shout—and just in time, too. In another minute we'd have been cut off from the stairs, and a jump from the windows would have been fatal." She was uncomfortable, as she had been the previous evening when alone with Gregg in the shrubbery. At random she asked, "Whose saddle is this?"

"That? O, Derek's. Less good. And Wynn's been along to Gloucester, has she?"

Again he was pumping her for news, but it was not this which had swamped her in fresh consternation. Her sudden hunch had been right. Her riddle was now solved.

It had always puzzled her that no one seemed to have noticed an unsightly bulge in Derek's skintight hunting coat. Obviously not. There had been no bulge. Here, secured by this strap, was how the tubular syringe had been carried.

She knew also how the syringe had fallen into Glover's hands. Hurriedly replaced, it had slipped loose, lain on the ground for Glover to pick up.

She jumped and dropped the saddle as though it had burnt her. The major himself was pottering in to join them.

"Back from Gloucester, what?" he opened. "She's seen him, then."

He did not pursue the topic. Instead he had fixed his monocle on the still swaying saddle. Still staring at it he touched abruptly on the fire.

"Been having a look at the damage on that landing. I know a bit about electric stuff. Those wires are exposed. Any chance Padgett's been messing about with them?"

Gregg answered, "I understand he was given strict orders to leave everything alone."

"O—ah!"

The two friends exchanged glances. The atmosphere was heavily charged with embarrassment. For a second the major's gaze rested on Alison's warm cheeks, then it returned to the saddle. His stumpy finger poked at the high pommel. With a pointed change of subject he barked, "Who uses this, hey?"

"Derek." Gregg fumbled his keys.

The major turned brick colored.

The three moved houseward, the major downcast, Gregg oddly smug. As they neared the entrance Wynn burst out excitedly.

"He's coming at 9," she announced, and looked sorry she had spoken. Her eye had taken in the fact that Alison was not alone.

Once more there was a covert interplay of glances. The meaning of it struck Alison full between the eyes. The major had been examining the big gap the fire had made in the wainscoting—and he had some knowledge of electric lighting! He had seen, then, what she could only suspect—that last night's scare had been a frantic hoax.

* * * * *

Headcorn sent the ray of his torch boring into the charred hole low down in the wainscoting. It shifted and for long moments picked out the coiled wires drawn forth and laid on crisp, blackened carpet. At last the livid beam cut a wide arc in the gloom. It played briefly on old hunting prints, dim behind smoked glass, came to rest on the two watchers.

"Well?" breathed Wynn tensely.

For answer Headcorn touched a switch. Four brackets flooded the landing with light. Nothing wrong here. He rose, dusted his knees.

"And now may I wash my hands? I know the way, thanks. I'll join you downstairs."

ed Jan. 12 and delayed decision on a place.

The Racquet club decided yesterday to postpone its ball. The club will confine its celebration of the remodeling of its quarters to a cocktail tea on Nov. 30. A ball will be given later in the season.

Longmeadow Holds Trials Tomorrow.

Not very many years ago only a handful of persons in this vicinity knew what a hunter trial was, much less knowing how to take part in one. Today, thanks to the numerous hunter trials that the various hunts have arranged in the last few years, there are hundreds who enjoy watching such events.

A hunter trial is a test of a horse, not its rider, so, properly speaking, it is the hunter that wins, not its master. The rider is an important adjunct, to be sure.

W. Brock Fuller of Milwaukee, Randall E. Poindexter, M. F. H. of the Smithtown Hunt on Long Island, and Maj. Paul H. Morris of Fort Sheridan will be the judges in the Longmeadow Hunter trials tomorrow. Mr. Poindexter, who used to be a whip of the Longmeadow, and Mrs. Poindexter and the Fullers are spending the week-end with the Clark J. Lawrences. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are giving a dinner for the judges tonight and the Denison B. Hulls will entertain at luncheon tomorrow for the visitors.

Mr. Hull and Mr. Lawrence are joint masters of the Longmeadow and have donated a trophy to be awarded to the winning hunter tomorrow. The Ernest S. Ballards will give a tea this afternoon for the judges and participants in the trials.

The trials will be held from 10 in the morning until late afternoon at the new Longmeadow kennels on Lee road, the first road west of Skokie boulevard, between Dundee and County Line roads. The Onwentsia, the Mill Creek, and the Wayne hunts, as well as the Longmeadow, will be represented in the trials.

Robert Burnets Return to East.

Mrs. L. Edward Hart Jr. met her brother's bride of a year for the first time this week when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnet passed thru town. They were on their way from California to New York, where they live.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kemper Jr. [Eleanor Kirkland] and their infant son arrived yesterday from their home in Pelham, N. Y., to visit his parents, the senior Mr. and Mrs. Kemper, and hers, the Weymouth Kirklands. It is the baby's first trip west.

Dr. and Mrs. John O. Vieta [Henrietta Countiss] and her brother, Frederick D. Countiss Jr., went east to attend the funeral yesterday in Greenwich, Conn., of Mrs. Vieta's and Mr. Countiss' uncle, William A. Evans. Mr. Evans died of a heart attack last Wednesday.

His death is the second in the family within a few weeks. The Evanses lost their only child, William Alexander Jr., in an automobile accident in San Francisco in September. The son had been married in May.

M. René Weiller, French consul general, will give the opening lecture of the Saturday series at the Alliance Francaise at 11:30 o'clock this morning. He will speak on "Why France Is at War." M. Weiller, who has recently received the order of officer of the Legion of Honor, will be the especial guest at a luncheon at the Tavern club following the lecture.

Studio Makes Peace with Bette Davis; Announce New Film

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 27 (AP).—Bette Davis, who quarreled with her studio because of a too heavy schedule of work, is at peace with her employers again—but they're still going to keep her busy.

Warner Brothers announced the actress would start another series of pictures with "The Woman Brown."

Altho she no longer will be required to turn out four pictures a year, at least two other pictures, "All This and Heaven Too" and "No Time for Comedy," already are being lined up for her.

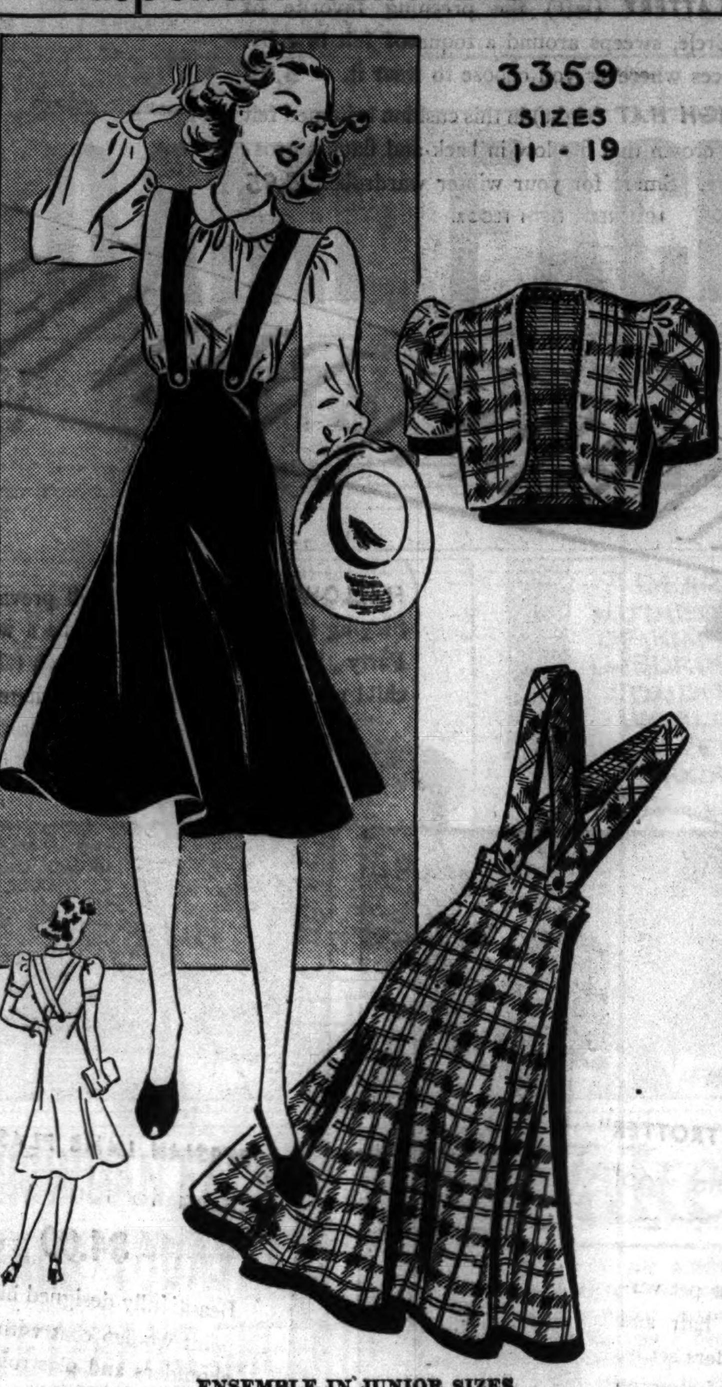
Suspender Skirt Ensemble



ENSEMBLE IN JUNIOR SIZES.

It takes the slim waisted and beautifully proportioned figures of the juniors to wear this type of outfit well, so we've designed it in their sizes only to prevent temptation on the part of those of us who are not too slender! The pattern makes a long-sleeved blouse [or short-sleeved if you wish], a suspender skirt, and a bolero. Skirt and bolero may match or contrast. All types of woolens and silks make up well. This is a grand model for school wear, and in the more expensive materials it is equally good for "dates."

Style No. 3359 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Size 15 requires 2¼ yards of 39 inch material for suspender skirt; 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material for long-sleeved blouse; 1¼ yards of 39 inch for bolero.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Many Reasons Back of Child's Pleas for Help

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you've ever worked with a group of young children you'll always find some who, after a half hearted attempt to do a thing, especially if it's a new thing, will turn to you and say, "I can't do it—you help me."

This is a state of mind that usually comes along after a little boy or girl has passed an earlier learning stage in which, with most normal children, the cry is: "Let me do it myself!"

Today we're going to look for the reason why some children a little older, perhaps of kindergarten age, say repeatedly, "I can't do it—you help me."

One or more of a number of reasons may account for this attitude. Let us see what they may be. Perhaps:

[a] The child is by nature timid, or has been made so by constant fear inspiring comments and restraints.

[b] His mother may give him constant directions, or tell him how to do this or that without allowing him to learn by experience, or by trial and error.

[c] His parents may be quick to criticize normal mistakes or akwardness, thus shaking his confidence in himself.

[d] His mother may have even discussed his timidity, or clumsiness, or lack of initiative in his presence, accentuating all three.

[e] His grownups may help him too much, though with the best of intentions.

[f] Or the child who says "I can't do it—you do it for me' may be below par physically, may be nervous [due to any one of several causes such as a past serious illness or being ruled by fear], or he may have some physical defect or illness [such as poor eyesight, poor hearing, or a cardiac ailment]. Lack of vitality has a great deal to do with a child's courage and initiative.

Patience in different aspects is described in our booklet, "Make Patience Your Handmaiden." Send a stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

October 28, 1939.

If you got off on the wrong foot somewhere last week, here's a good day in which to make a new beginning.

Those celebrating today may have found this a rather difficult year requiring some self-sacrificing. The year ahead is not exactly bright. It is rather monotone. Growth inwardly will be more successful than ambition for material growth. Since those born on the 28th can be original in thought, try to work out some new slant next year.

The executive committee of the Gideons yesterday placed an order for 250,00 Bibles, the largest order in the history of the association. Andrew Wycenbeek, a member of the committee, said the European war has stimulated interest in the Bible. The association plans to place the new copies during 1940 in hotels, schoolrooms, hospitals, jails, and other institutions. During its forty years of activity the Gideons have distributed 1,600,819 Bibles thruout the world.

ENGLISH LEMON CURD: The English like their "lemon curd," a rich egg, butter, and lemon mixture which tastes quite like an extra good lemon pie filling but with more grated rind in it than usual. They like it on toast, English muffins, French toast, pancakes, in sandwiches, as a cake filling, in tart shells. They like it as a smooth, delectable sauce for puddings, fruit cakes, and angel cakes.

Because one Englishwoman missed her lemon curd when she came to this country to live, she got out an old fashioned recipe and started making her own. All her American friends fell in love with it, too, and now it's being marketed commercially. A downtown store carries it. Luscious, right out of the jar!

OLD FASHIONED PLUM PUDDING: The popular old fashioned English plum pudding now comes in cans. Heat the pudding in the can, open it up, slice it, and serve with a special brandy hard sauce which may be bought by the jar. Here's a quick and simple dessert, one appropriate to the season, and one of home made flavor and excellent quality.

[Names of pudding, sauce, and lemon curd will be furnished to any one interested. Telephone or write, sending stamped, self addressed envelope.]

ARE YOU A VEGETARIAN? A true vegetarian relies completely upon vegetable sources for food, abstaining from milk, milk products, such as cheese and butter; and eggs. The common, garden variety of vegetarian abstains only from meat. The diet of the true vegetarian is not likely to be adequate or satisfactory, for he will have to eat enormous amounts of plant foods to fulfill his body's protein needs. The "vegetarian" who drinks plenty of milk, eats cheese and butter, and likes his eggs can have a diet which supplies sufficient protein along with his vitamins. If you're bound to abstain from meats, better be what is termed the "lacto-vegetarian," and include healthful eggs, milk, and cheese.

WHY NOT TRY THESE MEATS? Seldom cooked, but good, and good for you, are hearts, kidneys, ox tails [braise them or make soup], tripe, tongue, brains, and sweetbreads.

Or ask for these not-so-usual cuts: butterfly pork chops, veal scallops, veal rosettes, kidney veal chops, beef shoulder fillet, flank steak fillets, cross-cut beef shank, and English lamb chops.

WILD BOAR HUNT: That ancient sport, hunting the wild boar, is now in season in the wilds of North Carolina and Tennessee, where about a thousand of these fast, ferocious animals roam. All are descendents of a single pair of boars imported long ago by an Englishman for a game preserve in the mountains.

The wild boars which are captured are roasted. I've heard tell that there's more fun in hunting them than in eating them. The flesh is supposed to taste like squirrel—if you happen to know what squirrel tastes like!

There need be no vegetable monotony in your day-to-day meal planning if you vary preparation with the recipes in Mary Meade's booklet, "Ways with Vegetables." Send 7 cents in stamps for the booklet, or drop in at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, and get it for 5 cents.

"The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 diamonds	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

"The four no trump bid was according to the Blackwood convention and South's five diamond bid showed one ace. Of course, it was just hard luck to go down two tricks, but you will notice that we had no play for the contract, since at the very least we would have to lose one diamond and one club. E. F. R., Missouri."

The fault in this deal must be placed 100 per cent on North's shoulders. His bidding was far too optimistic. To begin, he did not have the values for a three heart response to the opening spade bid. To quote the Gold Book, such a response requires:

[a] 3½ honor tricks and a strong rebiddable suit, or

[b] 3½ honor tricks with a biddable suit and such strong support for partner's suit that a double raise could have been made, or

[c] 4½ or more honor tricks with any biddable [even a four card] suit.

Obviously North's holding did not measure up to any of the above. His correct response to one spade was three spades. Then, if South showed a second suit, hearts, North would be justified in using a four no trump bid as a slam try. But since South, having opened with one spade, did no more than raise three hearts to four hearts, North certainly should have taken no greater action than to return to spades.

Of course, in criticizing the bidding, it must not be overlooked that the partnership found rather hard luck in the fact that their minor suits matched so badly. If North had had two diamonds and three clubs, instead of the reverse, the slam would have been an odds-on chance, the presumption being that the heart suit would not break so horribly and that the spade suit would break no worse than 3-1. Thus North-South need not censure themselves too severely for the bad result, but can solace themselves, at least partly, with the reflection that fate was not kind to them in this deal.

Tongue Trips After Drinks; Loses Friends

BY DORIS BLAKE.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I am 28 and a man who likes a drink now and then. Don't misjudge me. I am no chronic drinker. I can carry it, as the expression goes. But on one particular evening recently it didn't carry my tongue properly. At the party were two young women, the nicest and most attractive girls I ever met. I'd rather cut off my arm, and I honestly mean that, than deliberately hurt the feelings of either of them.

"I seem to have managed to do just that thing to both of them. The girls, thinking me cold sober, because I can carry my liquor, infer that I knew exactly what I was saying and doing. I understand I told one of them she was overbearing and bossy [and she's the most considerate and least assertive as far as other people's feelings go]. I informed the other young woman that she was most unfeminine in her attitude and much too quick in giving her opinions without being asked for them.

"The point is that I have offended the two people in the world of whom I think the most, and I am so darned ashamed of myself I haven't the courage or the heart to call them up since. What would you do?

BERT."

We imagine a number of men would get a laugh out of your situation, a sympathetic laugh, it would be, for they've been there, too. It's bad the things that liquor will do to set the tongue galloping. As if you didn't know that yourself after your experience! One of the difficulties about letting loose that way is that there is an old saying to the effect that the drunken tongue speaks what's on the mind.

At least, Bert, you weren't nasty in the sense of low vulgarities, and some men are that under liquor influence.

However, we think the young women should give you another chance if you wrote them as convincingly of your regret over the incident as you have written us. Why don't you send your penitential note with some well chosen flowers? Flowers are known to assuage hurt feelings. You've got to apologize, so you'd better get it over with quickly and not let time widen the breach in friendship.

Questionnaire Is a Check on Your Manner

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Check up on yourself with a personality questionnaire," suggests Actress Dinah Shore, "to keep from 'slipping' unintentionally. Most of us have excellent ideas as to just the sort of persons we'd like to be, and I think therefore it's a good idea to have a regular check-up to keep from lowering these standards.

"A regular check-up of some sort is desirable," says Miss Shore, "because it keeps us from getting too smug in our outlook on life, and reminds us to observe the amenities of dress and behavior."

Questionnaires are very popular these days, and you might make up one to conform to your personal needs. Look at it regularly and answer the questions honestly. It's a grand way to keep from slipping. The following questionnaire is offered by Miss Shore as a guide:

1. Are your clothes always clean and pressed?
2. Is your costume assembled intelligently, or do you wear veils with tweeds?
3. Do you insist on having your way when your companion doesn't concur?
4. Have you made any enemies? Could this have been avoided?
5. Do you "ride" people in an effort to amuse others?
6. Are you lavish with praise, or do you give it grudgingly?
7. Do you show irritation when proved to be wrong?
8. Do you gloat over your success when right?
9. Do you buy clothes with an eye for the sensational?
10. Do you cultivate persons who are not "important"?
11. Have you neglected any of your friends?
12. Do you speak sharply to employés?
13. Do you fawn upon superiors?
14. Do you invite friendliness?

AMUSEMENTS.

It's a mystery to us, too . . . the softly shimmering gleams of color in a fabric that looks like other fine shetlands until the light strikes it at certain angles. This much, however, we know—radical changes in the weaving process were made by the noted mill that wove them and no other mill knows the secret. Such imported fabrics are up as much as $1.50 a yard because they can't be duplicated. Yet these are still at their original $39.

Capt. Steve Andrako.

Columbus, O., Oct. 27.—Fifty-two Cornell football players, almost all the boys who own big red sweaters with numbers attached, arrived here this morning, worked out this afternoon, and tonight didn't seem very much awed about being the first Cornell team ever to venture into Columbus. It is evident they expect to beat the undefeated Ohio State Buckeyes here tomorrow.

The Cornells didn't even seem to mind the day's instalment of a four day downpour, which has been splattering here. They'd rather have a nice day for their foxy stuff, but they proved last Saturday they are good mudders. It was raining, you know, when they ran up a 47 to 0 score on Penn State.

A Nice Day Is Promised.

Regardless of the player attitude toward moisture, the weather experts are promising a nice day for the 60,000 who want to be on hand and will be, if it turns out to be a dry afternoon. The weather experts have been calling this storm, shower for shower, and thunder by thunder, so it is reasonable to suppose they know what they are talking about when they say the storm will be over shortly after dawn tomorrow. The Buckeye groundkeepers have been doing their part to insure a spectacular game. They have been keeping a constant vigil over their elegant tarpaulin, making sure not one teeny drop seeped under the edges.

The lads from Ithaca by registering confidence in no way eclipsed the Buckeyes. The O. S. U. players, or at least their followers, weren't so cocky before the season began. But now, with victories over Missouri, Northwestern, and Minnesota chalked up, the first two by shutouts, the Buckeyes seem justified in their confident attitude.

Buckeyes in Good Shape.

Coach Francis Schmidt's selection of his opening lineup was not dictated by any consideration except football expediency, except at the tackles. If O. S. U. had no sick bay at all, Jim Daniell probably would have been named to start at left tackle and Charley Maag at right tackle. But both have leg bruises and won't start. This, tho, has caused no deep chagrin from a practical standpoint, for Thornton Dixon and Jack Stephenson, each of whom played 40 minutes of bang-up football against Minnesota, virtually earned their starting assignments.

During the week little has come from either the Cornell or Ohio camp about defense. Each team appears to believe its defense has shown its capabilities, altho there have been some references to Buckeye weakness against certain types of skilled forward passing.

A Lot of Offense in Prospect.

All in all, there hasn't been too much intricate planning about tight football. Each team has a starting back field that can go like everything. Each side is expecting its back field to keep the other side so busy that defense and the crowd alike will be in an uproar all afternoon. Most of the 60,000 paying guests probably hope this is true. No one is looking for any of that 0 to 0 business tomorrow.

Full Back Jim Langhurst has been the ball-carryingest Buckeye to date. He has negotiated 202 of the 552 yards the Buckeyes have made from scrimmage.

The same fellows who are calling Esco Sarkkinen the best end Ohio State ever had are beginning to say Langhurst may be the all-time best full back the Buckeyes ever had if he keeps on at his recent rate of improvement, and Capt. Steve Andrako one of their best centers.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 27.—When this football season has ended the University of Michigan again may be the champions of the west. Yale university's squad, encamped tonight in nearby Dearborn, victor over Columbia and Army in two of its three major games, will test the undefeated Wolverines further tomorrow afternoon. Fifty thousand, weather permitting, will watch the intersectional battle.

But whether this modern Michigan team, which failed of a Western conference championship last year by one point, wins from Yale or not, the outcome probably is of secondary importance to the men Michigan will honor tomorrow. For these men, 62 veterans of the point-a-minute teams from 1901 to 1905, are the champions of the west. For them was written the stirring song of the maize and blue, "The Victors."

Yost Is Their Host.

Tonight they were returning to a campus they no longer knew. Grizzled, many of them stooped with the years, these gridiron immortals who compiled football's greatest record, an undefeated span of 56 games in which they scored nearly 3,000 points, gathered at the invitation of their old leader, Fielding H. Yost, now in his 39th year at Michigan.

This reunion, to be climaxed after tomorrow's luncheon by between-halves ceremonies in Michigan's bowl, is the visible link between the boys who are seeking new honors and those who wrote their names in the athletic history of the west. This reunion, moreover, may be final tribute to Hurry Up Yost, who built those unrivaled elevens for Michigan.

Six 1901 Stars Are Gone.

Six of the 13 members [two were substitutes] of the 1901 team are dead. Of the remaining seven, five answered the assembly call. They include the great Willie Heston, plunging, driving half back who was Michigan's first all-American and who did not play in a losing game in four years; H. S. Graver, Chicago; William H. Herrnstein, Chillicothe, O.; Arthur E. Redner, Detroit, and Everett Sweeley, Twin Falls, Idaho.

In all, 166 players, including 87 who were members of teams after 1905, have accepted invitations to tomorrow's game.

Yale Line Is Good.

The question that looms over tomorrow's intersectional contest is the weather. For two days, fog and rain have swept this lake region and the only hope is the prediction for cooler, clear weather. The Yale men, headed by Raymond W. [Ducky] Pond, a member of the Tribune's All-Star coaching staff in 1938, arrived in Detroit during the midmorning downpour. After lunch in Dearborn inn the players started for Ann Arbor, but Coach Pond said they would not drill at all if it rained.

Pond confirmed reports on the Yale line. "It is the best since I have been head coach," he said in agreement with scouting information of Michigan's end coach, Campbell Dickson.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

JOE Maniaci, the Bear full back who wants to enter business in Chicago, had two offers from major league teams while a senior at Lodi, N. J., high school. . . . He was a heavy hitting outfielder, but a shoulder injury in football destroyed his throwing arm. . . . Kentucky's new senator, the former Gov. A. B. [Happy] Chandler, will accompany his old college chum, Bo McMillin, to the Ohio State-Cornell game today. . . . McMillin will scout Ohio State. . . . Bob Bjorklund, Minnesota center, is a cousin of George and Bud Svendsen, who starred at the position for the Gophers and Green Bay Packers. . . . John Stegeman, varsity end at the University of Kentucky, is a son of Herman J. Stegeman, former Maroon athlete, who died last week after serving 20 years at the University of Georgia as director of athletics, coach and dean of men. . . . Add narrow escapes: In 1880 croquet was so popular it threatened to supplant baseball as the national sport. . . . Wisconsin's cross country team has won eighteen consecutive meets. . . . Clipper Smith, Villanova coach, says that if patent leather football shoes were manufactured he would recommend their purchase to his players. . . . Clipper claims the well-dressed team has a psychological advantage. . . . Out of a total male enrollment of 63,000 in Western conference schools, only 4,000 are varsity athletes, which should be another answer to overemphasis alarmists. . . .

Lew Fonseca, while admitting Mike Kreevich perhaps is the best all around player with the White Sox, designates Mike Tresh as the team's most valuable man in 1939. . . . Seventeen years ago today 30,000 spectators jammed Stagg field to see Princeton defeat a valiant University of Chicago team, 21 to 18. . . . Part of the wooden fence around the field was knocked down by the thousands unable to gain admission and fire hoses were used to keep the crowds off the field. . . . Station KYW put the game on the air, the first radio broadcast of a football game in Chicago. . . . Arthur Wirtz and James Norris Sr. of the Chicago Stadium spent $200,000 equipping the Indianapolis coliseum with an ice plant for their minor league hockey team. . . . Jimmy [Squarehead] Lawrence, former Chicago Cardinal half back released recently by Cleveland, has signed with Green Bay, where the Packers have discovered he is an excellent passer. . . .

Kokomo Sue.

Yesterday an old time friend
Introduced me to an end—
A big fellow with a face like a gorilla;
He had gab enough for three
And he turned it all on me;
But of manners he had not the least scintilla.

He had carrots on his vest
That he carried from the west,
And a few of them had just begun to sprout;
And I marveled at his ease
In concealing young green peas
In the folds of his gray tie or thereabout.

When he used his table knife
I was fearful for his life
For he seemed hell-bent on tonsilectomy;
And you'd think he had the croup
When he blew upon his soup,
For he did his wheezing in a minor key.

But he certainly could play,
Or at least that's what they say,
And his picture's in the College Hall of Fame;
Though he never cracks a book
And he'd scare you with his look,
All the campus molls are for him just the same. —T. E. B.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 27 [Special].—Rivalry, which flared between Rock Island and Moline High school students and culminated in a pitched battle with eggs and fruit at the school stadium here Wednesday night resulted today in cancellation of the football game between the two schools which was scheduled for tonight. School officials took the action because they feared casualties might result if the battle was resumed as had been threatened. The contending teams have been rivals for years.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27.—Notre Dame, the team which goes week after week without playing a setup, stands ready to engage Carnegie Tech tomorrow afternoon. A glance at the Irish schedule might give the impression that this is just one more tough assignment shuffled among eight other hard ones, but those who remember the great battles of the past know that Carnegie Tech, year in and year out, ranks among Notre Dame's most implacable opponents. For that reason, 68,000 football fans will gather in Pitt stadium to see the unbeaten Irish eleven go thru one of the most precarious hours of its campaign.

More than two weeks ago the last available ticket was sold. Since then the furor has been rising steadily in intensity. Tonight the entire Carnegie student body is going wild at a rally such as would have done credit to the Indians, who once held similar demonstrations before sending their war parties down from the high hills that rim this ancient town. Tho most teams hide away on the eve of important games, the Carnegie squad is in the center of tumult.

Irish Team Hides Out.

Tonight the lobby of one of Pittsburgh's hotels is jammed with Notre Dame alumni, holding a reunion. Thru the cigar smoke comes talk of old games and old times, but the team is slumbering tranquilly at St. Vincent's college, Latrobe, Pa., 30 miles away from the hubbub.

Many are wondering if the hopes generated at Carnegie's rally are likely to prove futile. All they have to do is look back at the record and see that Carnegie's case against Notre Dame is nearly always a good one. Back in 1926, Notre Dame swept undefeated thru game after game until it faced Carnegie, the second last opponent on its schedule. The engagement was looked upon as mere routine, but it was the last Carnegie-Notre Dame game that was ever looked on as routine. For the Scots, who had shown no particular power earlier in the season, staggered the Irish with a 19 to 0 defeat.

Gave Irish Bad Licking.

In 1928 Carnegie gave Notre Dame one of the worst beatings in its history, 27 to 7, this being the first time in 23 years that an Irish team had lost a game on old Cartier field. A Notre Dame team that went two seasons without a defeat was able to beat Carnegie only 7 to 0 in 1929. Last year Notre Dame won, 7 to 0, scoring on a 47 yard march after the widely discussed fourth down play which cost Carnegie the ball.

For those reasons, the 1939 eleven which has a chance to earn a place among the great teams of Notre Dame's past, is approaching tomorrow's game with great wariness. It is in splendid condition, however, ready for one of its best efforts. With four victories behind them the Notre Dame athletes have neared perfection in their running game, having piled up more than 400 yards against Navy last Saturday. They may be ready to cut loose with a passing game, too, if necessary, because that weapon has always been an important item in Notre Dame equipment.

Badgers Await Hawkeyes and Nile Kinnick

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 27.—With three straight defeats hanging from their respective necks, Wisconsin's Badgers aren't exactly a jovial lot of footballers. But, as always, there is the lingering hope that one of these fine days the lads in the Cardinal hued jerseys might begin to click. Tomorrow has been informally dedicated as the time for the clicking, the victims to be the running, kicking, passing Nile Kinnick and his associate Iowa Hawkeyes.

As salve for the wounds incurred at the hands of Texas, Indiana, and Northwestern, the Badgers have been told they really aren't as bad as they looked on those three occasions. The experts in the psychology clinic have figured out that, with just a little break here or there, Coach Harry Stuhldreher's football pupils might have captured the last two battles.

They're Ready for Nile.

The fact that Kinnick will be among tomorrow's entertainers has steered the course for the Badgers' daily practice during the last week. Scrimmage was blacked out so there would be more time to rehearse a defense against the kind of passes Kinnick has been throwing to his battery mate, Capt. Erwin Prasse. The

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Northwestern university's Wildcats, having regained face and the right to use their nickname by their victory over Wisconsin last Saturday, this afternoon will celebrate their annual homecoming in Dyche stadium by battling the University of Illinois eleven. The Wildcats have gone to great pains to make this homecoming one of their very finest. They have rounded up twenty-three former captains of the last fifty years. They are including an Illinois alumnus and a Northwestern graduate among the four officials. They had a dandy pep session at Roycemore field last night. They are having a grand parade thru downtown Evanston this morning and 35,000 are expected at the game.

Thru all the harmony of this homecoming preparation, however, there is one discordant note. That is the presence of Robert C. Zuppke, a guileful and talented little gent, and the thirty-five Illini he bivouacked for the night in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

They Don't Trust Zup.

There is great foreboding among the homecomers, notably among the Wildcat coaching board, that Mynheer Zuppke and his men may throw the whole homecoming machinery out of whack by sundown this eve. If this disaster should be perpetrated, it would not be a novelty, as is borne out by the records of the Northwestern-Illinois feud of the last ten years. Within that span, the Wildcats have won seven games, but the three defeats, highly embarrassing in view of the fact that they were at homecomings, were suffered in Evanston.

Those three Illini victories were scored in 1933 by 3 to 0, in 1934 by 14 to 3, and in 1937 by 6 to 0. Furthermore, the visitors hold the edge in the entire series of thirty-two games in a forty-seven year stretch, seventeen games to twelve with three tied.

Forget the Records.

The 1939 records of the two rivals of today are not overly prepossessing, but each is at that stage where any victory is important. The Wildcats are one up by virtue of their defeat of Wisconsin, which followed losses to Oklahoma and Ohio State. The Illini have trod a rougher road, being tied by Bradley, losing to Southern California, and last Saturday yielding a tough 7 to 6 struggle to Indiana.

Illinois' performance against an Indiana team which had tied Nebraska, lost a thriller to Iowa and then licked Wisconsin gives rise to a suspicion that it will be very annoying this afternoon. The Illinois line is a right sizeable one and its defensive workmanship is reflected by its efforts thru most of the Southern California game and thruout the Indiana battle. Zuppke has indicated that the right side of his forward wall will show three new starting names—Wes Martin at guard, Tom Riggs at tackle, and Dave Dillon at end.

Illini Always Fight.

Northwestern has learned to expect a tough defense from every Illinois team, not to mention good punting, which, in this case, probably will be handled by George Rettinger, full back, who has distinguished himself this season.

Coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern recently recalled the 1937 defeat by the Illini, in which the visitors scored in the last quarter after squelching the Wildcat offense. Northwestern's line that day revealed a paucity of guards, particularly on the left side of the line, three of those in the latter position being unavailable for action. In today's game, however, Waldorf feels himself fortified at guards in the presence of Joe Lokanc and Hal Method. Of course, he would feel a mite stronger if able Don Guritz were in there, but an ailing ankle probably will keep Guritz out for two weeks.

Another definite absentee will be Oliver [Red] Hahnenstein, who will have a foot in a cast until Monday.

The Northwestern ticket department announced last night that general admission seats in the end stands will go on sale at Dyche stadium today. These can be had at $1.75 each, with a 40 cent fee obtaining for children.

BIMELECH HEADS FIELD IN $40,000 2 YEAR OLD RACE

Nine Entered in Futurity at Narragansett.

Pawtucket, R. I., Oct. 27 (AP).—A field of nine young turf stars, including the undefeated 2 year old Bimelech, were entered today for the third running of the $25,000 added New England futurity at Narragansett Park tomorrow.

Only eight had been expected—Bimelech, Dusky Duke, Equistone, Fenelon, Straight Lead, Strawberry, One O' One, and Sun Dodger—but today they were joined by a challenger from Canada, the Cosgrove stable's Fairy Imp, daughter of Gino out of Dark Fairy, and the only filly in the field.

With the weather unsettled, there remained doubt that all nine actually would go to the post for a mile and 70 yards, which will be worth close to $40,000 for the winner.

Bimelech, winner of the Belmont futurity and four other races totaling $101,860, must carry top weight of 122 pounds.

WHITNEY HORSES FAVORITES.

New York, Oct. 27 (AP).—The Whitneys, one of the turf's first families, appeared to be in command of the renewals of a pair of 20 year old handicaps at Empire City tomorrow.

J. H. Whitney's Calory is the popular choice in the $10,000 added Ardsley handicap at a mile and 70 yards for 2 year olds, and Mrs. Payne Whitney's consistent 3 year old, Third Degree, looks best in the Scarsdale mile and 70 yards for older horses, a $5,000 added attraction.

All told, 17 juveniles were nominated for the Ardsley, but the Whitney homebred, coupled with Woof Woof as an entry, appears the class of the field. Top weighted at 126 pounds, the bay son of Manna figures to have his stiffest contention from Mrs. C. S. Payson's Call to Colors and Mrs. E. G. Lewis' Jacomar.

Third Degree had 13 others entered with him in the Scarsdale, but despite the presence of several older and well liked horses, the Questionnaire colt, out of the Broomstick line, has been too consistent this fall to be other than the favorite.

WILSON ELEVEN TRIUMPHS, 19-0, OVER AMERICAN

Wilson Junior college defeated the American college football team, 19 to 0, yesterday in Ogden park.

Raschick caught the ball after a blocked punt in the opening period and ran five yards for a touchdown. Roche scored twice, taking a ten yard pass from Erwin and running thirty yards in the second period, and in the last quarter plunging six yards.

Sportsman's to Run Meeting Until Nov. 4

The request of operators of Sportsman's Park, half mile race track in Cicero, for an extension of the current meeting thru Nov. 4, was granted yesterday by the Illinois racing commission. The track's original closing date was to have been next Tuesday. The extension of time was asked by Edward O'Hare and John Patton, operators of the track, at the request of horsemen. Post time for the remainder of the meeting will be 1:30 p. m. instead of 1:45.

Miss Balko, a five year old bay mare running under the blue and red silks of F. E. Waldron, and coupled with French Bread in the betting, had things her own way in the La Grange purse, the five furlong feature event at Sportsman's yesterday. Ridden by Andy Loturco, the winner went to the front shortly after the start and increased her lead over Heidi, as the field swung into the stretch. Jockana was third. Miss Balko paid $5, $3.20 and $2.60.

Pitt, Fordham Meet Today in Polo Grounds

New York, Oct. 27 [Special].—One of New York's favorite football shows returns tomorrow from an engagement on the road and some 50,000 are expected to sit in at the Polo Grounds as Fordham and Pittsburgh face each other again.

Not since 1937 have the two come together in New York and never have the fans seen either side score a point here. Last year the three year scoreless deadlock was finally broken when Pitt whipped Fordham, 24 to 13, in Pittsburgh. Tomorrow Fordham aims for its first victory over the Panthers.

The Pitt players arrived today and held a brief workout at the Polo Grounds. Fordham's squad remained uptown at Rose Hill for its final workout.

In another important New York game the University of Georgia team, fired with a desire to register a major victory, will oppose the New York university eleven at the Yankee stadium tomorrow. The southerners, who are playing their first season under Head Coach Wallace Butts, arrived today and held a brisk workout in the stadium.

ISOLATER IS HURT IN STALL; MAY BE THRU UNTIL '40

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 27 (AP).—The injury jinx that has dogged William Woodward's horses this year struck again today, knocking Isolater out of the Washington handicap and Pimlico special and probably ending his racing for the 1939 season.

Isolater, which would have been favored to take the $15,000 added Washington handicap at Laurel tomorrow in a final tune up for Wednesday's special, cast himself in his stall last night and injured his left hock in trying to release himself.

Assistant trainer Tom Driscoll said Isolater apparently had rolled over on his back and in attempting to regain his feet either kicked his hock or struck it against the wall. The joint was filled, bruised and feverish. It left Isolater limping.

Only 2,500 Tickets Left for Purdue-Indiana Game

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 27 [Special].—Only 2,500 tickets remained today for the Indiana-Purdue football game here Nov. 25, according to Ticket Manager L. L. Fisher.

THREE REGULARS OUT, MARQUETTE BATTLES ARIZONA

Hilltoppers Hope to Get Revenge for '38 Defeat.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27 [Special].—A crippled Marquette football team will meet the University of Arizona eleven at the Marquette homecoming here tomorrow in an effort to gain revenge for a 20 to 12 setback received at the hands of the Wildcats at Tucson last fall.

Injuries will keep the entire right side of Marquette's first string line on the bench, and Coach Paddy Driscoll is worried because of the lack of reserves. Ted Tunis, Chicago, will start in place of Dave Braden, Milwaukee, at right guard; Chuck Peifer, Wauwatosa, at right tackle for Ray Busler, Watertown, Wis., and Bill Burke, Chicago, at right end for Gil Thomsen, Kenosha, Wis.

Goodyear Able to Play.

There was one ray of sunshine in the Marquette camp today, however. Johnny Goodyear, star sophomore half back from La Grange, Ill., will be able to play for the first time since the opening game with Wisconsin. He will not be started, however.

The Hilltop squad worked in the stadium this afternoon, and then pitched camp for the night at nearby Oconomowoc in order to be away from the excitement of homecoming activities. With Coaches Driscoll and Joe Dunn scouting two future opponents in the Duquesne-Texas Tech game at Pittsburgh tonight, Line Coach Tarzan Taylor was in charge of the squad today.

Given Royal Welcome.

Arizona grid men were given a royal welcome upon their arrival early this afternoon as Marquette sought to reciprocate for the wild west greetings accorded the Hilltoppers at Tucson last fall. The Wildcats tapered off at the local stadium immediately after their arrival. The lineups:

HAWKS BREAK CAMP; HEAD FOR CLEVELAND GAME

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 27 [Special].—After 23 days of intensive training, the Chicago Blackhawk hockey team broke camp today and headed for Cleveland to play an exhibition game with the Cleveland Barons, champions of the International-American league.

Manager Paul Thompson ordered a final workout prior to departure. He wanted to give Doug Bentley, who replaced the injured Bill Carse, a final workout to accustom him to the style of his new line mates, Center Bill Thoms and Right Wing Mush March. The youngster, who is just about as speedy a skater as there is in the National Hockey league, gave a good account of himself in both Hawks-St. Paul games.

Johnny Gottselig and Earl Seibert, who have been selected on the all-star team which will oppose the Montreal Canadiens Sunday night in a memorial game for the late Babe Siebert, will leave immediately after the Cleveland game for Montreal.

WISCONSIN VS. PURDUE.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 27 [Special].—The University of Wisconsin cross country team will bid for its 21st consecutive victory against Purdue here tomorrow morning.

CRANE'S EARLY ATTACK DEFEATS MARSHALL, 14-6

Kulick, Zimmerman Race to Touchdowns.

Crane Tech remained in the running for the west section football title in the Chicago Public High School league by turning back Marshall, 14 to 6, last night in Mills stadium. It was Crane's fourth victory in five starts.

The Crane touchdowns were made in the first two quarters on runs of seventeen and twenty-five yards by Kulick and Zimmerman, respectively. The Marshall points came in the final period on E. Cohn's five yard plunge after a forty yard Chess to Roth pass.

Hyde Park and Kelly were victors in two other Public High School league games yesterday afternoon. Kelly eked out a 7 to 6 triumph over Harrison Tech on St. Rita field, and Hyde Park won from Phillips, 15 to 6, in St. Philip stadium.

Half Back Bednarz scored Kelly's only touchdown over Harrison in the second period on a short plunge. Hamot added the extra point. Harrison's score was made by Kureger in the final quarter on a ten yard pass from Mika. Mika tried a forward pass for the extra point, but it was knocked down.

Quarter Back Krogh and Kalish, left end, scored Hyde Park's touchdowns against Phillips. Hyde Park now has a record of three victories and two defeats in the central division. Kelly has two triumphs and three setbacks.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 27 [Special]. —South Bend Central and Mishawaka will play before 25,000 in Notre Dame stadium tomorrow in the 27th meeting in their 37 year old rivalry. Central holds an edge of 16 to 7 in victories, three games ending in ties.

Lions Produce New Kicker to Annoy Bears

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The New York Giants, having established the field goal as an easy and effective means of beating the Chicago Bears, Gloomy Gus Henderson immediately rounded up a kicker for the Detroit Lions, who come to Wrigley field tomorrow bent on eliminating the Bears from the western division race. The new placement artist is Phil Martinovich, a 220 pound blocking back from College of the Pacific. He played two years with the Cincinnati Bengals, from whom he was purchased this week.

Of the twenty-four field goals kicked in the National Football league this year, only one has been made by Detroit. Martinovich is expected to correct this. He scored 57 points on kicks for the Bengals last year and at the College of the Pacific he missed only one attempt in three years, adding all the points after touchdown and making a number of field goals. To make room for Martinovich, the Lions released Elvin Hutchison, a third string wing back.

Fear the Lions' Reverse.

Martinovich and his artistry is the least of the Bears' worries, however. Their workout yesterday in the Broadway armory revealed that they still have great respect and also considerable fear of Lloyd Cardwell and the Lions' reverse. This is a holdover from the days when Ernie Caddel was swinging back from the wing back position and sweeping their right side for great gains. Green Bay stopped this reverse last week after Cardwell and Howard Gore had run wild against Cleveland, the Cardinals and Brooklyn.

The Bears have their own idea on how to stop it. They also had several good ideas about the old Caddel reverse, but they never quite brought Caddel under control. If they can prevent Cardwell and Gore from breaking away, they will take their chances with Martinovich, who must first get near enough to kick to be a threat. Against Green Bay the Lions were only past the middle of the field three times, getting to the 10 yard line once, scoring on a 58 yard run by Bill Shepherd another time, and being halted on the 48 yard line the third time.

PACKERS PLAY REDSKINS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—First place in both divisions of the National Football league will be at stake here Sunday when the Green Bay Packers, co-holders of the western section lead, meet the Washington Redskins, who share the eastern section lead. The largest crowd ever to see a professional football game in Milwaukee is expected to jam the Fair Grounds. It will be the Packers' last game in Wisconsin before taking the road next week to finish their season.

Washington will be strengthened for the game by the return of Sammy Baugh, who has been out for several weeks because of injuries. Despite the absence of Baugh, the Redskins have been able to remain unbeaten thru the running of Andy Farkas and Frank Filchock. Filchock also has been equalling Baugh's exceptional passing records.

Green Bay has been devoting the week to defense, following last Sunday's triumph over Detroit in which it was established that the Packer offense, Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell to Don Hutson, finally had hit its stride. Particular stress has been placed on defense against a running attack.

Washington has been here for a week, working out daily in Borchert field.

OHIO LIFTS BAN ON TEAMS BACKED BY BREWERIES

Cleveland, O., Oct. 27 [Special].—Fears that the entry list for the Central States Bowling tournament beginning here Nov. 5, would be greatly restricted because of an Ohio state liquor control board ruling prohibiting advertisment of beer and liquor concerns by bowling teams were allayed here today.

Yielding to a storm of protests by the Brewers' association of Ohio and various bowling organizations, the Ohio liquor control board lifted the ban which would have kept bowling teams from performing for various beer and liquor concerns whose backing has been the life blood for hundreds of tenpin organizations thruout the state. Lifting of the ban is expected to spur entry of many teams from out of the state whose backers hesitated to send them here if they could not perform under their banners. This group included many from Chicago.

For months the Alley Proprietors' association of Ohio has been exerting pressure to remove the ban which had been laid on all sporting teams.

The former Democratic state administration under Gov. Martin L. Davey had paid little attention to the ruling and teams backed by liquor and beer concerns were not bothered.

VIRGIL DAVIS IS PURCHASED FROM PHILS BY PIRATES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP).—Manager Frankie Frisch announced tonight the purchase of Catcher Virgil [Spud] Davis from the Philadelphia Phillies. The new Pirate manager expects the 210 pound, 6 foot 1 inch backstop to boost the hitting punch of the Pirates, who finished sixth in the National league race this year after collapsing in the final days of the pennant race in 1938.

For some time rumors have floated about that Shortstop Arky Vaughn and the brothers Waner, Paul and Lloyd, veteran outfielders, would be traded. Frisch, however, has brushed aside the reports, saying he believed he had a foundation for a good ball club now.

Lake Forest, Millikin Clash at Decatur Today

Lake Forest college will meet Millikin at Decatur today in Millikin's annual homecoming game. Each team has won two and lost two this season. Lake Forest won last year's game, 3 to 0.

Fight Decisions

At Minneapolis, Minn.—Eddie Wenstob beat Arne Anderson [10]; Johnny Hauschen beat Marv Wason [6]; Solly Stark knocked out Sol Robinson [2].

Texas Tech Beaten, 13-0, by Duquesne

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP).—Paced by its coach's flashy young brother, Alan Donelli, Duquesne whipped Texas Tech tonight on a muddy field, 13 to 0, and ran its string of victories to five straight without a defeat or tie.

Running in with the reserves to start the second period, Donelli on the first play raced 31 yards for a touchdown as the small crowd of 11,061 cheered. In the final period Donelli and the second stringers started another touchdown drive when he took one of Calhoun's punts on the Tech 48 and ran to the 31. Donelli gained 11 more, then Semes ran to the 6, and finally plunged across from the 4. Rokisky, a substitute end, place-kicked the first extra point.

Duquesne led, 4 to 3, in first downs and piled up 297 yards without completing a pass, to 140 for Tech, which completed two passes for 16 yards.

WEST VIRGINIA TIES.

Orangeburg, S. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—An eighty-five yard return of a punt by Full Back Joe Grugan in the final quarter gave South Carolina a 6 to 6 tie today with West Virginia before a perspiring crowd of 3,500 at the Orangeburg fair grounds.

West Virginia went into the air for its touchdown in the second period. Charley Seabright took a pass from Johnny Carliss to score after a drive from the Mountaineer 11 yard line.

TEMPLE BEATS BUCKNELL.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP).—Jonah Bowles led Temple to a 16 to 0 victory over Bucknell tonight. The 190 pound full back from Eskdale, W. Va., smashed over for both Temple's touchdowns, kicked both extra points, while his punt that went out on the Bucknell 1 yard line led to an automatic safety.

DRAKE, 12; ST. LOUIS, 0.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27 (AP).—Drake university's Bulldogs set up nearly a dozen scoring opportunities, but were held to a 12 to 0 victory by a stubborn St. Louis university eleven in a Missouri Valley conference game tonight.

The Billikens spent most of their time stopping the visitors' drives and never got past Drake's 48 yard line. The Bulldogs had 16 first downs and piled up 295 yards from scrimmage, compared with St. Louis' 32 and two first downs.

Badgers also have given more than an ordinary amount of attention to their own passing game, indicating they intend to be ready to take to the air if their running, smashing attack, supposed to be superior to that of Iowa's, fails to function.

Kinnick is as dangerous afoot as he is as a pitcher, but the Badgers can't be blamed for giving the latter menace prime consideration. The Iowa triple threat expert has already done enough this season to warrant respect. Of 12 touchdowns scored by Iowa, four were made by Kinnick's sprints and six others resulted from his passes. He registered his touchdowns on runs ranging from three to sixty-five yards. His touchdown passes netted advances of from ten to seventy-one yards.

Wisconsin's passing maneuvers haven't been exactly disconcerting so far this season. Against Marquette, when the Badgers achieved their line victory by a one point margin, they completed only 4 of 14 throws. Against Texas there were four successful aerials out of a dozen. That average was boosted slightly by completing 6 of 18 throws against Indiana, but it dropped again with 4 out of 14 in the Northwestern struggle last week. Another alarming feature of the Badgers' overhead game is that 11 of their 58 passes have been intercepted.

If the Badgers sneak to victory without making use of passing the burden probably will be carried by George Paskvan, a 200 pound full back who can step a bit faster than the average kid of his poundage. Up here they call him "Roaring George," a fellow who can plunge with the best of them, run when opportunity presents itself, and handle an entire enemy eleven on defense. He gained seventy-five yards against Northwestern in 17 tries and lugged the ball against Indiana 24 times for an advance of eighty-three yards.

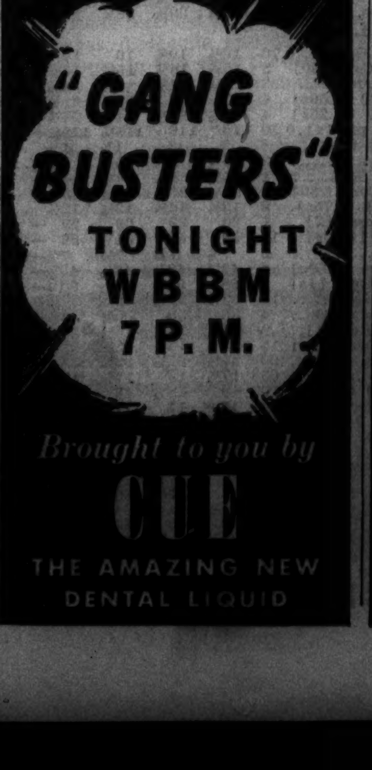
Only Two Lineup Changes.

Altho trimmed by Northwestern, the Badgers' starting lineup that day proved so satisfactory to Stuhldreher he'll open with the same combination insofar as possible tomorrow. Switches will be made in only two spots, both alterations being the result of injuries. Bob Holloway, regular left guard, will turn his position over to Don Kolbusz, a 210 pound sophomore. Bob Peterson, also a soph, will start at left half in place of Billy Schmitz, one of the Badgers' better backs. But Billy may be called in from time to time if there is need of a ball thrower.

It will be the 17th meeting of the two schools since football relations were opened in 1894. A dozen of the 16 games played were turned into Badger victories, one of them the memorable affair in Iowa City when the boys played with mittens on their hands and a raging blizzard drove most of the spectators home before the first half was completed.

Wright Junior College to Meet Concordia Today

The Wright Junior college eleven will meet Concordia at River Forest today in a nonconference game. Full Back Al Alop, co-captain of the Wright squad, has joined the injured list because of a chipped and fractured leg bone.



Maroons Plan to Chastise Fresh Frosh

The second closed scrimmage in four days against the high powered Maroon freshman team is on the book for the University of Chicago squad this morning, and, altho squad members might be expected to be drawing sighs of relief because of Chicago's open date, the sighs of Midway team members were not of relief but of weariness due to the self-imposed increase in pace yesterday.

Refusal to believe they were physically 85 points worse than any team in the country led Chicago players yesterday to urge their coaches to drive them harder. Walter Maurovich, 210 pound veteran guard, was spokesman for the chastened squad. He said, "Give us hell, coach. We may get sore, but we can take that out on the other teams."

Meanwhile Coach Clark Shaughnessy weakened regarding the strict lines between the first and second Maroon teams he had drawn earlier in the week. The first string, he announced, now contains 12 players, Full Back Bob Howard having been promoted.

VETERAN PURDUE ELEVEN IS READY FOR SANTA CLARA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 27.—Marking the first appearance of a Big Ten team in San Francisco, Purdue's football squad will meet Santa Clara here tomorrow afternoon in an intersectional encounter that provides a counterattraction to the traditional California-U. S. C. game across the bay The game will start at 4:30 o'clock Chicago time.

The leg weary Boilermakers, who arrived this morning and were met by the ferryboat Santa Clara for the trip across the bay, rule as slight favorites over a Bronco eleven that last week defeated St. Mary's, conqueror of California and Gonzaga.

Brown to Start.

Coach Mal Elward indicated following this afternoon's light drill in Kezar stadium that the Boilermakers, who have been welcomed with open arms by the San Franciscans, would start a veteran combination, with Jack Brown, left half back, returning to action after a two week layoff due to a side injury.

The Big Ten representatives were officially welcomed to the city at Mayor Rossi's office this morning, where there was considerable amusement when the Rossi brothers, Boilermaker tackles, were introduced with the announcement that they had no political ambitions.

Big Ten Club Entertains.

At noon the Boilermaker party was honored with a luncheon by the Big Ten club of the Bay area, but immediately following the luncheon, social activity ceased as the Boilermakers started considering the calibre of tomorrow's foe, which has won 23 games and lost only three in the last three seasons.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 27.—The stock market worked lower today, altho late support, prompted by the senate move to lift the arms embargo, reduced early losses. As a result only fractional losses ruled. Some leaders even pushed into the plus column with small gains. Trading was quiet except during the upsurge in the last hour.

Foreign developments were said to have had little influence on the market.

Aviation issues, weakness in which around midday was blamed by some for unsettling the general list, surged forward in the late runup on the strength of the belief repeal of the neutrality act will bring big orders for planes from the warring nations. Douglas, North American Aviation, Bendix, Glenn Martin, Curtiss-Wright, and Consolidated Aircraft were among the more prominent issues and closed with gains running to a point.

Representative steel shares moved up from their lows to close unchanged to fractionally lower. United States Steel and Bethlehem were in the latter category.

Motors behaved in similar fashion, both Chrysler and General Motors slipping fractionally. Both Yellow Truck and Greyhound worked higher. ruled in the oil section. Key copper stocks closed unchanged to lower. Most rubber shares were fractionally lower.

Altho news pertaining to the railroad industry continued optimistic, rail shares met resistance after several of the leaders had made an attempt to push higher.

Power and Light shares held to a narrow course. Chemical and heavy machinery issues lost ground. Building shares posted losses running to a point or more.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 27 (AP).—After notable firmness most of the week, low yield bonds turned downward today and carried many junior and speculative issues along. Foreign loans, in which price swings have been erratic, slid off sharply, with Italians leading the way.

Traders attributed the general heaviness to some drying up of buying interests. Volume of $6,263,000, face value, compared with $9,230,000 yesterday.

United States government loans extended yesterday's irregular decline with new losses ranging from 1-32d to 15-32ds of a point. Treasury 2s of '47 countered the main trend with a closing gain of 12-32ds. Some dealers were reported to have withdrawn bids pending marketing of $250,000,000 Reconstruction Finance corporation notes which the treasury plans to sell shortly.

Chicago Stocks.

Losses outnumbered gains on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, but several of the more active issues ran counter to the trend. Bendix Aviation was outstanding, rising to a new 1939 high at 33½ and closing slightly below that level for a gain of a point.

News of the company's expansion attracted buying in Great Lakes Dredge and Dock which lifted the stock ¾ point to 26½. The issue was much more active than usually. Commonwealth Edison and Zenith Radio were other volume leaders achieving fractional gains.

Outstanding among declining issues was Northwest Bancorporation, which lost a point.

Bank Stocks.

The bid prices of Chicago bank stocks were generally unchanged yesterday.

COTTON

Mills and foreigners were persistent buyers of cotton futures in the early trading yesterday, and a fairly liberal business was transacted within narrow price limits. Some irregularity developed late in the session as the result of hedging sales. Closing trades were .03 cent lower to .04 cent a pound higher.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .03 cent higher, with New York, 9.39 cents; New Orleans, 9.20 cents, and Galveston at 8.92 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

Canadian copper producers have reached an agreement on sales of electrolytic copper to Britain which it is believed will be acceptable to Britain, a Dow-Jones dispatch said yesterday.

Dominion producers, the dispatch said, will receive £48 10s per ton for electrolytic copper at Canadian ports. This is approximately equivalent to 8.6 cents a pound in United States funds on the basis of the pound sterling at $4. United States refined copper is quoted at 12½ cents a pound.

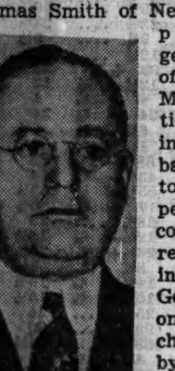
CHARGE FINANCE FIRMS CAUSED ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Brings Court Clash in Gen. Motors Case.

BY BRUCE DENNIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 27.—John Thomas Smith of New York, a vice president and general counsel of the General Motors corporation, charged during a courtroom battle of words today that independent finance companies are the real prosecutors in the trial of General Motors on antitrust charges brought by the government.



John Thomas Smith.

Smith's statement brought into the court record what has been often said by observers in corridors and anterooms of the Federal building here, where the head of one large independent is referred to as "the plaintiff."

Trial of the suit went into its fifteenth day this morning with Nelson C. Dezendorf of New York, vice president of the General Motors Acceptance corporation, still on the stand. He testified for the most of the day yesterday, when the defense started presenting its case.

Trade Restraint Alleged.

General Motors is accused of conspiracy to restrain trade in its own cars [a concept unique in legal history] thru forcing dealers to use G. M. A. C. as their finance company. This alleged practice, the government contends, is unfair to independent finance companies and small banks.

Smith made his assertion during the course of an altercation between counsel over a question asked of Dezendorf by Attorney Ernest S. Ballard, Chicago lawyer who, with Smith, has done most of the examining of witnesses in behalf of General Motors. Judge Walter C. Lindley seasoned the argument with sharp comments.

Dezendorf had testified it was General Motors Acceptance corporation's policy to grant extensions and renewals of contracts when purchasers, for valid reasons, fell behind in payments. The corporation, he said, refused to garnishee wages or accept chattel mortgages on other property.

"What purposes and objects are achieved by the policies you have just described?" asked Ballard.

Then The Battle Starts.

Holmes Baldridge, chief of the government's legal staff, objected.

MR. BALDRIDGE—The witness has detailed the facts. The court and the jury can draw their own inferences.

MR. BALLARD—During the time you were in the field did you come in direct personal contact with the practice of outside finance companies with regard to the matters concerning which you have just testified.

MR. BALDRIDGE—Objection.

THE COURT—After all, this is not a contest between finance companies.

MR. BALLARD—I think it is. If the court please, I think it is a valid and relevant part of our defense, to show that we have a financing medium that is superior as a merchandising aid to the financing mediums of competitors of G. M. A. C.

MR. BALDRIDGE—All the government's evidence is directed toward the fact that the dealers have not been permitted a free choice in selecting a financing medium, that and that alone. The case does not involve a fight between G. M. A. C. and other companies.

Ballard States Purpose.

MR. BALLARD—The purpose of this evidence and much more like it that will be offered is to show that the way in which the defendants secure the dealers' patronage of G. M. A. C. is by offering a better service and a better commodity; that is to say, a better financing arrangement.

MR. BALDRIDGE—That can be shown by stating what their service is without comparing it to the services of anybody and everybody in the field.

MR. BALLARD—That obviously is not true. In order to show it we have to compare our service with the service of our competitors.

THE COURT—The jury is not trying the respective merits of finance companies, Mr. Ballard.

MR. BALLARD—That is not the ultimate issue, of course. But we have a right—

THE COURT—And the jury is not going to decide, under my instructions to it, whether a man would have been better off if he had accepted the facilities of another finance company other than G. M. A. C. I will not permit them to go into the consideration of that question.

Argues Service is Best.

MR. BALLARD—We hope the court will instruct the jury that the defendants have succeeded in inducing the dealers to use G. M. A. C. because it was the best available for the dealer and the consumer. We are innocent, and we want to show that is the fact.

MR. BALDRIDGE—If the court please, it seems to the government that an attempt to get in this type of information is an attempt to shift the burden in this case from a trial of the defendants to a trial of other discount companies. The defendants and not other discount companies are on trial in this case.

MR. SMITH: We take the position, if your honor please, that the other finance companies are not on trial,

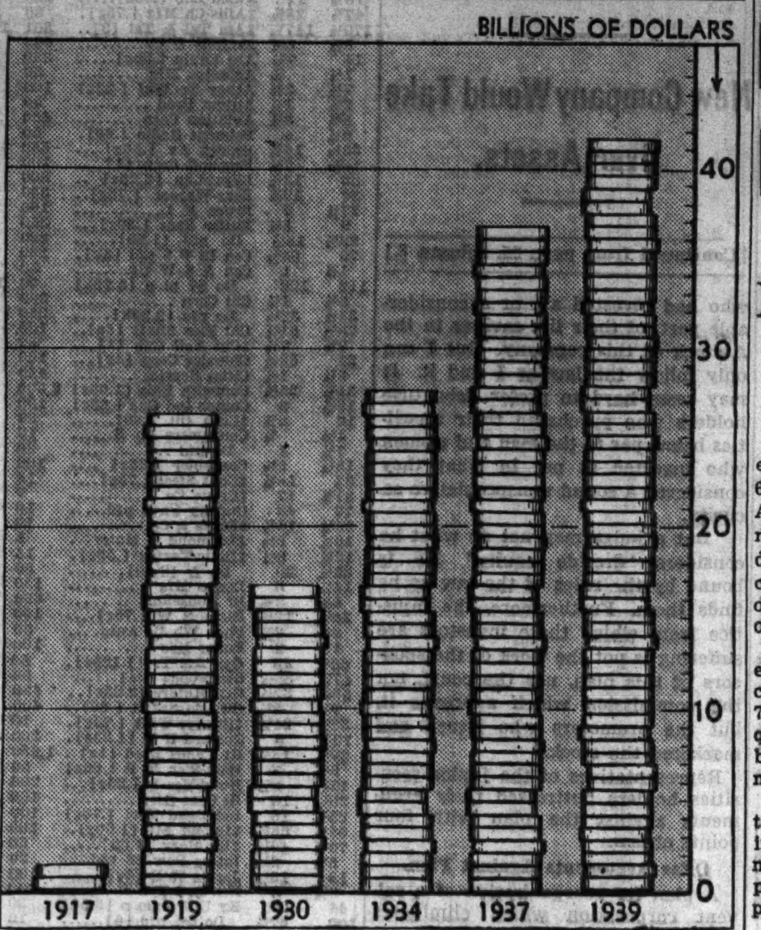
NATIONAL DEBT SOARS



Federal Debt at 41 Billion Nearing Limit

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 [Special].—The federal debt passed the 41 billion dollar mark today as a result of a $51,055,840 increase in one day due to borrowing on short term bills and to sales of savings certificates. This brought the treasury within 4 billion dollars of its borrowing limit.

The daily treasury statement showed the debt total had climbed to $41,023,872,434. The debt a year ago was $38,424,932,579.

Corporation debts of the federal government total $5,356,026,198. These are guaranteed by the treasury as contingent liabilities but are not included in the treasury's debt.

Discuss Raising Limit.

With the disclosure of the new peak financial circles revived discussion of how and when the administration will ask congress to boost the limit from the present 45 billion dollars to 50 billion. The administration has said it would seek an increase of 5 billion dollars in the statutory limit.

Discussion of such legislation caused congressional criticism at the last regular session, and is expected to bring more debate at the session beginning in January. The debt limit is a focal point for controversy because it is the most obvious signpost in treasury accounting of the deficits which the federal government has incurred for 10 consecutive fiscal years.

The federal debt was $16,026,087,087, or an average of $129 a person, on Dec. 31, 1930. Since then it has risen almost month by month to its present record level.

Debt Now $311 Per Capita.

The debt now equals about $311 a person. It has increased 2½ billion dollars in the last year and is expected to rise almost as much in the next year.

With the approach of the debt limit, the treasury has discontinued using its own securities to borrow money for governmental corporations, such as the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Instead, it has helped those agencies to borrow money in their own names so the debt would not be added to the treasury's restricted borrowing power.

These agencies have also borrowed in their own names to pay back old debts to the treasury. Secretary Morgenthau announced yesterday that the RFC was preparing to borrow $250,000,000 to wipe out its debt to the treasury.

FIRST MONTH OF WAR CUTS SEVERELY INTO ENGLAND'S SEA TRADE

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The first month of the war fell heavily on British trade. The value of imports into the United Kingdom shrank by one-third, and there was a drop of 42 per cent in exports compared with the corresponding period last year, the Board of Trade reported today.

September exports amounted to £23,087,245 [the pound is currently quoted at $4] compared with £39,808,957 in September, 1938. Imports fell to £49,924,267 from £74,991,477 a year ago.

The big decrease in trade, it was said officially, was an expected result of the war. Many ships were requisitioned for troop movements, and in many cases tonnage was diverted from normal trade to transport of war necessities. The necessity of providing convoys for merchantmen held many British vessels in ports while the convoy system was being perfected.

CHINESE GET AMERICAN ORDER FOR TUNGSTEN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—China today won the first contract for stocking up the American army and navy on strategic war materials.

The Wah Chang Trading corporation of New York City, an importing firm, was awarded a contract by the treasury to supply 425 short tons of tungsten ore, an essential steel alloy, at a cost of $427,140. The company, which submitted an alternative bid of supplying tungsten mined in this country, got a contract on the basis of supplying tungsten shipped from Hong Kong, Burma, and Indo China.

Tentatively, the treasury, on the advice of the joint army-navy munitions board, rejected bids from domestic and Cuban bidders, saying the Wah Chang bid was the lowest. However, the treasury reserved the right to accept one of the other bids later if more of the ore should be needed and the price was still acceptable.

Sales of Wholesale Firms Gain 16½% Over Year Ago

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 [Special].—Report from 2,922 wholesale firms located in all sections of the country show a gain of 16½ per cent in sales for September as compared with September, 1938, the department of commerce announced today. The total value of sales reported amounted to $253,688,000 last month.

GEN'L MOTORS NETS $8,627,268 IN 3D QUARTER

Nine Months' Profit $2.39 a Share.

New York, Oct. 27 [Special].—General Motors corporation earned $8,627,268 in the third quarter this year, Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman, announced today. After preferred dividends, this was equal to 15 cents a common share. In the third quarter of 1938 the company earned $5,367,688, or 7 cents a common share.

In nine months ended Sept. 30, earnings were $109,619,799, or $2.39 a common share, against $38,387,707, or 73 cents a share, in 1938. Third quarter earnings are normally small because of the change over in car models.

Net sales for the third quarter totaled $187,192,970 against $171,808,309 in the 1938 period and for nine months amounted to $926,593,853 compared with $694,585,433 in the 1938 period.

View on Business Rise.

"A normal upward turn in general business activity occurred in June," Sloan reported. "Superimposed upon this, beginning early in September, was the psychological influence of the European war. The result has been a sharp and continued upward movement in industrial activity, the force of which had not spent itself at the writing of this message. It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that when the facts are available it will be found that consumer demand for automotive products has definitely broadened."

Sloan said that comparisons of the 1939 third quarter with the corresponding quarter a year ago are prejudiced because the model year has been moved ahead approximately 30 days.

"This throws into the third quarter's operations the entire impact of the adjustment period," he said. "Superimposed upon this is the effect of the strike of the corporation's tool and die makers in July, which delayed the production of certain models and which also has reacted unfavorably on the quarter's operations."

Employment Is Larger.

Employment averaged 181,704 in the third quarter, compared with 149,494 in the 1938 period, a gain of 21.5 per cent. The number of employés averaged 211,856 for the first nine months, 20 per cent over the 176,509 in the 1938 period.

Pay rolls for the third quarter totaled $80,485,432, against $63,649,223 last year, and for nine months aggregated $269,012,460, against $199,108,523, gains of 26.5 per cent and 35.1 per cent, respectively.

Third quarter results reflected a charge of $1,256,483 due to revaluation of working capital abroad to current exchange rates. Quarter and nine months earnings do not reflect profits in countries where restrictions affect transfers of funds. The sum excluded for the nine months was $5,380,167.

Cash and United States government and other marketable securities held on Sept. 30 totaled $289,290,070.

GOODYEAR TIRE CUTS PRICES 6.8 TO 12.5 PER CENT

Akron, O., Oct. 27 [Special].—Reductions of 6.8 to 12.5 per cent in consumer list prices on tires and tubes will become effective Nov. 1, P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, announced here today.

"We have placed ourselves in position to make these reductions by an extensive program of plant modernization and by streamlining our system of distribution," Litchfield said. "We believe this principle of immediately passing a legitimate share of such savings along to the public to be consistent with enlightened economic policy and indispensible to the continuance of national recovery."

STORES' SALES RUN 13.1 PER CENT ABOVE YEAR AGO

Department store sales in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended Oct. 21 were 13.1 per cent above those of the corresponding week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Sales in the preceding week were 16.4 per cent above 1938, and in the four weeks ended Oct. 21 the increase was 15 per cent.

Chicago stores' sales were 14 per cent over 1938 levels during the week. In the four weeks Chicago sales were 14.4 per cent above last year.

National department store sales increased 11 per cent both during the week and four weeks over the levels of the like periods a year ago.

Total Auto Output Rises Despite Chrysler Strike

Detroit, Mich., Oct., Oct. 27 (AP).—Despite the strike shutdown at Chrysler plants, Ward's Reports today estimated this week's output of American automobile manufacturers at 78,210 cars and trucks, compared with 70,114 last week. Resumption of operations by the Nash plant and increases by other producers were noted as factors in the rise. Production this week a year ago was 65,335 units.

Aviation Boom Lifts Curtiss Wright Profit

The boom in the aviation manufacturing industry was reflected yesterday in a report of the Curtiss-Wright corporation and subsidiaries showing September quarter net profits of $1,172,748, equal to 8 cents a share on the common stock. The earnings were the largest for the period on record, and compared with $444,063, or 38 cents a share on class A stock, in the comparable period last year.

The corporation's net income for the first nine months of 1939 increased to $4,543,552, or 38 cents a common share, from $2,625,898, equal to 12 cents a share, in the 1938 period.

Net profit of American Airlines, Inc., rose to $964,283 for the first nine months of 1939, from $48,690 in the corresponding period last year. The earnings were equal to $3.21 and 16 cents a share in the respective periods.

September Quarter Better.

Indicated net profits for the September quarter were $561,186, representing $1.87 a share, contrasted with $199,925 and 66 cents a share a year ago, based on the present capitalization. Last quarter's earnings were the largest in the company's history.

Passenger revenues rose 42 per cent in the nine month period, from $5,233,194 last year to $7,452,209 this year, and the number of passengers carried increased 51 per cent, from 249,396 to 376,506.

Colorado Fuel & Iron company returned to a profit basis in the third quarter, showing net income of $231,282, equal to 41 cents a share, against a net loss of $143,752 in the September quarter of last year.

Auto-Lite Earnings Spurt.

Electric Auto-Lite company, manufacturer of automobile parts and appliances, announced September quarter net earnings of $1,019,797, equal to 85 cents a share, contrasted with $191,228, or 16 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1938.

The rapid increase in railway equipment purchases was reflected in a report of the General Railway Signal company showing net income of $130,822 for the September quarter, equal to 30 cents a share on common stock. The company had a net loss of $8,852 in the third quarter of 1938.

Belmont Radio corporation recorded net income of $66,615 for the three months ended with September, against $42,952 a year ago, representing 22 and 14 cents a share in the respective periods.

In a letter to shareholders, John Robertson, secretary, said the third quarter was the best of the year, and that orders already booked assure increased operations in the final quarter.

Buda Company Shows Profit.

The Buda company of Harvey, Ill., manufacturer of Diesel engines and other equipment, converted a net loss of $156,312 in the fiscal year ended July 31, 1938, into net profit of $41,339, or 22 cents a share, in the last fiscal year. J. S. Dempsey, president, said: "Incoming orders are showing a marked improvement both from domestic and export sources and in all lines of our products."

The most profitable quarter for any period in the company's history was recorded by the Hazel Atlas Glass company, manufacturer of containers, tableware, and closures. Earnings for the three months ended Oct. 1 were $1,066,212, equal to $2.40 a share, against $720,696 and $1.66 a share in the 1938 period.

FEDERAL AGENCY CRACKS DOWN ON MELON DEALERS

Lawyers representing the department of agriculture appeared yesterday in the court of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to ask disciplinary action against a Chicago concern charged with violating the department regulations on watermelon distribution.

The defendants are Cohen & Gordon, commission merchants at 1425 South Racine avenue. The complaint, filed by G. Osmond Hyde, a senior attorney for the department, and Assistant District Attorney Roy D. Keehn Jr., alleged that the firm had not made required reports or paid the $1 a carload assessment imposed by the watermelon control.

It was requested that an injunction be issued forbidding Cohen and Gordon from further dealing in melons until they comply with regulations. Judge Wilkerson set arguments for Nov. 6.

Hyde, who made a special trip from Washington to handle the case, said the amount of money involved was not important, but that the reports were vital if the melon control is to accomplish its avowed purpose of an orderly flow of the fruit to market.

NATIONAL INCOME RISES 2 BILLION FOR NINE MONTHS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (AP).—Americans received $2,000,000,000 more in wages, dividends, and other forms of income in the first three-quarters of this year than in the similar 1938 period, the commerce department estimated today.

The total for the nine months was $50,789,000,000. The department said that if the same pace continues until the end of the year, the 1939 total will be $68,600,000,000, compared with last year's $66,275,000,000.

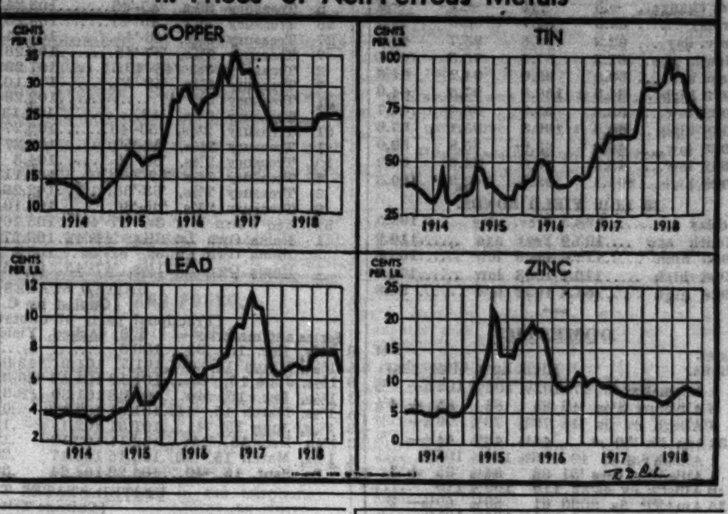
HOW WAR AFFECTED BUSINESS

II. Prices of Non-Ferrous Metals



Pork and Lard Exports Soar in September

Sales of American pork and lard to foreign nations last month were the largest for any September in five years, the department of commerce reported yesterday. Imports were the lowest for any month since December, 1935, running less than half the volume of a year ago and less than one-third of the imports two years ago.

This country shipped 24,693,492 pounds of lard during the month, a rise of 31 per cent over the September exports last year. Exports were 159 per cent above the five year average for that month. They compared with 18,790,097 pounds in 1938 and with 9,307,782 in 1937. Three years ago they were down to 7,876,000 pounds, and in 1935 lard sales abroad were almost negligible at 1,553,000 pounds during the month.

Pork Exports Unusually Large.

Altho pork exports showed a seasonal decline, which was less marked than usual, from the August sales, the September total at 9,154,678 pounds showed a gain of 36 per cent over the sales of the corresponding month last year and was 95 per cent above the four year average for September. Last year exports for the month were 6,703,205 pounds and two years ago only 3,208,596 pounds of pork were sold abroad.

Pork sales by American packers in Europe have been running substantially ahead of other recent years since the first of 1939. During the first nine months of the year they sold 213,557,326 pounds of lard abroad, compared with 148,324,925 a year ago, and 77,299,071 two years ago. It was the largest volume since 1934. Exports of pork for the nine months totaled 98,240,649 pounds, against 69,246,741 last year and 43,479,610 in 1937.

Pork Exports Decline.

On the other hand the trade in this country for foreign pork has been shrinking most of the year. Imports for the nine months totaled 38,256,923 pounds, which compared with 40,810,839 a year ago and 58,517,281, the all-time high, two years ago.

There was a sharp rise in imports of beef and veal into the United States last month, despite the war in Europe. Imports totaled 13,422,519 pounds, the largest for any month in recent years. This compared with 8,153,696 during August and 6,808,605 a year ago. The nine months imports of beef and veal at 73,298,669 pounds, compared with 60,937,436 a year ago.

Exports for September were 2,042,200 pounds of beef and veal, the largest for any month since August, 1934. A year ago they were 1,261,336 pounds. Exports for the nine months this year were 10,821,247 pounds, compared with 9,759,360 pounds in 1938.

SEEK TO SETTLE DEBTS OWED BY LATIN AMERICA

Federal Officials Take Hand in Negotiations.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27 (UP).—Government officials are taking into their own hands, it was learned reliably today, efforts to negotiate settlements between Latin-American countries and United States citizens who hold more than $1,000,000,000 of their defaulted bonds.

Because the European war has given this country a new opportunity to develop trade with Latin America the officials have started the work in the hope that removal of the debt problem may stimulate trade and good will.

Roosevelt Voices Disappointment.

The efforts of officials also were said to result from the disappointment President Roosevelt voiced today over the progress of the Foreign Bondholders' Protective Council, Inc., which has attempted to do the same thing, with government backing, since 1933.

Started quietly by a number of different federal agencies, the new negotiations have centered primarily on the debts of Colombia and Brazil. The state, treasury, and commerce departments, securities commission, and Export-Import bank are in the fore of the work.

Some assurances of renewed efforts to pay up were obtained from Brazil when that country recently secured commercial credits from the bank and a tentative commitment from the treasury for a gold loan.

Suggests Scaling Interest.

Scaling of interest rates on defaulted debt, rather than efforts to cut principal, was said to be one of the most popular of the compromise formulas advanced so far. Most of the Latin-American loans, floated in the prosperous 1920s, bear 5 and 6 per cent interest, which is nearly double the prevalent rate at which the United States government borrows.

The council was organized in 1933 by bankers and bondholders at the invitation of the state department and has negotiated intermittently with a number of countries, both in the Americas and elsewhere. Technically it represented the American owners of bonds and not the government. Its most recent report shows that defaulted Latin-American debts owed investors in this country total $1,233,806,487.

Tax Collector to Be Less Active During November

The tax collector will have a virtual vacation next month according to the tax calendar of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Only one payment is due—the state sales tax for October, which must be paid by Nov. 15. The single payment for November contrasts with four tax payments due in October, and another due in December.

COURT ACCEPTS ATLAS PLAN FOR UTILITIES POWER

New Company Would Take Over Assets.

The Atlas plan for reorganization of Utilities Power and Light corporation, utility empire which once had assets listed at $400,000,000, was approved yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly.

Judge Holly.

The plan, submitted by the Atlas corporation, chief debenture holder of U. P. & L., provides for the transfer of the present assets of $44,000,000 from the old company to a proposed new one. Holders of $54,527,867 in U. P. & L. debentures and preferred stock would receive debentures and stock in the new company thru an exchange of securities.

Owners of three other classes of securities in the old company, class A, class B, and common stock, an original investment aggregating many millions of dollars, get nothing. This phase of the plan has caused bitter objections on the part of the junior interests.

Plan Approved by SEC.

Despite these objections, the plan has the approval of Harry N. Gottlieb, special federal master in chancery. It was also approved by the Securities and Exchange commission after long hearings in Washington.

The plan must be accepted by two-thirds of the debenture and preferred stock holders before it can take effect. Plans for mailing ballots to these interests will be announced later. The SEC is expected to take part in supervising the voting. Holders of the A, B, and common stock are automatically barred from participating in the referendum.

Utilities Power is a holding company formerly headed by Harley L. Clarke of Chicago. During hearings before Judge Holly it was described as a sprawling enterprise with an unduly complicated capital structure embracing factories, office buildings, and a motion picture theater, as well as public utilities. Much of this wide variety of property, records show, was acquired before the depression.

Prior Claims to Be Paid.

The reorganization plan calls for paying off in cash the principal and interest of claims prior in rank to debentures. Holders of debentures or claims equal in rank are to receive for each $1,000 of principal a $400 debenture in the new company, six shares of preferred stock in the new company at $50 par value, plus 50 shares of new common stock of $4 par value.

One share of new common stock will be allotted for each $6 interest on the old debentures, according to the plan. Five shares of new common stock will be issued for each share of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock in the old company.

Judge Holly indicated in his opinion that he was reluctant to approve a plan for reorganization that made no provision for the junior interests.

"I have received a number of very pathetic letters from men and women

CHARGE FINANCE FIRMS CAUSED AUTO TRUST SUIT

Leads to Court Clashes in Gen. Motors Case.

but that they are the prosecutors in this case and that is the issue: that is, what they have to offer against what we have to offer.

THE COURT: No. That is not an issue at all. The issue in this case is whether what General Motors and its affiliates have done is an undue infringement on interstate commerce.

Judge Lindley sustained the government's objection.

Attorney Ballard a short time later provoked the first genuine laugh of the trial. Dezendorf had told how, as a matter of convenience, dealers in the past had sent blank signed checks to the factory to be filled in when freight and other charges had been determined and added to the price of the car.

Find Unused Checks.

Auditors, in the course of putting an end to the practice, found a large quantity of blank checks at the Tarrytown, N. Y., plant, Dezendorf said. His mind perhaps still on the row over finance companies, Ballard asked:

"What was the total face value of these blank checks at the time?"

As Dezendorf grinned Ballard quickly withdrew the question, and with somewhat reddened features joined in the spectators' outburst of laughter.

On cross examination Baldridge obtained from Dezendorf the admission that customers were unaware that part of the G. M. A. C. financing charge was for the dealer's reserve, a fund returned to the dealer to protect him on possible losses on repossessed cars. The government holds this to be a "pack" or unethical addition to the financing cost.

Goes Into 6 Per Cent Plan.

Baldridge also went into the G. M. A. C.'s so-called 6 per cent plan, instituted in 1935. The finance charge is 6 per cent per year on the total loan—for example, $30 on a loan of $500. But the borrower reduces his loan, usually by periodical payments. Thus he does not have a $500 loan for a full year, altho he pays the full year's interest. Computed by simple interest, Dezendorf agreed, the charge amounted to 11.7 per cent rather than 6 per cent.

General Motors counsel announced that witnesses Monday will be John J. Raskob, director of General Motors, and Donaldson Brown, vice chairman of the board.

COURT APPROVES ATLAS PLAN FOR UTILITIES POWER

New Company Would Take Over Assets.

who had invested all, or a considerable part, of their life savings in the A stock of this company. But I can only follow the law as I find it. It may seem hard to prefer debenture holders who purchased their securities below par to the men and women who invested at par in what they considered a sound nonspeculative security.

"But a judge may not do what he considers 'fireside equity.' He is bound by the rules of the law as he finds them. Furthermore, the injustice from which these investors are suffering is not the work of the sponsors of this plan, nor the court, nor the commission which approves it, but the promoters who issued and marketed the stock."

Representatives of the junior securities holders buttressed their arguments against the plan with four points of law.

Offer Arguments Against Plan.

A plan for reorganization of a solvent corporation which eliminates three classes of shareholders is not authorized by law, they contended; if it was authorized the law would be unconstitutional. The courts of this circuit have accepted the relative priority theory in reorganization proceedings as against the absolute priority for certain interests in the Atlas plan; the valuation of the property set up by the experts in the case is not a safe basis for the reorganization.

The court set up each of these points in turn and then knocked them down.

"The special master and the commission [SEC] found the value of the property to be less than the amount of the debentures, plus interest, and the preferred stock, plus the arrearages of dividends," the opinion stated. "It was not necessary in the plan to make provision for the other shareholders nor was their acceptance of the plan necessary.

Cites Action of Congress.

"I am of the opinion that congress may authorize, and by provisions of section 77-B has authorized, a court of bankruptcy, in a reorganization proceeding, to eliminate classes of stockholders having no equity, altho the corporation may be solvent."

Judge Holly cited numerous points of law in sustaining the so-called absolute priority theory for debenture and preferred stock holders. He also approved of the $39,744,618 valuation on the property found by Master Gottlieb and the SEC.

The court warned of the dangers of depression following temporary good times resulting from the war.

"It is possible, of course, as suggested by counsel, that as a result of the war now in progress we shall experience a 'boom' in business with greatly increased earnings for the subsidiaries of the debtor," the opinion said. "But if a 'boom' comes for a short period a depression will likely follow which will more than wipe out all those earnings and lead to a great depreciation in value of the debtor's holdings."

Counsel for the junior interests had suggested that the war business might increase the gross earnings of the property sufficiently to provide an equity for the A, B, and common stock holders.

WHEAT CLIMBS; DROUTH MENACE GROWS IN WEST

Drouth reports from the big winter wheat producing area west of the Missouri river yesterday more than offset heavy rains in the territory eastward. Wheat prices advanced 1⅞ cents a bushel at one time after a slightly easier start.

A quick rally came when weather bureau reports disclosed that the area which needed moisture the most had received none. Clear skies and low temperatures are expected today over most of the wheat belt.

Closing trades on wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were at gains of 1 to 1⅜ cents. Corn followed wheat to some extent, but the market was relatively inactive. The close was unchanged to ⅛ cent lower.

There has seldom been a period in the history of the organized grain trade when comments on the winter wheat crop from west of the Missouri river have been so uniformly unfavorable, brokers said.

Day by Day on the Farm

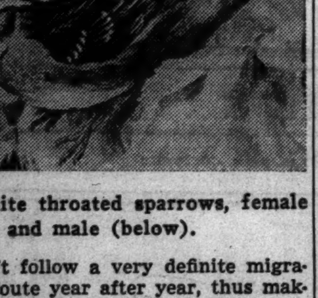
By BOB BECKER

Bird Banders' Bane.

October 27, 1939.

WHITE throated sparrows have been coming to the bird banding traps which are maintained on the Du Page county farm. The fall migration of this beautiful species has been under way for some time. Altho the white throats are handsome birds and obliging about walking into banding traps, they are something of a problem to the bird fans who make a hobby of banding various species of migrants.

The trouble with the white throated sparrow, according to the United States Biological Survey, is that it doesn't follow a very definite migration route year after year, thus making it difficult to retrap birds with bands.



White throated sparrows, female (top) and male (below).

Most species of birds which commonly are trapped and banded seem to follow fairly consistent migration routes. Consequently a banded bird may return to the same banding station for several consecutive years, giving the bander a pretty good idea of its route and its time of migration.

No Luck in 15,000!

But the white throat is different. It is easily trapped, because it comes close to homes and seems unafraid of other birds or humans. But rarely does a banded white throat return to the same banding station on its route of migration. One northern Illinois ornithologist trapped and banded 15,000 white throated sparrows over a period of 20 years, but never retrapped a single one.

Banding records on the white throats might be explained as "numerous but incomplete." Almost every bander has trapped this species, but the only operators who have been able to retrap any number of white throats are the bird fans in the southern states where white throats spend their winters. The fact that some banders in the southern states have retrapped a few white throats indicates that these birds do return to specific locations for the winter months, but their migration routes are something of a mystery.

Juncos Annual Visitors.

The juncos also are beginning to come into the traps on the farm. These friendly little birds, known to many Chicagoland residents, always come into this area during the autumn, stay with us all winter, and then go back north again in the spring. We usually have many flocks of them on the farm right thru the winter.

Several juncos were caught, given bands and released this week. Every time we see one of these birds in a trap we can hardly wait to see if it may be a bird that visited the farm last year, was banded, and now is back again for a second visit.

So far this fall we haven't caught a single junco that has a band on it. We're hoping that some of the juncos that were on the farm last winter and spring will come to the farm to spend the winter with us, because one of the big thrills in a bird bander's experience is to capture a feathered migrant that he has previously banded.

PROFITS OF 220 FIRMS ARE 55% ABOVE YEAR AGO

Domestic Trade Has More Influence Than War.

New York, Oct. 27 (AP).—The nation's chief business barometer—corporation earnings—pointed to "fair weather" today on the basis of 220 companies' reports showing profits 55 per cent larger than a year ago.

An Associated Press compilation of these statements disclosed that in the three months ended Sept. 30 the 220 big corporations which had issued reports up to today made $233,718,000 net profit, compared with $151,265,000 in the like 1938 quarter.

The earnings of these companies in the first nine months of this year were 49 per cent higher than in the like 1938 period—$582,745,000, against $391,173,000.

Third Quarter Is Best.

The figures show a sharp increase in business in this last quarter over the first half of 1939, altho those six months were a distinct improvement over 1938.

The stimulus of the European war may account for some of the September quarter's improvement, but the fact remains that two-thirds of the period had passed before hostilities actually broke out. Consequently, the statistics indicate that the earnings improvement was mainly based on business at home.

The heavy industries—steel and the related building construction and equipment manufacturers—made the most notable improvement.

Steel Turns Loss to Profit.

The rise in steel earnings was so tremendous that even a statistician cannot describe it in percentage, for 23 steel companies which operated at a loss of more than $4,000,000 in the third quarter of 1938 reaped profits of nearly $16,000,000 in the like quarter of this year—and you can't figure percentage on a minus to plus basis.

Only the oil industry made a poorer showing than a year ago. As a result of high inventories and relatively low prices, earnings of nine companies for the September quarter fell 10 per cent under the same period last year. However, net profit of the same companies for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was 34 per cent below a year ago, showing that there was a marked improvement during the third quarter.

Group Comparisons of Earnings.

CHICAGO LIVF STOCK

Weakened by heavy selling of fresh pork on wholesale markets at declining prices, the trade for hogs fell to the lowest levels since Aug. 25 yesterday. Losses of 5 to 10 cents were general in young stock, and most sows were down 10 to 15 cents.

Another slump in prices of fresh pork, with trade channels reported loaded with surplus pork, restricted buying of hogs at the Chicago stockyards. Some smaller plants stopped buying to give wholesale markets a chance to work off the holdover product. Farmers curtailed shipments to market, which helped to relieve pressure on prices.

The small supply of lambs offered for sale yesterday brought fully steady prices, with demand brisk.

Only a few steers and yearlings arrived and these sold steady. Heifers were steady. Beef cows ruled weak to slightly lower. Calves slumped 50 to 75 cents.

United States Fails to Protest Cargo Seizures by British Contraband Control—Many Vessels Detained

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Great Britain is halting and searching neutral ships which come within the range of her patrols in an effort to prevent supplies from reaching Germany in the war. This is a general view of ships lying "somewhere" off the English coast waiting for inspection of their cargoes to see if they include goods designated as contraband by the British. A dozen American vessels have been detained by the English inspectors and some cargoes seized. (Story on page 3.)
